White Paper

She stares at the paper
It stares blankly at her back
Without any traces of ink
All clean, white and smooth.

She picks up her pen
Gripping it tightly
Time is passing swiftly
She could not think of any

Whispers were heard from a distance
Chairs dragged from the floor above
Doors were slammed by the neighbors
She needs some peace and silence.

20 years of memories?
All to be reflected in a poem
Could that even be possible?
She begins to shed tears.

Hold on.
Her pen stated to move.
It was a piece of paper
But with words and scribbles of all kind

To her delight,
Now she got it
Her first poem!

This research was aimed to determine the use of poem as media to improve students' ability in writing Descriptive Text at the tenth grade of Ummul Mukminin Islamic Boarding School Makassar. The principle problem was only one that was "To what extent does poem as media improve the students' ability in writing descriptive text at the tenth grade of Ummul Mukminin Islamic Boarding School Makassar?"

The study was using quasi Experimental Design, exactly "Non-equivalent Control Group Design." The study involved 40 students, the tenth grade students in academic year 2016/2017 of SMA Ummul Mukminin Islamic Boarding School Makassar. The sample was taken by purposive sampling which consisted of 4 classes and the researcher took 2 classes as the sample. 20 students from X-MIA 3 as Experimental class and 20 students from X-MIA 2 as Controlled class. There were two variables: The independent variable of this research was Poem as Media and the dependent variable was students' writing ability in descriptive text.

The data were analyzed using descriptive statistic (frequency, mean score, and standard deviation) and inferential statistic (independent sample t-test). The research discovers that the writing ability of the tenth grade students of SMA Ummul Mukminin improved by using poem as media where the mean score through pre-test in experimental class was 50.75 while in controlled class was 50.25 and mean score through post-test in experimental class was 75.25 while in controlled class was 63.25. From the t-test, the researcher found that the value of the t-test 6.41 was greater than the t-table 2.021, (6.41 > 2.021). It meant that there was a significant difference between the experimental class and controlled class. Therefore, hypothesis H_0 was rejected and H_1 was accepted.

Based on the finding and discussion of the research, the researcher concluded that using Poem as media was effective to improve the students' ability in writing descriptive text and it created interesting and enjoyable learning activity.

CHAPTER I

INTRODUCTION

A. Background

Writing is one of ways used by the people to communicate all the things in their mind. People write to express their ideas, thoughts, feelings, or share information and knowledge by writing. In the process of writing, a writer explores her or his mind to find new ideas that make her writing meaningful. The ideas will be in a sentence, a paragraph and a text.

Writing as one of productive language skills trusted as an efficient learning process which utilized to communicate information, clarify thinking, and learn new concept and information. In Indonesia, writing skills became a part of curriculum especially in junior and senior high school. Even the national government made it as one of the final test for students' attainment. The curriculum in Indonesia required students to be able to write some kinds of text like recount, report, discussion, explanation, exposition, new item, anecdote, narrative, procedure, description, and review. Those are kinds of text absolutely have different function and features. By learning the texts, the students will expand their insight.

However, there are still many problems that faced by the students in writing. First, the students do not know how to develop their ideas and make it into a good sentence or paragraph. In this case, it frequently caused by two things those are: the students still lack of vocabularies and the students do not know how to begin to write because they are difficult to think and choose appropriate words. Second, when the students write a text, they are still difficult in grammar even the tenses which used still inappropriate. For this case, it will make their text unstructured and difficult to understand it. Third, many teachers still use the conventional or traditional learning model in teaching writing. That is why the students feel bored. Those are problems that should be given a solution by the teachers. If it is allowed continuously, that is only making another problem again. Moreover, there is no enthusiastic of student's attitude to the lesson especially in writing.

The problems above are also faced by students of Ummul Mukminin Islamic Boarding School Makassar especially in the tenth grade. Based on the result of preliminary observation and interview, many students still face difficulties in writing. For example, they confused on developing paragraph based on the generic structure of the texts. Besides, they were difficult to use the tenses based on the texts require.

Glance at this case, writing descriptive text is one of the difficulties which are faced by the students. Descriptive text is a kind of text which describes the characteristics of something, person, place, object or event. Droga and Humphrey in Annisa (2014) stated that descriptive text has certain generic structure and language features. The generic structure consists of definition and identification. Whereas, the language features consist of three things. The first one, descriptive text is focuses on specific participant. The second one, descriptive text uses simple present tense. The last one, descriptive text uses adjective and adverb. Those rules were being one of the problems for the students. They confused to follow the rules of descriptive text. The fact, they did not what should to write in the part of paragraph of definition and identification. Moreover, the students were difficult in organizing and developing their description about an object. For this case, the teachers rarely in using appropriate media in helping the students to describe an object in the class. Even, they only relied on the textbook. As a result, the students got stuck in writing descriptive text even they were not eager to learn and they had low motivation to act.

Based on the problems found above, one of the elements that have more roles was the teachers. The teachers need to find and use appropriate media to help the students in writing descriptive text. Naz in Annisa (2014) states media are the means for transmitting or delivery messages. In teaching learning perspective, media are used to deliver content to the learners for achieving effective instruction. In this case, the use of media in teaching-learning process is needed to attract students' attention and to make teaching-learning activities more interesting and effective.

Thus, it is interesting to conduct a research using Poem as a solution for the teachers to overcome the students' problem in writing descriptive text especially for the tenth grade of Ummul Mukminin Islamic Boarding School Makassar. This research used poem as media to improve students' ability in writing descriptive text. Poem included as one of the components of literature. Allyn and Bacon in Wuryani (2011) who states that poem is one of the three major components of literature: prose, poem, and plays. So did literature included as a part of authentic materials. In a review of research about Authentic Materials written by Su (2007, p:173), it said that authentic materials that can be used in ESL classroom include: poetry, greeting cards, postcards, banners, posters, bookmarks, speed reading, verse memorization, the Bible and other religious materials, and excellent American teachers. While the researcher agreed that Poem also can be a powerful tool to begin in helping English language learners gain access to the text. Poem as one of authentic materials suits to improve students' ability in writing descriptive text. By using poem as media, it can guide the students how to describe the characteristics of an object. Not only that but also they can learn the meaning of vocabularies especially about noun, adjective, adverb or compound adjective. That is why this media is really interesting to use. In other words, it could help the teachers to overcome the students' problem in writing descriptive text and created interesting and enjoyable learning activity.

Based on the aforementioned explanations above, the researcher intended to conduct an experimental research entitled: "The Use of Poem to Improve Students' Ability in Writing Descriptive Text at the Tenth Grade of Ummul Mukminin Islamic Boarding School Makassar".

B. Research Problem

Look at the previous background, lack of innovation of learning model used by the teacher especially at Ummul Mukminin Islamic Boarding School Makassar in teaching descriptive text was the main problem. Here, this research used poem as media was directed to improve the students' ability in writing descriptive text. In order to elaborate the main problem, the research problem was "To what extent does poem as media improve the students' ability in writing descriptive text at the tenth grade of Ummul Mukminin Islamic Boarding School Makassar?"

C. Research Objective

This research aimed to improve the students' ability in writing descriptive text at the tenth grade of Ummul Mukminin Islamic Boarding School Makassar. The specific objective of this current research was "To find out the improvement of the students' ability in writing descriptive text by using poem as media at the tenth grade of Ummul Mukminin Islamic Boarding School Makassar".

D. Research Significance

This research contributed significance both theoretically and practically. It may contributes and become the benefits for all the people especially whom work around education.

