This thesis discusses the death and loss phenomenon portrayed in an animated movie, Coco. Coco animated movie which released on November 2017, tells a story about two worlds: the world of living and the world of death or also known as the land of the living and the land of the dead which fused into one due to the action of a Mexican boy name Miguel Rivera, the great-great-grandson of Coco. This thesis aims to deconstruct death and loss phenomenon portrayed in Coco movie. This research used descriptive qualitative method in revealing the data. In analyzing the data the researcher used deconstruction theory by Jacques Derrida. As the result of this study, the researcher found that death and loss are two things clearly portrayed in Coco movie. However, the researcher found death and loss in general is sorrowful become pleasant or joyful by using deconstruction theory.

Keywords: Death-loss, Deconstruction, Coco Movie.

CHAPTER I

INTRODUCTION

This chapter discusses the basis of the research. It consists of background, research question, objective of research, significant of research and scope of research.

A. Background

Death is something that it certain and cannot be separated from human life, everyone who lives in this world will die. Death is a scary mystery and an inevitability that ends forever the breath and step of a person's life. Therefore, most of people think that death is a taboo thing to talk about. Death is a catastrophe, a tragedy and a calamity that brings sorrow (Hidayat, 2006).

Death is a reality of life, every human being will experience death. Death means loss, loss the soul from the body, loss the oxygen, loss interaction from the world, from family and from everything. Death can happen to anyone, both old and young, even newborns. It is sunattullah that every living thing will taste die. In the holy Qur'an there are many verses talk about death and one of them is surah Al-Ankabut verse 57.

كُلُّ نَفْسٍ ذَائِقَةُ الْمَوْتِ ثُمَّ إِلَيْنَا تُرْجَعُونَ

Translation: {Every soul must taste a death, then to Us you shall be brought back}

In Ibnu Katsir interpretation explain that death wherever you are, death will surely find you. So be people who are always in obedient to Allah wherever you are, according to what Allah has commanded you for verily this is better for you, because death will inevitably come to you.

Death as part of life is often becomes the theme or driving force of a movie. There are lots of movies that carry the theme of death in its story. The theme of death can be found in all genres of movie, such as in drama genre, comedy genre, action, romantic, documenter, animation genre and many else. Animation is a moving image in the form of a collection objects (images) arranged in an orderly manner following the flow of movement which has been determined for each increment of time that occurs. Animation creates the effect of movement or change within a certain period of time, it can also consider the change of color of an object within a certain period of time (Bustaman, 2001:32-33). Animation movie particularly aimed to children because it tends to depict fantastic and ultimately joyful stories (Jesssica, 2020:112). However that animation movie also enjoyed by adults because the message contained in it can change perspective and human thought.

The theme of death is also present in Coco movie that the researcher would study. Coco is one of animated movie that tell a different story from the stories in animated movie in general. Coco's movie tells the story of two worlds; namely the world of living and the world of death or also known as the land of the living and the land of the dead. Those two worlds are fused into one due to the action of a boy from Mexico name Miguel Rivera. Miguel is twelve years old boy who really wants to be a musician like his idol, Ernesto de la Cruz, a famous musician in his great-great-grandmother era. His dream to be a musician strictly forbidden of his family because his great-great-grandfather in the past left his wife when there is a child to rise, Coco.

In Miguel's family everyone hates music and everyone hates his great-great-grandfather except Coco, Miguel's great-grandmother. Coco in her very old age still waiting for her father return, even though her father faceless photo is displayed on the ofrenda, which indicates that her father already dead. Although music is forbidden in Miguel's family, he has been secretly practicing playing guitar through the Ernesto de la Cruz old film. He practiced to play guitar in the hidden ofrenda room, on the roof of his house until one day his guitar was destroyed by his own grandmother. Miguel loss his prized guitar and it makes him very sad until finally he decided to borrow Ernesto guitar for join music competition because it is Dia de Muertos day (day of the death celebration in Mexico). The guitar is in the museum which located at graveyard. However, when he strum Ernesto guitar strange thing happened, he became invisible to people in the land of living but seen by spirits who lived in the land of dead. Miguel then begun to explore the world of death, he even met with his dead relatives to reveal a big secret that his family had not known.

