CHAPTER I

INTRODUCTION

The chapter consists of background, research questions, objectives of the research, significances of the research, and scope of the research.

A. Background

Literature is a reflection of social life or aspects of social reality that happen in society. Abrams (1971: 89) says that literature is a mirror of reality in the society. In reality, literature had relationship with situation and condition in the society. It is implied in the quotation below:

“Literature is a social institution, using as its medium language, a social creation.....But, furthermore, literature ‘represents’ ‘life’; and ‘life’ is, in large measure, a social reality, even though the natural world and the inner of subjective world of the individual have also been objects of literary ‘imitation’. The poet himself is a member of society, possessed of a specific social status: he receives some degree of social recognition and reward: he addresses audience, however hypothetical. Indeed, literature has usually arisen in close connection with particular social institution. Literature also had social function, or ‘used’ which cannot be purely individual” (Wellek and Warren, 1970: 94).

Not only that, literature also had many functions in society. First, literature serves the picture of life, and the life alone is a social fact. Second, literature represents the culture and tradition through it was literary works. Third, through literature readers may find and figure out one or more values occurred in society. In other words, literature had functioned as reflection of culture and tradition through process of interpretation (Damono, 2002: 27).

Based on the explanation above, it can be concluded that there was a connection between literature and culture in the society. As the effect of this connection literature can be examined through the perspective of interpretation.

There are several kinds of literary works; they are poem, drama, prose, while novel is including in prose and the other was song. Whitman (2005: 13) believes that song is an artistic form of expression based on sound, with distinct pitches, pattern and form, generally considered a complete work, whether musically or lyrically. It can be wordless or with words. Written words created specifically for music or for which music is specifically created, were called lyrics. If poetry, a pre-existing poem is set to composed music that is an art song. Thus, the writer is conducted her research by choosing one kind of literary work that is song, especially folksong from Bima.

Historically, Bima society was very well known about their culture and tradition especially in singing a folksong. For example, in expressing their feelings in certain condition; they usually perform a song which is well known as Rawa Mbojo. Rawa Mbojo's song has become a part of people's life because it is one of the thing which has functioned entertaining in their daily activities such as farming, wedding, playing for children and advicing (Marhumah, 2009: 3).

The litrary work that is going to be analyzed in this research was a song from Bima entitled Wadu Ntanda Rahi by Jony Keke (1979). This song very long in the past and make a novel entitled Wadu Ntanda Rahi written by Alan Malingi in 2001. Then, it is inspired the song writer who has made folksong with the same title. This song was categorized as folksong because this song was talking about the wife from Bima who had been waiting for her husband for a long time, even though she had heard that her husband had died but she still waiting faithfully and one day she asked God to make her to be a stone to show her faithfulness.

Moreover, Abdurrahman bin 'Auf in his hadith says that the Prophet sallallaahu 'alaihi wa sallam said,

إِذَا صَلَّتِ الْمَرْأَةُ حَمْسَهَا وَصَامَتْ شَهْرَهَا وَحَفِظَتْ فَرْجَهَا وَأَطَاعَتْ زَوْجَهَا قِيلَ لَهَا
ادْخُلِي الْجَنَّةَ مِنْ أَيِّ أَبْوَابِ الْجَنَّةِ شِئْتَ

"If a woman always maintain her prayers five times a day, fasting a month (Ramadhan), really keep her body (from the sin) and totally obey her husband, then it was said to the woman who has a noble of this good character," Please come into the heaven through the door you like anywhere." (HR. Ahmad 1: 191 and Ibn Hibbaan 9: 471. Syaikh Syu'aib Al Arnauth says that this hadith is an authentic hadith).

Therefore, it was an interesting study to conduct, especially in the field of literary studies because literary work such as song usually reflects the culture. Thus, in analyzing the philosophical values in mbojo's song wadu ntanda rahi at Bima society, this study was used hermeneutical approach. Based on the statements above, the researcher was interested in conducting a research under the title "The Philosophical Values of Mbojo's song Wadu Ntanda Rahi at Bima society (Hermeneutical Approach)"

B. Problem statements

1. What are the Philosophical Values contained in Mbojo's song Wadu Ntanda Rahi at Bima society?
2. How are the functions of Mbojo's song Wadu Ntanda Rahi at Bima Society?

C. Objectives of the Research

Based on the research questions, the purposes of this research were as follows:

1. To figure out the Philosophical Value contained in Mbojo's song Wadu Ntanda Rahi at Bima society.
2. To describe the function of the Mbojo's song Wadu Ntanda Rahi at Bima society.