First, for the researcher, by doing this research she can study many things and get more information to identify the students' problem especially in writing descriptive text. Besides, she gets new experience and knowledge for the future in her life. Second, for the students, this research will give one of measure to solve their problem in writing descriptive text. Moreover, the students can know the meaning of vocabularies and learn to identify characteristics of an object. Third, for the teachers, this research will give meaningful information about the usefulness of Poem as one of authentic materials that suitable used in teaching descriptive text. By using poem as media, it will be a measure of the teachers to overcome the problems faced by their students. In addition, the result of this research is expected to give a feedback for the teachers in teaching process so that they could be more creative in using a good way in teaching learning process. Fourth, for the next researchers, this research can be a reference for their further studies on a similar topic. Also, it is expected to give them meaningful information and motivation to use another innovative of learning model for their research.

E.   Research Scope

To make this research clearer and specific, the scope of this research limited to using poem as part of authentic materials used as media to improve students' ability in writing descriptive text. Here, the students trained to identify the characteristics an object in a poem then they describe it. The researcher provided some poems. The poems were about a thing, animal, and people. Poem media that were used here namely a simple poem without using high words or languages.

On the students' test, the researcher focused on identifying the generic structure and language features of an animal. The generic structure: identification (mention the name of the object, etc.) and description (describe the characteristics of the object). The language features: the usage of present tense, adjective, adverb or compound adjective. The aspects of writing that would be assessed were the content, organization, grammar, vocabulary, and mechanics.

For the place, the research would be conducted at Ummul Mukminin Islamic Boarding School Makassar. For the subjects, the researcher chose the tenth grade students (SMA) of Ummul Mukminin Islamic Boarding School Makassar in academic year 2016/2017. The method that would be used in this research was Quasi-Experimental Design, Non-equivalent Control Group Design.

F.   Operational Definition of Terms

In order to avoid any misunderstanding about the research also to provide clear information about what this research concerned, the researcher would like to present some main terms of this research, they are: Poem and Students' Writing Ability in Writing Descriptive text.

1. Poem

Poem as one of authentic materials was conducted as a media for the students in writing descriptive text. Poem media here means to guide the students to describe an object. Through poem, the students are trained to describe the characteristics an object by adjusting its generic structure and the generic features.

2. Students' Writing Ability in Writing Descriptive Text

Writing ability here means how the students capable of describing an object with stay to keep the rules of descriptive text well. To describe people, animal, thing, or place, the students should to describe based on its generic structure and language features. The generic structure: identification (mention the name of the animal, etc.) and description (describe the characteristics of the animal). The language features: the usage of present tense, adjective, adverb or compound adjective. On the students' test only focus on describing an animal (a pet), so the assessment focus on identifying the generic structure and language features of an animal.

CHAPTER II

REVIEW OF RELATED LITERATURE

This chapter is divided into four main sections, namely review of related research findings, some pertinent ideas, theoretical framework, and hypothesis.

A. Review of Related Research Findings

Deswita (2014) in her research entitled: "Teaching Writing a Descriptive Text by Using the Bio-Poems Strategy to Junior High School Students", it was concluded that the strategy used by her can minimize the students' difficulties in writing descriptive text. The use of bio-poems strategy in teaching writing a descriptive text is considered effective in helping the students to organize and generate a lot of ideas to write about an object. The strategy also very helpful and also motivates the students in writing descriptive because it makes them more enthusiastic and enjoyable in learning.

Masood (2013) in his research entitled: "Exploiting Authentic Materials for Developing Writing Skills at Secondary Level" (An Experimental Study). In his research was concluded that he found all the students and the teachers taking a lot of interest, as it was something new for them. They found it easy to write after having a deep and keen look at these pieces/excerpts of authentic materials. These set their minds working and planning on a variety of topics. It was easy for them to choose the topic of their interest. The classroom becomes a happy place to them.

Wahyuni (2014) in her research entitled: "The Effectiveness of Teaching Writing Descriptive Text Using Cinquain Poetry". She concluded that teaching descriptive text using Cinquain poetry was proved to be an effective medium at Senior High School. Once the students follow the phase of writing process, they found the easiness in writing descriptive text. The students successfully enriched their vocabularies. They become more aware of the use of punctuations and words spelling on their writing. Besides, they also could connect their ideas while they were writing their text and it gives the appropriate feedback toward the classroom discussions. In addition, the researcher also observed the students during the process of learning in order to find out students' response toward the Cinquain poetry technique. Thus, the teaching writing descriptive text using Cinquain poetry was proved to be an effective medium at Senior High School.

Hiew (2010) in his research entitled: "The Effectiveness of Using Literature Response Journal to Improve Students' Writing Fluency" (A Quasi-Experimental Approach) was concluded that the purpose of his research project was to know the effectiveness of using literature response journal in improving students' writing fluency and literature comprehension. Based on the seven-day journal entries, there was an increase in students' total word count and the paired sample t-test showed a significant difference between the total word count on Day 1 (M = 111.93, SD = 48.93, n = 30) and Day 7 (M = 152.13, SD = 88.78, n = 30) of using the literature response journal, t (29) = -2.74, p = .010 (significant at p <05). As the result of his research, he found that the literature response journal can indeed help improve students' writing fluency when it is practiced on a daily basis.

Yuharman (2013) in his research entitled: "Teaching Descriptive Text by Combining Biopoem Strategy and Sentence Combining Strategy at Junior High School", was concluded that purpose of Biopoem Strategy was to give a chance for students to display their knowledge about something. The purpose of Biopoem Strategy was to demonstrate the students' knowledge about people that they know. It meant that the purpose of Biopoem was to lead students in showing how good their understanding about someone that they know. The purpose of Sentence Combining Strategy was to facilitate students to increase their ability in writing. It was supported by Johnson in Yuharman (2013) that Sentence Combining Strategy helps students develop sentence level maturity in their writing. It meant that through Sentence Combining Strategy, students will learn optimally related to how to write down sentence or text in a right way. It was concluded that combining of the strategy could help the teacher in leading students to write down a description about someone. Someone refers to students themselves, friends, parent, teachers, and famous people. Moreover, students will be easy to organize their thinking when they write.

Based on the reviews of related research findings above, it was concluded that poem as one of kind of literature had much usefulness such as it could be used to improve students' writing ability especially in writing descriptive text. From aforementioned reviews, they had similarity with this research because all of the research intended to improve students' writing ability. Some of studies above utilized poem as part of literature which used as one of creative way to improve students' ability in writing descriptive text. Thus, in contrast, this research was different because the poem here as a part of authentic materials was used as media, whereas some of them utilized poem as technique and strategy which have certain outlines. However, the result of each study very helpful and motivated the students in writing descriptive text. Moreover, it made them more enthusiastic and enjoyable in learning.

B. Some Pertinent Ideas

    1. The Concept of Writing

a. Definition of Writing

According to Gould in Purnomo (2014) states that writing is an effort to create a dialogue with the readers. It is a way or process of discovery and developing our responses to an event, test or situation.

Oshima and Hogue in Nasmawati (2014) described that writing is a progressive activity. It means that when you first write something down, you have already been thinking about what you are going to say and how you are going to say it. Then after you have finished writing, you read over what you have written and make changes and correction. Therefore, writing is never a one-step action. It is process that has several steps.