In Coco movie, the researcher found that death and loss are two things obviously described both in the world of living and in the world of death. However, death and loss in the living world is so painful while death and loss in the land of death is not that painful. From that the researcher interested to analyze this movie use deconstruction theory, a theory which popularized by Jacques

Derrida. So that the researcher raised a title “Death and Loss as Seen in Coco Movie: Deconstruction Analysis”

There are three reasons why the researcher wanted to analyze this movie used deconstruction theory; first, there were many researchers before who analyzed Coco movie but none of them were found to analyze this movie use deconstruction theory. Second, deconstruction theory considered as a capable theory to figure out unseen thing or the thing that people in general do not realize, so the use of deconstruction or the presence of it makes literary works more interesting because this theory capable to reveal literary work from different perspective. The last, it is because the researcher wanted to show that if this movie analyzed using deconstruction, death and loss are painful thing in general but in Coco movie it is present differently. In other word, the researcher wanted to show that death and loss is not that painful or it is a joyful thing through this movie. That is the researcher wanted to reveal in this research.

B. Research Question

Based on the background that has been described above, there is a problem that researcher wants to answer then it arrange into question:

How death and loss are portrayed in Coco movie?

C. Objective of Research

Based on research question above, the objective of this research is to describe the portrayal of death and loss in Coco movie.

D. Significant of Research

This research aims to serve theatrical and practical purposes. Theoretically, the researcher expected to vary the knowledge in literary critic especially in deconstruction theory, in other words, this research help us to understand more deeply about deconstruction theory as one of the interest of literature approach especially for student in English and Literature Department.

Practically, this research teaches us to be more critical in thinking especially when dealing with literary works. This research lead us to be more creative in interpret.

E. Scope of Research

This research focuses on analyzing the text of Coco script movie to find out the binary opposition trough the storyline which built by the author then the researcher reverse/overturn it. This research employs Jacques Derrida's theory.

CHAPTER II

LITERATURE REVIEW

This chapter consists of review of related study and theoretical framework.

A. Review of Related Study

The object material of this research is a script movie written by Adriana Molin entitled “Coco”. Coco movie was chosen by National Board of Review as the Best Animated Movie of 2017 and also categorized the best animated movie at the 90th Academy Award. The Coco movie dominated the world’s Box Office during its release, 2017. There are several researchers have studied about this movie, the previous studies used as a comparison to this research.

The first researcher who has study this movie is Fira (2021), her thesis entitled Semiotic Analysis Representation of family Disharmony in Coco Movie. The focus of her thesis is to describe how the representation of family disharmony portrayed in Coco movie. In her thesis, to describe the focus she used descriptive method with a critical approach in the framework of Ralf Dahrendorf’s Social Conflict Theory and with Roland Barthes’ Semiotic Analysis knife. The result of her thesis shows that there are several representations of family disharmony portrayed in Coco movie. There are representation of; failure of roles in the family, lack of support from family members, fighting and rebellious behavior due to family disharmony and lack of mutual understanding in the family.

The second researcher who also analyze Coco movie is Gloria (2020). The title of her research is Family Value in Coco Film by Walt Disney Picture, the purpose of her research are to identify, classify and analyze the theme in Coco film through the characters, plot and setting. In her research she used primary method and in theory she used theory of family value from Lammana and Riedman (1990) to analyze and describe the family values in Coco film. The result of her research shows that there are three types of family value in Coco film: there are togetherness, stability and loyalty through conflict and the plot. From the research also people can learn that the value in family is important, through the values in the family we can know and understand the meaning of a family.

DESKOMVIS Journal in 2020 also published research about Coco movie, the research is written by Felita and Elda in 2019. The title of the research is Analysis Element of Visualization Death Culture in Animated Film "Coco". The research conducted to understand in depth about the theme and the film visualization and how it affects the film as a whole. In analyzing the researchers used descriptive research method to elaborate the visual element of the film and the data collected from visual sources and some references to analyze the visual symbol in Coco animation movie. From the research it conclude that portrayal of death in film does not always have to be related to the elements commonly associated with death such as the typical gloomy atmosphere from a spectrum of dark colors. The Coco animation film visualization made to celebrate and to respect relatives who had passed away.