D. Significance of the research

The significances of this research were as follows:

1. Theoretically, the significance of this research was to enrich and expand the study to contemporary literature. Besides that, the result of this research may help the readers expand their knowledge to analyze literature using hermeneutical approach.

2. Practically, the significance of this research was expected to be useful as a reference for next similar research. In addition, the result of this research is expected to give useful information of the song wadu ntanda rahi at Bima society in the present and future.

E. Scope of the research

In this research, the research is limited the interpretation in the social aspects in the song. The research was focused on the philosophical values in mbojo's song wadu ntanda rahi at Bima society.

CHAPTER II

REVIEW OF RELATED LITERATURE

In this chapter, the writer presents the theory related to the research in order to support the analysis. It consists of explanation about previous findings.

A. Previous findings

There are some previous findings that related to this research, but they had different objectives which are discussed in this research, as follows:

Rauf (2010: 7) in his thesis, “The Philosophical Values of “Takalai Nisobalang Dotai Lele Ruppug Dadi Nalele Tuali di Lolangan” based on the Interpretation of Majene society (Hermeneutical Approach)”. The purpose of his research was to find out the philosophical values of takalai nisobalang dotai lele ruppug dadi nalele tuali di lolangan” based on the interpretation of majene society by using hermeneutical approach. He was analyzes data by using method of descriptive. In his research, he was found that were some values from these chat-word (kalindaqdaq), they were steadiness and pertinacious, hard working, earn the life, died-hard and obstinately, social criticism, knowledge, be responsible mandate and unity.

Rifail (2010: 6) in his thesis, “The Cultural Values of Kalindaqdaq in Mandarese Art”. Kalindaqadaq was a poem of mandarese people. The purpose of his research were to analyze the cultural values of kalindaqdaq in mandarese art in majene regency and to know aspect cultural values that were reflected in the kalindaqdaq expression. He was analyzes data by using descriptive method. In his research, he was found that of can be concluded that kalindaqdaq in mandares art contained of culture values , like; religion, behavior, economy, love, and social system values.

Based on the investigation above, it shows that the first researcher used the same concept that was philosophical values and also it used the same approach that was hermeneutical approach but it was different in terms of the object of the research which he was used verse as his object while the writer used song. In addition. The second researcher, he was used another concept which was the cultural values and the object of the research was poem. But, he was used the same apoproach with the writer that was hermeneutical approach. Therefore, it can be concluded that the similarity with this research was about the concept of philosophical values and the use of the approach that was hermeneutical approach. And the different was there was no research founded that expose the concept of philosophical values which used song in terms of hermeneutical approach.

B. Some expressing ideas

1. Philosophical Aspect

a. Definition of Philosophy

The very meaning of the word philosophy taken from the Greek compound philo (love, happiness) + Sophia (wise) that points at once to a special attitude of a philosopher and her/his objective. According to this etymology, philosophy is a love of wisdom, which means that in combines both cognitive and emotional dimension of our mind. Love is named firstly and it was not knowledge-It was a craving and striving to attain the object of love.

Martin, et al (2002: 173) says that the philosopher Plato describes a variety of ideas, that contains philosophical power of imagination as in the literature, which was not only concerned about the description of the character and environment of his characters, but also deals with the form and content of the conversations and the conversations that are meaningful philosophy. Plato said that philosophy is the sciences that seek achieve a real and pure truth.

b. Definition of value

Value can be defined as broad preferences concerning appropriate courses of action or outcomes. As such, values reflect a person's sense of right and wrong or what "ought" to be. "Equal rights for all", "Excellence deserves admiration", and "People should be treated with respect and dignity" are representative of values. Values tend to influence attitudes and behavior.

According to Chase (1972: 111) defines value as an individual's assumptions of ethical value that can form basis for action. A value system was a set of consistent values and measures. A principle value was a foundation upon which other values and measures of integrity are based.

In line with above, Soekanto (1983: 161), states the values of an abstraction of one's personal experiences with each other and value the general instructions longstanding directing behavior and satisfaction in daily life.

Based on the explanation above, it can be concluded that the value was something good, desirable, idealized, and it was important thing that should be implied for those Bima people, and it shows in folksong wadu ntanda rahi which had value that was beneficial to Bima society.