Linse in Ambarawati (2014) also stated that writing is a combination of process and product of discovering ideas, putting them on paper and working with them until they are presented in manner that is polished and comprehensible to readers.

b. The Importance of Writing

Nowadays, people recognize more and more the importance of writing. Adelstein and Prival in Nasmawati (2014) expressed that in all subject in our life or in all professions, the ability to write to express oneself clearly is an essential basic for success. Adelstein said "As soon as you move one step up from the bottom, your effectiveness depends on your ability to reach other through the spoken or written language". The usefulness of writing expressed as follow:

1) Writing is tool for discovery. We stimulate our thought process by unconscious mind.

2) Writing generates new ideas by helping to make connection and see the relationship with other aspect.

3) Writing helps us to absorbs and process information.

4) Writing enables us to solve problems into written form we can examine and manipulate them.

c. Reason for Teaching Writing

Harmer in Purnomo (2014) states that the reason for teaching writing to students of English as a foreign language include reinforcement, language development, language style, and most importantly writing as a skill in its own right.

d. Characteristics of Writing

There are some characteristics of the good writing as Adelstein and Prival in Nasmawati (2014) said as follow:

1) Good writing reflects the writers' ability to use the appropriate voice. Even though all good writing conveys the sounds of someone talking else, the voice heard though the writing must also suit purpose and audience of the occasion.

2) Good writing reflects the writers to recognize the material into coherent whole so that it moves logically from a central, dominant idea to supporting points and finally to a consistent ending, conveying to the reader sense of a well thought out plan.

3) Good writing reflects the writers' ability to write clearly and unambiguously to use sentence structure, language, for example so that one possible meaning is writers' intended one.

4) Good writing reflects the writers' ability to write the reader interest in the subject and to demonstrate a thought and a sound understanding of it.

5) Good writing reflects the writers' ability to citizens the first draft and receive it. Revision is the key of effective writing.

6) Good writing reflects the writers' pride in the manuscript the willingness to spell and punctuate accurately and to check the meaning and the grammatical relationship within the sentence before submitting the finished product to the structure of an audience.

7) Writing down ideas allows as distancing ourselves from them.

8) Writing helps us to absorb and process information when we write a topic, we learn it better.

9) Writing enables us to solve the problem by putting the element of them into written form; we can examine and manipulate them.

10) Writing on a subject makes us active learners rather those passive learners of information.

e. Components of Writing

There are five significant components of writing according to Jacob in Indrayani in Sulistiana (2013) they are content, organization, vocabulary, language use, and mechanics.

1) Content

Content of writing should be clear for the readers so that the readers can understand the message conveyed and get information from it. In order to have a good content of writing, the content should be well unified and completed. This term is usually known as unity and completeness which become the characteristic of the good writing.

2) Organization

In organization, the writing concerns with the ways the writer to arrange and organize the ideas or the messages in the writing. Organizing the material in writing involves coherence, order of importance, and general to specific, specific to general, chronological order that happened from the beginning to the end.

3) Vocabulary

The effective use words will always result good writing both specific and technical writing, the dictionary is very considerable vocabulary is one in writing. To express ideas we always deal with vocabulary. The lack of vocabulary makes it difficult to express idea.

4) Language use

Language use in writing description and other form of writing involves correct language and point of grammar. An adequate grammar should be one that is capable of producing grammar. We should not able to do anything more than utter separate items of language function and also grammar can help the students to improve the use of formal language.

5) Mechanics

There are at least two parts of mechanic in writing, namely punctuation and capitalization. Punctuation is important as the way to clarify meaning in English writing capital letters have to participles. First, they are used to distinguish between particular and proper things. Second, it is used as first word in quotations, a formal statement and proper adjective.

f.   Writing Process

Langan in Purnomo (2014) divides writing process into four parts, they are:

1)   Pre-writing

There are four prewriting techniques that will help to think and develop a topic and get words. They are free writing, questioning, making a list, and preparing a scratch outline.

2)   Writing

Be prepared to put in additional thoughts and details that did not emerge during prewriting.

3)   Revising

Revising means rewriting an essay, building on what has already been done to make it stronger. There are three stages to the revising process: revising content, revising sentence and editing.

4)   Editing

After revising for the content and style, the next step is editing for error grammar, punctuation and spelling.

2.   Media

Media is very important in teaching learning process to help students to become active. "A medium is any person, material or event that establishes condition, which enable learners or students to acquire knowledge, skill that attitudes".

Naz in Annisa (2014) stated media are the means for transmitting or delivery messages. In teaching learning perspective, media are used to deliver content to the learners for achieving effective instruction.

3. Authentic Materials

a. Definition of Authentic Materials

Authentic Materials: An Overview by Alejandro G. Martinez in Nur Fitriani (2009) deals with the term authentic materials itself and with advantages and disadvantages of their use as well as possible sources of them.

Authentic materials: "Sometimes called "authentic" or "contextualized", real-life materials are those that a student encounters in everyday life but that weren't created for educational purposes. They include newspapers, magazines, and Web sites, as well as driver's manuals, utility bills, pill bottles, and clothing labels." Martinez, Alejandro G. in Nur Fitriani (2009).

b. Sources of Authentic Materials

Martinez in Nur Fitriani (2009) stated that in today's globalized world, examples abound, but the most commonly used perhaps are: Newspapers, menus, magazines, the Internet, TV programs, movies, CDs, songs, brochures, comics, literature (novels, poems and short stories), catalogues, leaflets, tickets, postcards, bills, receipts, wrappings, recipes, business cards, labels, stamps, etc.

According to Su (2007 p:173) authentic materials that can be used in ESL classroom include: poetry, greeting cards, postcards, banners, posters, bookmarks, speed reading, verse memorization, the Bible and other religious materials, and excellent American teachers.

c.   Where to Get Authentic Materials

-   The Internet and Library

There is usually an English department in every city or university library. There can be found not only books, but also magazines and music.

-   A foreign country

When visiting an English speaking country, one should think about the great opportunity to get authentic materials.

4.   Literature

a.   Definition of Literature

"Literature is literally "acquaintance with letter" as in the first sense given in the Oxford English Dictionary (from the Latin is littera meaning "an individual written character (letter)"). The terms has generally come to identify a collection of texts or work of art, which in Western culture are mainly prose, both fiction and non-fiction, drama and poetry. In much, if not all of the world, texts can be oral as well, and include such genres as epic, legend, myth, ballad, plus other forms of oral poetry, and the folktale." Ecrivain in Wuryani (2011).

"Written material such as poetry, novels, essays, etc, esp. works of imagination characterized by excellence of style and expression and by themes of general or enduring interest." Encyclopedia in Wuryani (2011).

b. Types of Literature

Literature falls into two major types that are written and oral literature. Oral literature includes ballads, myth, jokes, folktales and fables, whereas written source has drama, novel, poetry and nonfictional literature.

The kinds of fictional literature are: drama, prose literature, myth, short story, novel, folk tale, and poetry. Poetry is the spontaneous overflow of powerful feelings recollected in the tranquility. Poetry consists of 7 kinds, that is: 1) Sonnet, 2) Ballad, 3) Elegy, 4) Ode, 5) Allegory, 6) Epic and Mock epic, and 7) Lyric.

The kinds of nonfiction literature are: 1) Autobiography and biography, 2) Essay, 3) Literary criticism, 4) Travel literature, 5) Diary, 6) Journal, 7) Newspaper, and 8) Magazine.