Beside object material there is also named object formal in a research and the object formal of this research is deconstruction. There are lots of researchers before have analyzed literary works using deconstruction approach. Such as a research which is done by Fitrah in 2017, her research title is Deconstruction Analysis in Moana Movie. The focus of her research is to deconstruct a binary opposition between the main character and minor character in Moana movie and revealed the other side the characters that have been not important in Moana movie which become important because the minor characters formed a different character in Moana movie and figure out the different character of Moana. Her research use descriptive qualitative method and the researcher use deconstruction theory. In her research she use note taking as the instrument to get the valid data and in finding her research show that every character was equal because the character could not be categorized into the main and minor character. Every character had same roles in building the story in Moana movie. Researcher found that the different character from Moana who was portrayed as a brave woman, she never give up to her mission and a woman like a man; independent woman.

Another researcher who also analyzed literary works using deconstruction theory is done by Rani. The title of her research is An Analysis of Deconstruction toward Three Fairy Tales of Grimms Brothers: Rapunzel, Snow Drop, and Ashputtel. She conducted her research in 2014. The objective of her research is to find out the minor aspects that appear within the text. In conducting her research, she applies a deconstruction theory which popularized by Jacques Derrida: the theory assumed that literature is not monophony. From that perspective, she found the minor text of those three fairy tales and built new understanding; so the meaning of those stories postponed.

Having compared those thesis and journal there are similarities and differences. The similarities and the differences are in the object material and also in the object formal. The three previous findings take Coco movie as the object material of their research and this research also use Coco movie as the object material but different focus. Fira (2021) analyzed Coco movie in her research but she focus on to describe how the representation of family disharmony portrayed in Coco. Gloria (2020) also analyzed Coco movie but the focus is the family value in Coco movie. Felita and Elda (2019) analyzed Coco movie also but their focus on the theme and the film visualization and how it affects the film as a whole. This research also use Coco movie as the object material but different focus from the previous finding. The focus of this research is to describe death and loss as seen in Coco movie using deconstruction.

There are many researchers before take deconstruction as their object formal. Fitri (2017) analyzed her research using deconstruction, but she analyzed Moana movie. Rani (2014) also analyzed her research use deconstruction theory but she analyzed three fairy tales of Grimms brothers. So from that the researcher wants to analyze Coco movie use deconstruction theory because none of them have already discuss about it. The researcher will focus on analyze the text of Coco script movie to find out how death and loss are portrayed in this movie and this research uses deconstruction approach because it offer new point of view about Coco movie.

B. Theoretical Framework

1. Death-Loss

Death-loss is a universal case and a case that is unique to each individual in one's life experience. Death and loss are term which in general means something that is uncomfortable to talk about. According to the existing research people include the topic of death-loss from social life, fell uncomfortable discussing about death-loss and even regard it as a taboo (Girl, 2014 p. 3; Walter 1991, p. 293; Corr 2016; Gellie, Mills, Levinson, Stephenson and Flynn 2015 cited in Miller-Lewis et al. 2020, p. 243). The uncomfortable discussing about death-loss because this condition involves more emotion like sad and anger from the person concerned.

Death means the absence of life. According to Ismail (2009), medically, death can be detected namely marked by cessation of a person's heartbeat. In line with that Santrock (2002) defines death fairly specific, namely the end of certain biological function such as breathing and breathing blood pressure and stiffness of the body, these things are considered quite obvious as sign of death. Meanwhile, death according to Islam is a transition or displacement of the spirits to enter a new life that greater and eternal (Hidayat, 2006).

Loss is an actual or potential situation that can experience by individuals when separate from something that previous existed, either partially or completely or there is a change in life resulting in a feeling of loss (Hidayat 2002). Loss is a condition of an individual being separated from something that previously existed, then become non-existent, either partially or completely (Lys, Joseph, 179). Loss is an experience that has been experienced by everyone individuals in their life span. Since birth, the individual has experience loss and tend to experience it again although in a different form.

Based on the above understanding, the researcher concludes that death is the end of certain biological function, such as respiration and blood pressure and the rigidity of body is due to the detachment of the spirit from the human body. However, loss is a feeling in the individual that results from events to absence of a thing either person or anything that was before there. These events can be in the form of death divorce, accident, natural disaster and others.

2. Deconstruction

Deconstruction is a way of reading text introduced by Jacques Derrida, a French philosopher and literary critic. Deconstruction appeared in the late 1960s and become a major influence on literary studies during the late 1970s (Tyson, 2006, p. 249). It appeared as a critic to the view of structuralism.