2. Philosophical values

According to Ricoeur (2005: 521) Philosophical values contained in the folksong was that value includes religious value, Social Values, ethics value, and the aesthetic value. The explain are as follows:

1. The religious values that was include (1) the value of the example which consists of (a) the recognition of the existence of God (monotheist understand islam and understand animism), (b) the recognition of the existence the book of Allah, (c) the recognition of Muhammad's prophet hood and (d) the recognition of the Hereafter and recognition qada and qadar Allah. (2) The value of worship involves (a) prayer, (b) tithe and (c) fasting; while the value of sincerity includes man's relationship with God, relationship with humans himself, and man's relationship with nature.
2. The Social Values an important part of the culture of a society. Humans as a social being that was includes (a) continuing living, (b) survival (c) develop life. Social values, norms and institutions explain the way in which social processes operate in a given society. Values account for the stability of the social order. They provide the general guidelines for conduct. In doing so, they were facilitating social control. Values were the criteria people used in assessing their daily lives, memories, measuring their pleasures and pains.

3. The value of ethic include (1) ethics to the Lord that is includes (a) the love of God, (b) godfearing, (c) faithful to the Lord, (d) with together of the will of God, (e) understanding and appreciation the value of divinity, and (f) practice the values of divined. (2) Ethics to the personal that is include (a) love themselves, (b) respect and self-respect, (c) true to self, (d) with together of the private life, (e) an understanding and appreciation of personal values and (f) practice the values of private life. (3) The ethics of fellow human that was include (a) a love of fellow human beings, (b) respect for fellow human beings, (c) faithful to social life, (d) with together the social life, (e) an understanding and appreciation of the value of social and (f) practice the values of social life. Natural Ethics environment to express love towards.
4. The aesthetic value that is include in terms of content and form. In terms of content, folksongs express mandate that is important in life. In terms of form, concerning the performing arts which comprises (a) an actor, (b) music, (c) tools, (d) costumes, (e) staging) and (f) the audience.

Based on the explanation above, it can be said that the value was a concept that was possess of someone who formulated in the correct form and importance in society. However, the value was something that was always subjective, depending on the man who was that values. Because of its subjective, each person, each group, and each community had its own values.

At each customs traditions and procedures at Bima society certainly had noble values respectively in the life of the maintaining and preserving traditional culture and tradition that was still very viscous performed at weddings and ceremonies. Because bima society to Muslim predominantly then at implementing procedures for the wedding ceremony and is based on Islamic law.

In general, the custom clothing Bima had the values of Islam. Bima custom clothing serves as cover nakedness. In addition to daily wear traditional clothing Bima can function as clothes when praying.

For the bima people farming was a legacy handed down from the ancestors. The meet from needs of life and distance themselves from their work on the fields of poverty moving from one mountain to another mountain. Before to starting from farm their usual deliberation before hand to discuss the division of labor. The man in charge of preparing all the equipment while the women are in charge of preparing food and drink as well as planting in fields that have been till by man.

Based on the explanation above, bima society also made craft of weaving. Mbojo's was a woven fabric typical of the origin at bima area made by the hands of women Bima spare time while waiting for her husband home from work. The origin at bima woven fabric has become a commodity in trading activity in the archipelago. Holsters (Tembe), headbands (sambolo) and belts (weri) are some of the most popular fabrics.

Every Sunday morning at Bima society usually hold horse racing game. Uniquely jockeys in traditional horse racing Bima these are children with a range of about 7-10 years of age. The arrangement of the traditional horse race every year is able to suck up the attention and enthusiasm of people of various circles. moreover, participants who come not only from Bima, but come from other districts beside Bima, like: the city of Dompu, Sumbawa, Lombok there was even a participant from Sumba, East Nusa Tenggara.

Based on the explanation above, the philosophical value Bima society is a shy and afraid of the god. Shy and afraid to do things contrary is the custom, moral and ethics. Because that a philosophical meaning and we should be able to live and practice in all the words spoken or deeds. For example If you want to awaked a household it choose the men and women that is faith, strong, patient and loyalty because that the power and wealth in the wading of the ark households

Rawa was a term which express by Bima society which means song. In general, song means variation of rhythmic sound in the form of talking, singing, reading and so on. In other words, the rawa is defined as a rhythmic sound in the form of songs, both accompanied by musical instruments and without musical instruments. While, Mbojo was the name of the ethnic from Bima which originally consisted of three kingdoms: Sangaji Mbojo, Sangaji kae, and Sangaji Dompu. After joining the unity of the republic of Indonesia region, Mbojo consists of two regencies that are Bima and Dompu. Based on the explanation above, it was known that the name of Rawa Mbojo Wadu Ntanda Rahe means song from Bima language which is singing by Bima society through generation for generations.