5. Poem

According to Allyn and Bacon in Wuryani (2011) stated that poem is one of the three major components of literature: prose, poem and plays. Poem is enjoyable for students of all ages. It entrances students' development of literacy. Teachers and librarians can entice students into a lifelong love for poem through making available a well balanced collection of poem book and through proving many experiences with poem.

"Definition of poem is an imaginative awareness of experience expressed through meaning, sound, and rhythmic language choices so as to evoke an emotional response. Poem has been known to employ meter and rhyme, but this is by no means necessary. Poem is an ancient form that has gone through numerous and drastic reinvention overtime. The very nature of poem as an authentic to define." Contemporary lit. in Wuryani (2011).

6. Genre

a. Definition of Genre

Hyland in Sari (2013) stated that the term "genre" is used to refer to particular text types. It is a type or kind of text defined in terms of its social purposes, also the level of context dealing with social purpose. Genre is a term for grouping texts together, representing how writers typically use language to respond to recurring situations.

Jane Feuer in Sari (2013), a genre is ultimately an abstract conception rather than something that exists empirically in the world. A genre develops according to social conditions; transformations in genre and texts can influence and reinforce social conditions. Thwaites et.al. in Sari (2013).

b. Kinds of Genre

According to Gerrot & Wignell in Sari (2013) stated that there are many kinds of genres (text types). They are:

a) Spoof

Spoof is a kind of genre that has social function to retell an event a humorous twist.

b) Recount

Recount is a kind of genre that has social function to retell event for the purpose of informing and entertaining.

e) Anecdote

Anecdote is a kind of genre that has social function to share with others or listeners and account of an unusual to amusing incident.

f) Narrative

Narrative is a kind of genre that has social function to amuse, entertain and to deal with actual or vicarious experience in different ways. Narratives deal with problematic events which lead to crisis or turning point of some kinds, which in turn finds a resolution.

g) Description

Description is a kind of genre that has social function to describe a particular person, place, or thing.

h) Hortatory Exposition

Hortatory Exposition is a kind of genre that has social function to persuade the reader or listener that something should not be the case.

k) Discussion

Discussion is a kind of genre that has social function to present (at least) two points of view about an issue.

l) Procedure

Procedure is a kind of genre that has social function to describe how something is accomplished through a sequence of actions or steps.

m) News Item

News item is a kind of genre that has social function to inform reader, listener, viewers about events of the day which are considered newsworthy or important.

7. The Concept of Descriptive Text

a. Definition of Descriptive Text

According to Anderson and Anderson in Zahara (2014), descriptive text or description describes a particular person, place, or thing. Its purpose is to tell about the subject by describing its features without including personal opinions. Besides, the word descriptions from two words: Scriber, meaning "to write" and de, meaning "down" or "about". There is a hint in the describing you will follow the outline of an object visually and then write it down or "draw" it in word.

Kane in Nasmawati (2014) stated that "description is about sensory experience how something looks, sounds, tastes. Mostly is about visual experience, but description also deals with other kinds of perception." Gerot and Wignell in Sari (2013) also defined that "descriptive text is kind of text which is aimed to describe a particular person, place or things.

b. Kinds of Descriptive Text

As a concept of writing, Pardiyono in Nasmawati (2014) identified descriptive text into three kinds, they are describing place, people, and thing.

1) Describing Place, description of place is a text that describes the place looks, such as the condition, the situation, etc.

2) Describing People, description of place is a text that describes the person looks, such as the face, body, etc.

3) Description Thing, description of place is a text that describes the thing looks, such as the condition, the function, etc.

c. The Principle of Descriptive Text

Nasmawati (2014) said that there are three characteristic of a purely descriptive essay which is worthy of remembering, they are:

1) A descriptive essay has one, clear dominant impression. If, for example you are describing a snowfall, it is important for you to decide and let your reader know if it is threatening or lovely; in order to have one dominant impression it cannot be both. The dominant impression guides the author's selection of detail and thereby made clear to the reader in the thesis sentence.

2) A descriptive essay can be objective or subjective, giving the author a wide choice of tone, diction and attitude. For instance, an objective description of one's dog would mention such facts as weight, height, coloring and so forth. A subjective description would include the above detail, but would also stress the author's feeling toward the dog, as well as its personality and habits.

3) The purpose of purely descriptive essay is to involve the reader enough so he or she can actually visualized the things being described. Therefore, it is important to use specific and concrete details.

d. Strategy in Teaching Writing Descriptive Text

In writing descriptive text, as the writer we have to know those strategies in writing descriptive text. Pardiyono in Nasmawati (2014) stated that there are some strategies in writing descriptive text, they are:

1) Trying giving all detail first, the dominant impression then is built from these details.

2) Checking your details to be sure that they are consistent with the dominant impression. You might even want to write down the five senses on a scratch piece of paper and check to see that you have covered them all.

3) Trying moving you reader through space and time chronologically. For instance, you might want to describe the train ride from start to destination, or a stream from its source to the points at which it joins the river.

4) Using a then-and-low approach to show decay, or improvement. The house where you grew up might now be rambling shack. The variations on these strategies are endless.

5) Selecting an emotion and try to describe it. It might be more difficult started, but it can be worthwhile.

e. Generic Structure and Language Features of Descriptive Text

Droga and Humphrey in Annisa (2014) stated that descriptive text has certain generic structure and language features. The generic structure consists of definition or identification and description.

1) Identification: the part of paragraph that introduces the character.

2) Description: the part of paragraph that describes the character.

Whereas, the language features consist of three things. The first one, descriptive text is focuses on specific participant. The second one, descriptive text uses simple present tense. The last one, descriptive text uses adjective and adverb.

The example of Descriptive Text:

My Pet
Identification   I have a pet. It is a dog, and I call it Brownie because the color is brownish yellow.
Description   Brownie is a Chinese breed. It is small, fluffy and cute. It has got thick brown fur. When I cuddle it, the fur feels soft. Brownie does not like bones. Every day it eats soft food like steamed rice, fish or bread. Every morning I give her milk and bread. When I am at school, Brownie plays with my cat. They get along well, and never fight maybe because Brownie does not bark a lot. It treats the other animals in our house gently, and it never eats shoes. Brownie is really a sweet and friendly animal.

C.   Theoretical Framework

The researcher delivered about experimental research to find out the improvement of the students' ability in writing descriptive text by using poem as media. It is well known that writing descriptive text included as one of the learning material especially in English subject. It means that students should be able to learn how to write a descriptive text well and structured. In this case, writing descriptive text students not just enough to make one, two, or more paragraph about something but they have to observe the element in descriptive text. The element in descriptive text namely generic structure and language features. The generic structure consists of definition or identification and description. Whereas, the language features consist of three things. The first one, descriptive text is focuses on specific participant. The second one, descriptive text uses simple present tense. The last one, descriptive text uses adjective and adverb.

However, the problems faced by the students based on the result of preliminary observation and interview, many students difficulty in writing descriptive text. For example, they confused on developing paragraph based on the generic structure of the texts. Besides, they difficult used the tenses based on the texts require. They did not know the rules of descriptive text. Glance at this case, the students difficult in organizing and developing their description about an object because the teachers rarely in using appropriate media in the class. Even, they only relied on textbook. As a result, the students got stuck in writing descriptive text even they were not eager to learn and they have low motivation to act.

In teaching writing especially writing descriptive text, teachers should use various ways in the class to make teaching-learning activities more interesting and effective. One of creative ways of the teachers in helping them in teaching writing are they often using media in the class. Naz in Annisa (2014) states media are the means for transmitting or delivery messages. In teaching learning perspective, media are used to deliver content to the learners for achieving effective instruction. In this case, the use of media in teaching-learning process is needed to attract students' attention and to make teaching-learning activities more interesting and effective.