Bilik (2020) stated that structuralism is an understanding that assumes all orders in the world are structured. Structuralism departs from language. Language is not just a mean of communication but scientifically language is a sign system that expresses ideas. The sign is the relationship between the signifier and signified. The signifier is a word and signified is concept. For example the word cat marks the concept of fur, has four legs, fish eaters and other concept about the characteristics of the cat. The connection between the word cat and the concept eventually became a sign of cat. Language emphasizes the concept of Difference. Each sign must be different from other sign. For instance a sentence “I have a cat” the word “I” is different from the word “have” the word “have” is different from the word “a” and the word “cat”. That difference must be structured because if not, the meaning will be confused.

The Difference creates meaning, for example white is different because it is contrasted with black, tall looks towering because juxtaposed with short. So the more different, the more meaningful, the more opposition the clearer the meaning. Derrida (in Setyanta, 2015:159-160) state that binary opposition is presenting a different meaning or contradictory meaning and in that meaning there is a dominant position between the two. Binary opposition in structuralism is hierarchical. Hierarchical means that there is a higher or better status. For example white is consider better than black, tall is considered better than short. From this structural language, it finally affects the structural human way of thinking. Style of thinking determines culture and perspective. For instance people always want to have white skin, sharp nose, tall body, rich, perfect and so on and people feel worry if their skin is black, snub nose, short body, poor and so on. This thing makes discriminatory towards people who have lower category. This is the start of Jacques Derrida talking about deconstruction.

The term of deconstruction according to Sehandi (2016:116) is formed from word Destruction which means (defacement, annihilation) and Construction means (arrangement, building). Therefore, deconstruction is defacement of building in literary theory that already exist namely structuralism theory, that is why deconstruction is also known as poststructuralism theory or a theory after structuralism. Meanwhile, according to Lubis (2014:34) the French term of deconstruction is Deconstuire which means to disassemble the machine, but to disassemble the machine to be reassembled. Therefore deconstruction means positive because it disassemble the meaning of the text but does not aim to just disassemble it but to find a new meaning from the text it disassembles.

For Derrida, language is unstable, structure is unstable and meaning is unstable. As said before that signifier is word, okay we agree about that but signified is the concept is not okay. Why? Because logically how do we have concept without word? Is there any in this world without word? Feeling, Love, how someone know that you have feelings for him/her if you don't tell him/her and in conveying it of course you use words. This means that to make feeling exist we need words, even the feeling itself is word F E E L I N G. For Derrida, there is no signified because all are signifiers. For example if we open a dictionary to look up a definition of a word, all we will get is a series of other words. So you always need another signifier that is never complete to explain the word. Not only on dictionary, in the real life as well. Happiness is being beautiful, having lot of money, big houses, lots of cars and so on and there is no final word to explain it. Well this is what Derrida means that meaning is never complete and meaning is never present in its entirety. This is in line with Rohman (2014:4-5) opinion which stated that in deconstruction there is a delay of final meaning in text. Deconstruction shows that the result of previous meaning is not final meaning that cannot change.

Derrida offer difference to disassemble our structured mind. Difference consist two words that is to differ (differentiate) and to defer (delay). These two words describe the nature of meaning. For Derrida meaning is present because difference and the present of meaning always delayed. The difference version of Derrida is not same between the difference version of structuralism. The difference in Derrida's version is not hierarchical but the difference actually explained mutual needs, for instance white exists because black is exists and without black white is not also exists.

In the other hand, defer explain that meaning cannot be present in entirely, totally or completely. As far as we explain meaning to extend that we are trapped in other words to explain it, there is always something missing. Can we imagine that what is truly beautiful is like? White, sharp, slim and so on.

The always-delayed trait explains another concept know as trace. As far as we try to explain the meaning with other series of word, so far we also explore the meaning that is scattered everywhere. By tracing the traces of meaning we also learn what is never revealed, Derrida call it Absence. Absence is our way of displaying meaning that is never shown. This is like reveling black skin is also beautiful, short body is also beautiful and so on. So the presence of absence explains that everything is paradoxical, nothing is completely intact.