Historically, Bima society was very well known about their culture and tradition especially in singing a folksong. For example, in expressing their feelings in certain condition; they usually perform a song which is well known as Rawa Mbojo. Rawa Mbojo's song had become a part of people's life because it was one of the thing which had functioned entertaining in their daily activities such as farming, wedding, playing for children and advicing (Marhumah, 2009: 3).

There was a legend that tells of the loyalty of a wife to her husband finally became a stone, this story comes from Dana Mbojo (Bima). Story of the legend Wadu Ntanda Rahi is believed to be widely available in all corners of Mbojo. The people of Bima believe that is where the story of Wadu Ntanda Rahi. But the essence of the story was only one that is about the loyalty of a wife in wade through the ark married of life. She was became a stone for want to devote his love and loyalty to her husband who had wandered and drowned in the vast ocean. One day a wife who loved her husband, she was went up the hill to see her husband wanders to other land even though. But before she was went up the hill of the many people in his place were forbidding her to get up there but she was did not listen to the advice of those people, instead running his desire to see her husband although many people forbid, she does not care about it all.

The finally she got there of high desire because all this she did was as a sign of devotion and loyalty to her husband. After arrive on the hill she stood tired, anxious, even daydreaming while thinking and looking towards where her husband sailed. she had heard that her husband had died but she still waiting faithfully and one day she asked God to make her to be a stone to show her faithfulness. In the end a wife was transformed into a stone until now. Of that time the people around it gave the name of the stone that is Wadu Ntanda Rahi (The stone is looking for her husband)

3. Definition of folksong

Folksong had been defined in several ways: as music transmitted orally, or as music with unknown composers. It had been contrasted with commercial and classical styles. One meaning often given was that of old songs, with no known composers; another is music that had been transmitted and evolved by a process of oral transmission or performed by custom over a long period of time.

Keller (1984: 34), the folksong were songs of often anonymous origin (or were public domain) that were transmitted orally. They were frequently a major aspect of national or cultural identity. The art song often approach the status of folksong when people forget who the author was. Folksong are also frequently transmitted non-orally (that was, as sheet music), especially in the modern era.

Folksongs are more-or-less in the public domain by definition, though there were many folk song entertainers who publish and record copyrighted original material. This tradition led also to the singer-songwriter style of performing, where an artist has written confessional poetry or personal statements and sings them set to music, most often with guitar accompaniment that they were “as much a necessity as air a necessity because they can unite, and indeed the one sure means of establishing unity in human affairs” (Pitts, 1957: 39).

Based on the explanation above, it can be concluded that Folksong exists in almost every culture. Popular songs may eventually become folk songs by the same process of detachment from its source. The most important thing in this case is that they have had a tradition, that culture has been inherited from generation to generation that they can recognize as a belonging to their own group. In addition, it is also important that they were aware of their own group identity.

4. The Function of folksong

According to Chaer (1986: 5-11) the Function of folksong was a expression to give meaning to a particular condition and information smoothen and communications in a particular society.

In line with above, William (In Dananjaja, 1984: 19) says there are four functions of folksong:

1. As a projection system, which was reflected partially tool a collective delusion.
2. As instrument of ratification institutions and cultural institutions.
3. As an educational tool for children (Pedagogical Device).
4. As a means of coercion and supervisors that the norms of society will always adhered to its collective members.

Ricoeur (1973: 14-129) completes the explanation of the folksong which had fourth functions, namely:

- a) Entertainment is a created based on the desires to create series of beautiful language and melodious sound
- b) Education is the one that can provide lessons about of life, because literarily expresses human values such as found in religion. The values conveyed can be more flexible. In a good song, we will find elements of philosophy and social science.

5. Definition of Hermeneutics

The term hermeneutics comes from the Greek words; hermeneuein, which translated means "interpret", the noun: hermeneia meaning "interpretation". In the ancient Greek tradition hermeneuein words used in three meanings, namely say, explain, and translate. From these three meanings, then the English word expressed with words: to interpret, thus the act of interpretation pointed to three main areas: verbal pronunciation, an oral recitation, a reasonable explanation, and translations from other languages or express.

In dealing with above, Paul Ricoeur (1981: 31) Hermeneutics, a way to understanding, the text at the end, end of the process was the discovery of the meaning or message. Of the scheme appears that the meaning and the message in the hermeneutic interpretation was the most extensive area and the most distant to the text (the artwork as an ontological fact), but remain in the text emitted horizon.