According to Morrow in Stange and Susan (2008), poetry is one of many useful mediums for improving literacy. Parr & Campbell; Routman in Stange and Susan (2008) also said that poetry also inspires thought and supports early success with literacy.

Allyn and Bacon in Wuryani (2011) also stated poem is one of the three major components of literature: prose, poem and plays. Literature include as a part of authentic materials. According to Martinez in Nur Fitriani (2009) the sources of authentic materials are: newspapers, menus, magazines, the Internet, TV programs, movies, CDs, songs, brochures, comics, literature (novels, poems and short stories), catalogues, leaflets, tickets, postcards, bills, receipts, wrappings, recipes, business cards, labels, stamps, etc. "Authentic texts can be motivating because they are proof that the language is used for real-life purposes by real people." Nuttall in Berardo (2006).

Thus, poem as one of authentic materials conducted as a media for the students in writing descriptive text. Poem media intended to guide the students to describe an object. Through poem media, the students trained to describe the characteristics an object by adjusting its generic structure and the generic features. Besides, by employing poem as media, they can learn many vocabularies especially about adjective, adverb or compound adjective when they explore poem media. Addition, it trained them more creative writing and thinking. In other words, it can help the teachers to overcome the students' problem in writing descriptive text and create interesting and enjoyable learning activity.

Maher in Kirkgoz (2008) defined poems provide a stimulus and can serve as a good model for creative writing. As students explore poems, each can discover useful ideas for creative writing. It has been confirmed by Collie and Slater in Kirkgoz (2008) that "using poetry in the language classroom can lead naturally on to freer and creative written expression".

In conclusion, it was assumed that poem as one of authentic materials could be used in which provide a stimulus as a good model in teaching writing especially to help the students' problem in writing descriptive text. So, through poem media it could be helpful and motivate the students in writing descriptive and makes them more enthusiastic and enjoyable in learning.

D. Hypothesis

Based on the discussion above, this was the hypotheses which can be answered by this research, as follows:

H_1: The use of Poem can improve students' ability in writing descriptive text at the tenth grade of Ummul Mukminin Islamic Boarding School Makassar.

H_0: The use of Poem cannot improve students' ability in writing descriptive text at the tenth grade of Ummul Mukminin Islamic Boarding School Makassar.
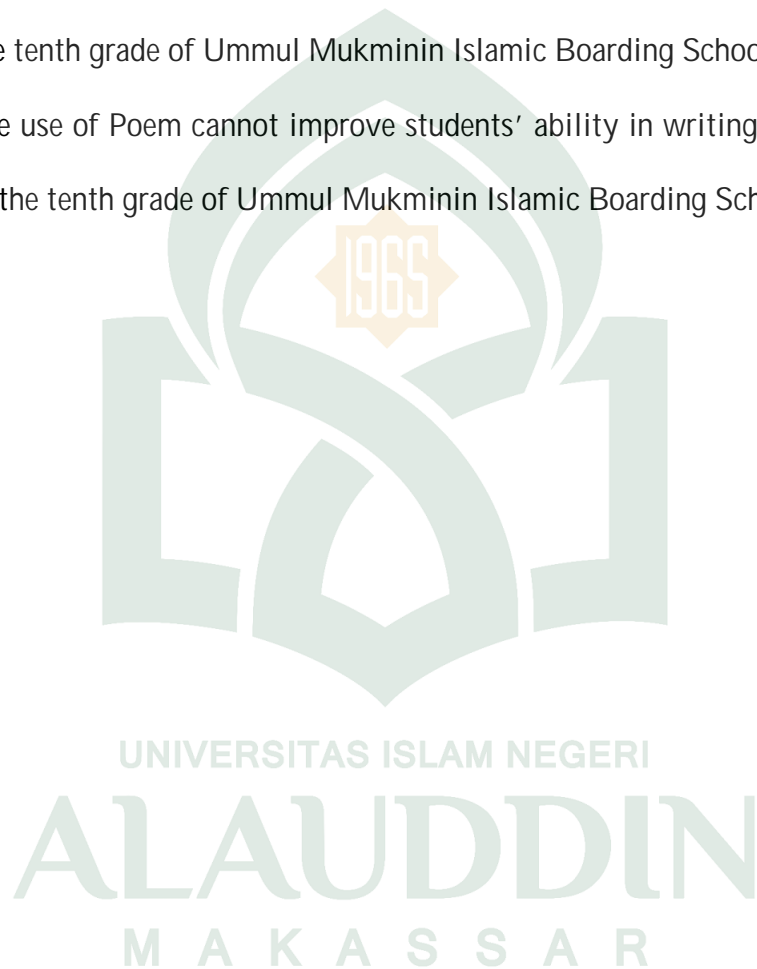

CHAPTER III

RESEARCH METHOD

This chapter deals with research design, research variable, population and sample, research instrument, data collection procedure, data analysis technique, research procedure, and research setting.

A. Research Design

The research was conducted with Quasi-Experimental Design exactly Non-equivalent Control Group Design. The nonequivalent control group design may be extended to include more than two groups (L. R. Gay, p: 258). In this method, there were two classes, which were experimental class and controlled class. In the experimental class used poem media along with pre-test and post-test whereas in the controlled class taught as usual also conducted pre-test and post-test. Thus, the researcher wants to know whether utilizing poem give the significant effect to improve students' ability in writing descriptive text or not.

This is a model of Quasi-Experimental Design, exactly Non-equivalent Control Group Design.

E	O_1	X	O_2
C	O_3		O_4

(Sugiyono, 2015: p.116)

Where:

E   : Experimental class

C   : Controlled class

O_1 : Pre-test (in experimental class)

O_3 : Pre-test (in controlled class)

X   : Treatment for experimental class by using poem as media

O_2 : Post-test (in experimental class)

O_4 : Post-test (in controlled class)

Based on the explanation above, there were two classes which were divided into experimental class and controlled class. Both of them did pre-test (O_1 and O_3). The pre-test was given in order to get to know students' prior knowledge before the treatment. Next, the treatment (X) would be applied to the experimental group by using poem as media and post-test (O_2 and O_4) was given to both groups. Post-test was applied in order to know students' achievement of the two classes. The score of both groups were compared to see the improvement.

B.   Research Variable

Variable according to F. N. Kerlinger in Arikunto (2013) stated that variable is a concept as well as men in the concept of sex and conviction in the concept of consciousness. Well, in this research, there were two variables that consist of independent and dependent variable. According to the title of this research namely "The Use of Poem to Improve Students' Ability in Writing Descriptive Text at the Tenth Grade of Ummul Mukminin Islamic Boarding School Makassar", the two variables were:

1. Independent Variable

    The independent variable (X) was the use of Poem as media. It had given effect toward dependent variable. It showed how the use of poem as media used as a treatment could improve students' ability in writing descriptive text.

2. Dependent Variable

    The dependent variable (Y) was students' writing ability in descriptive text. The dependent variable was affected by independent variable. It showed how the result of students' writing ability in descriptive text by using poem as media, then showed whether improve or not.

C. Population and Sample

1. Population

    Population is the subject of the research overall (Arikunto, 2013 p: 173). The population of this research was the tenth grade students (SMA) of Ummul Mukminin Islamic Boarding School Makassar in academic year 2016/2017. The total numbers of population were 129 students which consist of 4 classes; X-MIA 1, X-MIA 2, X-MIA 3, and X-IIS.