In deconstruction theory we will often encounter term of Logos. Logos according to Derrida is a desire to form a single meaning a text, Logos always looks for a stable center of a text so that a final truth is formed. In deconstruction, Derrida deny the existence of Logos in a text because Derrida believes that there is no such absolute or single meaning in a text. (Rany, 2014). Deconstruction is considered successful if the meaning is able to change and make it strange for the readers.

3. Step of Deconstruction

In deconstructing a text, Derrida (1981: 41-42) in his book Position stated that there are two steps to go through. The first step is identify opposition, the second step is determined which side is privileged.

1. Identifying opposition

Deconstruction should “necessarily” operate “from the inside”. According to Derrida in Ozdemir (2014:62) there are two ways of finding from the inside the text, the first way is pointing out the ignored parts of the text and then challenging them and identifying their condition and dealing with the binary opposition used in the text. In other word, if someone wants to deconstruct a text, he should find any significant or essential part that are underestimated or ignored and question those parts in different perspective in order to get different interpretation.

2. Determined which side is privileged

After identifying the opposition existing in text, the next step is determining which side is privileged by revealing how the underestimated marginalized meaning can as well be central. For this phase of reversal is needed in order to subvert the original hierarchic of the first term over the second. But eventually one must realize that this hierarchic is equally unstable and surrender to complete free play of binary opposition in a non-hierarchical.

4. Coco Movie Storyline

Coco is a 2017 American computer animated fantasy movie. It produced by Pixar Animation Studios and released by Walt Disney Pictures. Beside chosen by National Board of Review as the Best Animated Movie in 2017 and categorized the best animated movie at the 90th Academy Award this movie also categorized as the best animated movie at the 2018 Golden Globe.

Coco movie tells about a journey of 12 years boy named Miguel who really wants to be a musician even though his family strictly forbids it. The family forbids Miguel to become a musician it is because of his great-great-grandmother named Imelda who was married a musician man. That musician man left Imelda and his daughter's, Coco, to pursue his career in music and never return back. Since that, music is banished by Imelda and no more music in her family. The left of that musician man makes Imelda starting a shoemaker business to support her family.

Miguel lives with his family, there are elderly Coco his great-grandmother, Abuelita his grandmother and his parents all of them are shoemakers. Miguel's daily activity is shining shoes beside that he is secretly idolizes Ernesto de la Cruz a famous musician in his great-great-grandmother era. He secretly learned to play guitar from Ernesto de la Cruz's old film.

One day on the Day of Dead in the ofrenda Miguel accidentally broke the photo frame of Coco with her mother, Imelda. This accident caused by Dante (a street dog). Miguel found a hidden section of the photo and he saw that there is his great-great-grandfather who is holding Ernesto de la Cruz's guitar he then conclude that Ernesto de la Cruz is his great-great grandfather. He then proudly informs to his family that Ernesto is his great-great grandfather and he plans to go to plaza to join a singing contest because he wants to follow Ernesto career but of course his plans strongly opposed by his family because they hate music, Abuelita destroyed Miguel's guitar.

Miguel sees his guitar shattered and he immediately left. In his sad situation he still thinking of playing music in the plaza. But, he rejected because he does not have a guitar. He tries to borrow guitar but no one wants to borrow him and finally he decided to borrow Ernesto's guitar at mausoleum to use in the singing contest but once he strum it he become invisible to everyone in the plaza or in other word he is invisible to everyone in the land of living. However, he can interact with his skeletal dead relatives in the land of dead who are visiting to the land of the living for holiday. When Miguel meets with his skeletal relatives, they realize that there is one of their family members missed that is Mama Imelda (the mot her of Coco). The skeletal dead relatives then bring Miguel to meet Mama Imelda in the City of skeletal dead. Miguel and his skeletal relatives found Mama Imelda cannot visit the bridge, since her photo removed by Miguel in the ofrenda.

Mama Imelda asks Miguel to come back in the Land of Living to put her photo in the ofrenda, she then gives her blessing to Miguel but in her blessing sentence she adds that Miguel is forbidden to play music. Miguel received that blessing because if not he will become one of the dead, he has to come back before the sunrise but actually he does not agree if Mama Imelda forbids him to play music. When he comes back to Land of Living, he then continue to take the Ernesto's guitar because he wants to play music in Plaza and automatically he comes back to the Land of Dead. Mama Imelda angry, Miguel left and seeks to Ernesto's blessing instead.