According to Palmer (1969: 283), the hermeneutic word itself had three forms of used, namely: 1) convey; to say; to express; to assert, 2) to explain, 3) to translate; While all three aspects of the form of the use of the word hermeneuein it can actually be represented in the English verb: to interpret (interpretation). But even so, these three forms of the used of the word interpretation of individually formed an independent and significant meaning for interpretation. So, it can be said that interpretation can refer to three different things: verbal delivery, reasonable explanation, and translation. The purpose of the interpretation itself is making something vague, distant, and dark meaning into something clear, close, and can be understood.

Based on the explanation above, it can be said that the hermeneutics was the art of interpretation that can serve as a theory of interpretation, the study of philosophical values and plays as criticism. The interpretation of the text was actually never complete. Thus, every text was always open to be interpreted continuously. The song wadu ntada rahi was a song that was be interpreted in every text of the song.

Bapak Alan Malingi, tinggal di kota bima, pekerjaan DPRD Kabupaten Bima selain kantor Alan Malingi penulis novel yang bersejarah di kota bima, novel yang dirilis dan terkenal sekarang yaitu : haju jati, kawin brontak, wadu ntanda rahi dan masih banyak novel yang tidak saya sebutkan satu persatu.

Maaf pak Alan Malingi atas mengganggu waktu ta pak, maaf juga atas ketidak sopanan nya saya pak, bapak terkenal dengan membuat novel tentang sejarah cerita rakyat. terutama novel mengenai "wadu ntanda rahi". saya desiratnasari dari wera timur. saya mahasiswa dari makassar, kampus uin makassar. saya mengangkat judul "nilai filosofis rawa mbojo "wadu ntanda rahi" pada masyarakat bima. yang mau saya tanyakan pak, apa bapak tahu “ nilai apa saja dalam nyanyian rakyat wadu ntanda rahi pada masyarakat bima” ?

Answer :

Maksudnya tata nilai dalam lagu itu, itu harus dikupas syair lagunya wanita bima itu setia. Jadi nilai filosofisnya sesuai tuntunan islam. bahwa jika ditinggal suami, dia harus mampu menjaga harta benda dan kehormatannya.

➤ Value

Interviewer : Nilai religious apa yang ada dalam lagu “wadu ntanda rahi” ini ?

(What is the religious value from the song “wadu ntanda rahi”?)

Answer : diperkirakan cerita rakyat wadu ntanda rahi telah ada sebelum era islam. Agama yang di anut masyarakat bima kala itu makamba makimbi. Nilai agama dalam kisah wadu ntanda rahi ketaatan pada pencipta alam semestar kejujuran kesetiaan.

kalimat lagu “tapa ndiha ba dou di rasa ba ne’e na lao ta rahina” apakah kalimat diatas mempunyai nilai agama atau tidak karena sebagian besar saya sebagai mahasiswa yang menganalisis lagu kalimat diatas tidak terlalu paham hanya paham sebagian saja, apakah bapak bisa memaknainya ?

wara ku sabua hidi ngarana wadu ntada rahi
tapa ndiha ba dou di rasa ba ne’e na lao ta rahina

teka, teka na doro
ntada, ntada ka lao

ada suatu tempat yang bernama batu yang menatap suami di hadang oleh orang satu kampung karena ingin pergi ke suaminya

naik, naik kebukit

menatap, menatap termenung

Atau

Akan tetapi sebelum dia pergi ke atas bukit banyak orang-orang sekitarnya yang melarang dia untuk pergi. Larangan dan masukan tersebut diabaikan demi menunaikan keinginannya untuk melihat suaminya yang pergi berlayar.

Jadi maksud dalam makna kalimat diatas adalah nyanyian rakyat Wadu Ntanda Rahi rasa cinta yang mendalam adalah taat kepada suami yaitu perempuan yang memiliki rasa pengabdian dan kesetiaan terhadap sang suami.

Makanya dalam kutipan nyanyian rakyat atau kalimat yang bermaksud di atas menurut bapak Alan Malingi pada tanggal 10 april 2017 sudah menjelaskan nyanyian rakyat Wadu Ntanda Rahi adalah nilai agama yang ingin disampaikan pada nyanyian rakyat wadu ntanda rahi adalah salah satu perempuan yang keteguhan imannya layak dijadikan teladan dalam Islam. nilai yang terkandung dalam folksong yang berjudul wadu ntanda rahi juga mengisahkan dimana kesetiaan seorang istri yang setia menanti suaminya yang pergi merantau.