2. Sample

Sample is partially or the representative of the population studied (Arikunto, 2013 p: 174). Technique of sampling that used in this research was purposive sampling. The researcher took two classes as the sample to get representative data and only took 20 students from class X-MIA 3 as experimental class and 20 students from class X-MIA 2 as controlled class.

There were some reasons why the researcher used purposive sampling. The first reason, the researcher could not conduct this research during the class because the research was conducted in the early odd semester whereas the students had not study about descriptive text in the first meeting. So, the researcher had to take time after class. The second reason, the researcher chose an Islamic Boarding School as the place to conduct her research. Look at the previous experience of the researcher, the daily activity of the students almost full in a day. It is because they always have an extra or addition classes after midday pray namely Takhassus. Moreover, at that time, they followed Olympiad for a few days and every day the four classes have different time to study. It meant the availability time of the students rather difficult to be conditioned. Those were reason why the researcher used purposive sampling. Thus, in order to abridging the researcher conducting this research, she only took 20 students from class X-MIA 3 as experimental class and 20 students from class X-MIA 2 as controlled class.

D. Research Instrument

The instrument that used to collect data of this research was achievement test. The achievement test was a written test that systematically measured by a directive of rubric of writing descriptive text. The writing test was about describing an animal in the picture. The instrument was measuring students' ability in writing descriptive text in both experimental class and controlled class. The function of pre-test was intended to know the prior knowledge or ability of the students in writing descriptive text before giving treatment (using poem media) while the post-test was to know the improvement of the students' ability in writing descriptive text after giving treatment (using poem media). The pre-test and post-test that was conducted almost same in order to avoid the bias level of the research.

E. Data Collection Procedure

Before conducting the research, the researcher made a design of implementation in collecting data which covered as follows:

1. Preparation

The researcher prepared some of simple poem for the experimental class (for treatment process), rubric of writing of descriptive text, list of attendance and making a lesson plan.

2. Pre-test

The pre-test was conducted in the two classes that had been chosen. In pre-test, the researcher was intended to know the prior knowledge or ability of the students in writing descriptive text before giving treatment. The kind of test was writing test which the material was about describing an animal in a picture.

3. Treatment

After giving the pre-test, then the treatment was given to the experimental class. Here, the researcher used poem as media. The researcher provided some poems. The poems were about a thing, animal, and people. The students trained to identify the characteristics an object on each poem then they described it by adjusting its generic structure and language features. The treatment was given for at least eight meetings by conducting poem media in the class, while the controlled class received treatment by using conventional model (different way).

4. Post-test

After giving the treatment, post-test conducted of the two classes. The post-test was almost same in the pre-test before. Then, it assessed by using rubric of writing of descriptive text.

F. Data Analysis Technique

The data are obtained through the pre-test and post-test. The researcher used the procedures as follows:

1. Scoring category of the students' pre-test and post-test by using scoring rubric items as follows:

Table 3.1 Rubric for Assessing Writing Descriptive Text

Aspect	Score	Performance Description
Content (C) 30% - Topic - Details	4	The topic is complete and clear and the details are relating to the topic
	3	The topic is complete and clear but the details are almost relating to the topic
	2	The topic is complete and clear but the details are not relating to the topic
	1	The topic is not clear and the details are not relating to the topic
Organization (O)20% - Identification - Description	4	Identification is complete and descriptions are arranged with proper connectives
	3	Identification is almost complete and descriptions are arranged with almost proper connectives
	2	Identification is not complete and descriptions are arranged with few misuse of connectives
	1	Identification is not complete and descriptions are arranged with misuse of connectives

	2	It has frequent errors of spelling, punctuation, and capitalization
	1	It is dominated by errors of spelling, punctuation, and capitalization

(Brown, 2007)

2. Calculating the students' score per person by using the following formula:

$$Score = \frac{Students'\ Correct\ Answer}{Total\ Number\ of\ Items} \times 100$$

(Depdikbud in Nur in Rustan, 2016)

3. Classifying the students' scores by using the following scale:

Table 3.2 Students' Score Classification

No.	Score	Criteria	Note
1.	85-100	Excellent	The students get the excellent criteria score in every category
2.	70-84	Good	The students get the good criteria score in every category
3.	55-69	Fair	The students get the fair criteria score in every category
4.	40-54	Poor	The students get the poor criteria score in every category
5.	0-39	Very Poor	The students get the score under the poor criteria in every category

(Syarif, 2010)

4. Calculating the mean score of the students' answer by using the following formula:

$$\bar{x} = \frac{\sum x}{N}$$

(Gay, 2006 p: 320)

Where: $\bar{x}$ = Mean score

$\sum x$ = Sum of all scores

N = Total number of the subjects

5. Finding out the standard deviation by applying the following formula:

$$SD = \sqrt{\frac{SS}{N}} \quad \text{where SS} = \sum X^2 - \frac{(\sum X)^2}{N1}$$

(Gay, 2006 p: 321)

Where: SD = Standard deviation

SS = The sum of square

N = Total number of the subjects

x^2 = The sum of all square; each score is squared and all the squares are added up.

$(x)^2$ = The square of the sum; all the scores are added up and the sum is square, total.

6. Calculating percentage in students' score by using the following formula:

$$P = \frac{F}{N} \times 100\%$$

(Depdikbud in Nur in Rustan, 2016)

Where: P = Rate percentage

F = Frequency of the correct anwer

N = the total number of students

7. Finding out the differences between students' score in pre-test and post-test by applying the following formula:

$$t = \frac{\bar{x}_1 - \bar{x}_2}{\sqrt{\left(\dfrac{SS_1 + SS_2}{n_1 + n_2 - 2}\right)\left(\dfrac{1}{n_1} + \dfrac{1}{n_2}\right)}}$$

(Gay, 2006 p: 349)

Where: t = Test of significance

$\bar{x}_1$ = Mean score of experimental group

$\bar{x}_2$ = Mean score of controlled group

SS_1 = Sum square of experimental group

SS_2 = Sum square of controlled group

n_1 = Number of students of experimental group

n_2 = Number of students of controlled group

8. Then the last, the result of the t test were compared with t table to see if there was a significant difference between the Experimental class and Controlled class on the other hand, the experiment was effective or not.

T table ≤ t test = Effective

T table ≥ t test = Not effective

(Gay, 2006 p: 346)

G. Research Procedure

In collecting the data, there were some steps taken by the researcher, they are:

1. Preliminary Visit (Observation)

The researcher visited the school to get information about teacher and students as participant, then to gain information, the researcher asked the administration officer (staff).

2. Meet the Headmaster

The researcher asked the permission to headmaster of SMA Ummul Mukminin Islamic Boarding School Makassar by giving permission letter which had been processed first from the office of Islamic Boarding School.

3. Contacting the English Teacher

After getting permission, the researcher met the English teacher for asking her help, suggestions, and guidance in conducting the research.

4. Give the Pre-test

The researcher gave the Pre-test to experimental and controlled class. The students asked to write a descriptive text based on the theme given. The Pre-test was conducted on 1st September 2016 for the both class but in different time.

5. Give the Treatment

The activities of the experimental class were started on 2nd September 2016 until 19th September 2016. The experimental class was given the treatment by using poem as media in teaching writing descriptive text, while the activities of the controlled class were started on 5th September 2016 until 26th September 2016. The controlled class was only given conventional model (different way) without using poem media in teaching writing descriptive text.