Miguel then meets Hector, who declared that he knows Ernesto de la Cruz. Hector wants to help Miguel to meet Ernesto but Miguel must help Hector too to put his photo in the ofrenda. However to meet Ernesto is not easy, they have to join a contest and get a ticket to meet him. Miguel and Hector then go to looking for a guitar to use in contest and they found it from Hector's friend who completely died because no one put his photo in the ofrenda.

Miguel then sing a song in that contest while Hector accompanies him by dancing, when the song finish he suddenly sees his skeletal relatives family looking for him, he then gets away from that contest with Hector. Hector then realize that Miguel has family and he asks Miguel to accept their blessing so that Miguel can come back to the Land of Living to put his photo in the ofrenda but Miguel does not want because he wants the blessing from Ernesto who he thinks his great-great-grandfather. Miguel and Hector are then disappeared.

After disappeared Miguel then plans to meet Ernesto by himself. He got an idea to follow a singing group who wins the contest before and finally he meets Ernesto de la Cruz. When he meets Ernesto, he tells Ernesto that he is Ernesto's great-great-grandson and Ernesto believes it even he feels proud to has a great-great-grandson like Miguel who has a good talent in music. They then do a lot of enjoyable things together. Miguel also tells Ernesto that his family forbids him to play music he feels really sad, hearing that Ernesto asks Miguel to go to his concert to make him happy but Miguel refused because he must go to the Land of Living before sunrise. When Ernesto gives his blessing to Miguel, suddenly Hector comes. Hector for the several times ask Miguel to bring his photo in the ofrenda and when he offered that photo to Miguel, Ernesto takes that photo. Hector then angry to Ernesto and they renew an argument about their partnership in life. Hearing that Miguel realized that when Hector decided to leave and to turn back to his family, Ernesto poisoned him then stole his guitar along with his songs and passing them off as his own to become famous.

The lie of Ernesto finally exposed and to protect his legacy, he hides Hector's photo in his pocket. He then asks his security guards to throw Hector and Miguel into a cenote pit. There, Miguel realized that Hector is his real great-great grandfather not Ernesto de la Cruz and Coco is Hector's daughter.

Not need a long time in cenote, Mama Imelda with her spirit guide (Pevita) comes to rescue Miguel and Hector. Miguel reveals the truth about Hector's death. Mama Imelda and Hector reconcile, and the family goes to Ernesto's concert to take the photo that Ernesto took. In that concert, Ernesto's crimes are exposed to the audience and the audience hates Ernesto until Ernesto crushed by a giant bell for the second time, same manner that he originally dead. However, Hector's photo is lost and Miguel has to come back to the Land of Living before sunrise and asks Coco that her Papa (Hector) really miss her. In the Living of Land Miguel tries to sing "Remember me" song to Coco and fortunately Coco remember her Papa, she then takes out the part of her Papa's photo from drawer and puts that photo in the ofrenda.

One year later, Miguel shows the family ofrenda to his new baby sister, Socorro. In the ofrenda there is also Coco's photo, she passed away. In life Coco collected Hector's letter which prove that Ernesto stole his song and Hector finally rightfully honored. In the Living of Dead Hector and Imelda get along, joining Coco and in the Land of Living Miguel sings and plays for his relatives both living and dead.

CHAPTER III

RESEARCH METHODOLOGY

This chapter described the method applied, object of research, and the instrument used. Additionally, the data collection procedure, the procedure and technique of data analysis were covered too.

A. Method of Research

In order to discover how death and loss are portrayed in Coco movie, this research uses descriptive qualitative method. According to Nassaji (2015:129) descriptive qualitative method is design to portray the information in more detail and in a broader sentence explanation. Further explained by Aminuddin (190:16) the descriptive qualitative method intends in analyzing the form of the description and not in number or a coefficient of relationship between variables. For addition Sugiyono (2010) add that qualitative research means collecting data in the form of word rather in number.

Data in this research collected in the form of sentence which contained in Coco script movie that indicate death and loss phenomenon and used deconstruction theory by Jacques Derrida.