Here, the procedures of treatment were chronologically performed as follows:

a. The 1st meeting (2nd September 2016), before starting, the researcher re-introduces herself and her purpose first. Next, the researcher divided the students into some groups and each of group was formed circling. Then, first of all, the researcher explained about the descriptive text. The materials were about the definition of descriptive text, the kinds of descriptive text, explained the generic structure and language features of an abject (the definition of identification and description), and gave the example. (90 minutes)

b. The 2nd meeting (5th September 2016), the researcher re-reviewed the students' comprehension about descriptive text (definition of descriptive text, the kinds of descriptive text, and the generic structure and language features of an object (included the definition of identification and description)) by giving question to them one by one. Then, it continued by introducing some of simple poems as media (the simple poems were about a thing, animal, and people) and its purpose during in the treatment. To make the students' more understand the material, the researcher chose one of the simple poems. The poem media was about thing. Then, the researcher explained all the steps and the way how to describe it. (90 minutes)

c. The 3rd meeting (6th September 2016), in this meeting, the students trained to analyze a poem through some steps and the poem media that used was about an animal. Just remind, here, the poem media used as guide to describe an object or picture in a poem. Well, the first step, the researcher giving the simple poem to the students and then they were asked to read it accurately. The second step, they were asked to identify the characteristics (physical appearance) on each suite of words of the poem by giving them a sign or underline it. In this process, the researcher also guided the students. Next, they were asked again to define it which one that included the identification and description. The third step, they were asked to rematch which one that included the identification and description (Just like the previous step but they only seen the poem media). The last step, ask the students to describe the characters of the animal that have been read in the poem into a text by following the presentation headings. The presentation headings namely introduction, identification, description, and closing. (90 minutes)

d. The 4th meeting (7th September 2016), in this meeting same with the previous meeting. The students were trained again to analyze a poem through some steps and the poem media that used was about a people. (90 minutes)

e. The 5th meeting (17th September 2016), in this meeting, the students were asked to describe an animal but they were trained without through poem media as guide. So, they only described a picture of an animal. Before began, the researcher shared the list of vocabulary of physical appearance of people and animal for the students which included noun, adjective, and compound adjective. Well, this way same with the previous step; the third and the fourth step but they started it by doing brainstorming activity first in order to abridging them. In this way, they have to brainstorm all the characteristics of the animal and defined it which one are included the identification and description. Then, ask them described it into a text. Addition, to make the structure of the text clear and readable, the researcher added again some headings on each paragraph as a direction for them. The presentation headings were introduction, identification, description, and closing. Last, asked some of the students described it in front of the class. (90 minutes)

f. The 6th meeting (19th September 2016), in this meeting, the researcher asked the students to correct their writing and then it checked together. Besides, the researcher also taught them how to describe a place. Then, they were asked to describe their class together with their group and checked together. Well, before the class was closed, the researcher gave a funny game then reminded the students that will be conducted post-test. So, they have to prepare their selves. (90 minutes)

CHAPTER IV

FINDINGS AND DISCUSSION

This chapter deals with the findings of the research and the discussions of the findings. The findings are in line with the problem statements stated in the introduction part. The findings of the research present the description of the result of data collected through written test. In the discussions section, the researcher describes further explanation of the findings given.

Moreover, in this chapter, the researcher analyzed the data obtained from the students pre-test and post-test. The data consisted of the result of the pre-test and post-test. The pre-test was intended to know the ability of the students' writing ability before giving treatments, while the post-test was intended to find out whether there was any improvement or not of the students' writing ability after having several treatments through implementation of poem as media.

A. Findings

The findings of the research deal with the rate percentage of the students' score attainment through test to find mean score, standard deviation, and test of significance.

1. The Classification of Students' Pre-Test Scores in Experimental Class and Controlled Class

The Distribution of Frequency and Percentage Score of Experimental Class in Pre-test

No.	Score	Classification	Frequency	Percentage
1.	85-100	Excellent	-	-
2.	70-84	Good	1	5%
3.	55-69	Fair	5	25%
4.	40-54	Poor	14	70%
5.	0-39	Very Poor	-	-
	Total		20	100%

Table 4.1 above shows that, the rate percentage of score of experimental class in pre-test from 20 students, 1 (5%) student obtained good score, 5 (25%) students obtained fair score, and 14 (70%) students obtained poor score.

The Distribution of Frequency and Percentage Score of Controlled Class in Pre-test

No.	Score	Classification	Frequency	Percentage
1.	85-100	Excellent	-	-
2.	70-84	Good	-	-
3.	55-69	Fair	10	50%
4.	40-54	Poor	10	50%
5.	0-39	Very Poor	-	-
	Total		20	100%

While at Table 4.2 above shows that, the rate percentage and frequency of the students' controlled class in pre-test, none of the students got excellent and good score but exactly they got fair and poor score. There were 10 (50%) students got fair score and 10 (50%) students got poor score.

Based on the table 4.1 and 4.2 above, it can be concluded that the scores and percentages of students in pre-test were better in experimental class than in controlled class because in the rate percentage in experimental class was higher than in controlled class.

2. The Classification of Students' Post-Test Scores in Experimental Class and Controlled Class.

The following table shows the distribution of frequency and percentage of final score of teaching Writing Descriptive Text at the tenth grade students of SMA Ummul Mukminin Islamic Boarding School Makassar in post-test for Experimental class and controlled class.

Table 4.3
The Distribution of Frequency and Percentage Score of Experimental Class in Post-test

No.	Score	Classification	Frequency	Percentage
1.	85-100	Excellent	3	15%
2.	70-84	Good	15	75%
3.	55-69	Fair	2	10%
4.	40-54	Poor	-	-
5.	0-39	Very Poor	-	-
Total			20	100%

Table 4.3 shows that, the rate percentage of score of experimental class in post-test from 20 students shows that, the students obtained 3 (15%) excellent score, 15 (75%) students obtained good score, and 2 (10%) students obtained fair score.

Table 4.4

The Distribution of Frequency and Percentage Score of Controlled Class in Post-test

No.	Score	Classification	Frequency	Percentage
1.	85-100	Excellent	-	-
2.	70-84	Good	4	20%
3.	55-69	Fair	16	80%
4.	40-54	Poor	-	-
5.	0-39	Very Poor	-	-
	Total		20	100%

While at Table 4.4 above shows that, there were none of the students got excellent score in post-test but there were 4 (20%) students got good score, 16 (80%) students got fair score.

Based on the result above, it can be concluded that the rate percentage students in post-test for experimental class was higher than in rate percentage in controlled class. Although for both of the class improved.

3. The Mean Score and Standard Deviation of Experimental Class and Controlled Class

After calculating the result of the students score, the mean score standard deviation or both classes be presented in the following table:

Table 4.5

The Mean Score and Standard Deviation of Experimental Class and Controlled Class in Pre-test and Post-test

Class	Pre-test		Post-test
	Mean Score	Standard Deviation	Mean Score	Standard Deviation
Experimental	50.75	7.82	75.25	6.17
Controlled	50.25	6.38	63.25	5.68

The table above showed that, the mean score of experimental class in pre-test was (50.75) and the standard deviation of experimental class was (7.82), and the mean score of controlled class in pre-test was (50.25) and the standard deviation of controlled was (6.38). While the mean score of experimental class in post-test was (75.25) and the standard deviation of experimental class was (6.17), and the mean score of controlled class in post-test was (63.25) and its standard deviation was (5.68). It can be concluded from both of the tests; the experimental class gained greater mean score in the post-test than the controlled class.

The significant score between experimental and controlled class can be known by using t-test. The result of t-test can be seen in table 4.6 as follows:

Table 4.6

Distribution the Value of t-Test and t-Table

Variable	t-Test Value	t-Table Value
Pre-Test	0.22	2.021
Post-Test	6.41	2.021

Table 4.6 above indicates that, in pre-test, the value of the t-test still low than the value of the t-table. While in post-test, the value of the t-test was greater than the value of the t-table. It indicates that there was a significant difference between the result of the students' pre-test in experimental class and controlled class and post-test in experimental class and controlled class.

The statistical analysis from the result of the students' writing ability test of this research shown that the students' writing ability before doing treatment through poem as media was still low. It was proved by the result of pre-test before treatments that there were 20 students, 1 (5%) student obtained good score, 5 (25%) students obtained fair score, and 14 (70%) students obtained poor score.

On the contrary to the result of the students' pre-test before, there was a significance improvement on the post-test where 3 (15%) students obtained excellent score, 15 (75%) students obtained good score, and only 2 (10%) students obtained fair score.

Based on the table of distribution the value of t-test and t-table in post-test previously, the researcher concluded that t-test value was greater than t-table (6.41> 2.021). It can be concluded that the students' writing ability achievement has improved successfully. If t-table value is greater than t-test at the level of significance 0.05 and df $(N_1+N_2) - 2 = (20 + 20) - 2 = 38$, it meant that (H_0) was accepted and (H_1) was rejected. In contrary, if the t-test was greater than t-table, it meant that (H_0) was rejected and (H_1) was accepted.

From the result above, it shows the difference between t-test and t-table was enough great. It can be concluded that teaching writing by using poem as media was proved to be effective in improving the students' writing ability in descriptive text.

B. Discussion

Poem included as one of the components of literature. Poem is one of the three major components of literature: prose, poem, and plays. So did literature included as a part of authentic materials. In a review of research about Authentic Materials written by Su (2007), it said that authentic materials that can be used in ESL classroom include: poetry, greeting cards, postcards, banners, posters, bookmarks, speed reading, verse memorization, the Bible and other religious materials, and excellent American teachers. While the researcher agreed that Poem also can be a powerful tool to begin in helping English language learners gain access to the text. Thus, poem as one of authentic materials suits to improve students' ability in writing descriptive text. By employing poem as media, it can guide them how to describe the characteristics of an object. Also it can help the teachers to overcome the students' problem in writing descriptive text and create interesting and enjoyable learning activity.

Analysis of the mean score gap in the post-test between the Experimental and controlled ensures if the technique used was effective. The mean score of the Experimental class was 75.25 and 63.25 for Controlled class. It means the gap of the students' score of the Experimental and Controlled class is 12. The explanation of the gap between the two classes indicates that the Experimental class shows great improvement than the Controlled class.

To sum up, based on the result of this study, which shows the students' scores were much greater after conduct the treatment in Experimental class using poem media, the use of poem as media in teaching writing is surely effective to improve the students' writing ability. It has been confirmed by Nas in Annisa (2014) that the use of media in teaching-learning process is needed to attract students' attention and to make teaching-learning activities more interesting and effective.

From the comparison of the result of post-test score between experimental and controlled class, the ability of experimental class was getting greater than controlled class. It means that the treatment of using poem as media to the experimental class was successful.

Kirkgoz (2008) said that the benefits of using poetry in teaching have been highlighted by many ESL/EFL practitioners. A brief summary of their argument is offered here. First, poems can be used in language classes as a valuable resource to introduce and practice language items by exposing students to "authentic models – real language in context" Brumfit and Carter in Kirkgoz (2008), rather than teacher-developed examples. As Tomlinson in Kirkgoz (2008) has pointed out using poetry contributes far more to the development of language skills in real contexts than "a total concentration on the presentation and the practice of language items". Second, poems provide EFL/ESL students with opportunities to enrich their vocabulary by presenting words not included in second language textbooks.

Furthermore, McKay in Kirkgoz (2008) said that another reason for using poems is the contribution it makes to student creativity while providing a break from regular classroom routines. Maher in Kirkgoz (2008) stated that Poems provide a stimulus and can serve as a good model for creative writing. As students explore poems, each can discover useful ideas for creative writing. It has been confirmed by Collie and Slater in Kirkgoz (2008) that "using poetry in the language classroom can lead naturally on to freer and creative written expression". Addition, Poems increase learner motivation by eliciting emotional involvement. Another advantage of using poems in the classroom is that they provide students with insight into developing cross-cultural awareness. Poems also create a context for enhancing learner's understanding of the cultural values of English-speaking people, which is part of gaining true fluency in second language. Thus, it is perceived that the learners are more eager and interested in learning English especially for the implementation of poem media in the classroom because it was proved that this media influenced the learners' motivation to study English comfortably.

The result of the test in this study clearly showed that there was a significant difference between the students' score in the Experimental and Controlled class after the treatment of poem media. It indicated that the poem media is quite effective in improving the students' writing ability in descriptive text. It means null hypothesis (H_0) was rejected and alternative hypothesis (H_1) was accepted because the t-test was greater than t-table (6.41> 2.021) or in the other words the value of the t-table was less than the value of t-test. It supported by Gay (2006, p. 346) who stated that if T table   t test means Effective, while if T table   t test means not effective. Hence, the hypothesis of the research is accepted.

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

This chapter presents the conclusions as well as few suggestions of this study. Suggestions are taken based on findings and conclusions obtained in this research.

A. Conclusion

Based on the result of the data analysis, research findings, and discussion in the previous chapter, it was concluded that:

The use of poem as media can improve the students' ability in writing descriptive text at the tenth grade of Ummul Mukminin Islamic Boarding School Makassar. Based on the statistical analysis, the improvement can be seen that t-test value was greater than t-table. It meant that there was a significant difference between the experimental class and controlled class. Therefore, hypothesis H_0 was rejected and H_1 was accepted and it showed that poem as media was effective to improve the students' ability in writing descriptive text at the tenth grade of Ummul Mukminin Islamic Boarding School Makassar. By using poem as media, it guided the students how to describe the characteristics of an object. Besides, it made the students active in writing. Not only that, but also the students learnt the meaning of vocabularies especially about noun, adjective, compound adjective, or adverb. In other words, using poem as media can create interesting and enjoyable learning activity.

B. Suggestion

There is a lot of learning aids or Medias to be used in teaching learning progress, and using poem media is one of the alternative ways in teaching writing, especially, writing descriptive text. Here are some suggestions as follows:

1. Poem as one of authentic material is suggested to use for teacher as an alternative media in teaching writing because it is easy to find.

2. Using poem as a learning media is a good way for the students in improving their ability in writing. Using poem as a learning media helps the teacher and gives much times to the students be active in writing, and makes the students feel enjoy and enthusiastic in writing.

3. Using poem media is suggested for the teacher to provide various simple poems that describes something such as the identity of someone, physical appearance of someone, characteristics of an animal; a pet, a thing, or poem that describes the place looks. Through, those topic, they can more learn many vocabularies especially about adjective, adverb or compound adjective.

4. For the further researcher is suggested to find out much reference about Poem media as learning media.

5. Through this research, it is expected that this thesis would bring new views for all the readers and the English teachers. Hopefully, there would be other advantages of using sketch in teaching and learning process not only in writing, but also in the other skills.