B. Object of Research

The object of this research divided into two kinds that are material and formal object. The material object is the script of Coco movie which is original story by Lee Unkrich, Jason Katz, Matthew Aldrich and Adrian Molina. This movie was scripted by Adrian Molina and Matthew Aldrich. This script movie consists of 130 pages. This movie was release for the first time on October 20, 2017 during the Morelia international Film Festival in Morelia, Mexico.

Formal object of this research discuss about how death ad loss as seen in Coco script movie. The researcher used deconstruction theory that is popularized by Jacques Derrida.

Beside material and formal object this research also has primary and secondary data.

1. Primary data

Primary data of this research is all text in Coco script movie which indicate death and loss phenomenon.

2. Secondary data.

The secondary data include book, thesis, journal and any other sources from internet that has relation between the title and the topic of this research.

C. Research Instrument

In this research, the instrument is the researcher herself. The researcher interpreted the movie and takes a note in the scenario and finds the portrayal of death and loss phenomenon. The use of note taking of this research is in order to get and analyze the data. According to Makany (2009:619) note taking is the practice of recording information from other sources, in other word by taking note the writer records the essence of the information and freeing their mind from having recall everything. The note taking in this research uses pieces of paper to classify the death and loss phenomenon which found in Coco script movie.

D. The Procedure of Data Collection

In collecting the data, the researcher does several steps below:

1. The researcher watched the Coco movie in several times so that the researcher could understand the storyline of the movie perfectly.
2. The researcher read the script of Coco movie as the main data source in this research.
3. The researcher identified the death and loss phenomenon which is found in Coco movie script.
4. Then the researcher concluded it as a certain data of the research.

E. The Procedure of Data Analysis

The researcher focuses in all text in Coco movie script to find the answer of the research problem. Procedure and technique that the researcher has taken are:

1. Applying the theory to answer research question and
2. Drawing the conclusion based on the result analysis.

F. Technique of Data Analysis

The researcher analyzed the data of death and loss phenomenon found in Coco movie script. Furthermore the researcher used deconstruction by Jacques Derrida to deconstruct death and loss phenomenon in Coco movie script. There are two steps in deconstruction theory from Derrida's perspective as follows: Identifying opposition and determined which side is privileged then reverse or overturn it.

CHAPTER IV

FINDING AND DISCUSSION

The researcher analyzed the phenomenon of death and loss in Coco movie. The researcher used Jacques Derrida's deconstruction in analyzing death and loss phenomenon to reveal the opposition from what the researcher had shown in the research.

A. Finding

This part presents the result of data analysis. Based on the movie through the storyline, the researcher found the binary opposition in coco movie script which is Death and loss are painful vs Death and loss are joyful. In this finding section the researcher showed several data that is proved the binary opposition about how death and loss as a painful in the land of the living versus how death and loss as joyful in the land of dead. The researcher used the term Datum towards explaining that binary opposition. There are 14 datum here and will be explain in the discussion section.

The following are the datum of the binary opposition that the researcher found:

Death and loss are painful (In the land of living)

Datum 1: Papa leaves Coco

Miguel : See a long time ago there was this family.
(The images on the papel picado come to life to illustrate a father, a mother, and a little girl. The family is happy).

Miguel : The papá, he was a musician.

Miguel : *He and his family would sing, and dance, and count their blessings. But he also had a dream... to play for the world. And one day he left with his guitar... and never returned. (00:01:35-00:01:41, P.1).
(The man walks down a road, guitar slung on his back. In another vignette his daughter stands in the doorway, watching her papá leave. Two feet step up next to her. It is her mamá, hardened).*

In this scene, Miguel is trying to tell the history of his great-great grandmother's childhood, Coco. When Coco still toddler, she was being left of her Papa because her Papa wanted to play music for the world but he never returned back. The left of Papa makes Coco feels so sad. The sadness of Coco can be seen when her father stepped up to leave, little Coco chased after him with three steps and Coco's hand wanted to reach her father from behind but her father just walk away. After that little Coco just stood and silent in the doorway with a gloomy and sad face watching her Papa leave. Her lips curved downward as well as her eyebrows, furrowed. She feels so sad because losing a father figure that she loves so much is so painful.

Datum 2: Ernesto de la Cruz was hit by a giant bell

Miguel : I know I'm not supposed to love music -- but it's not my fault! It's his: Ernesto de la Cruz. The greatest musician of all time.

Miguel : He started out a total nobody from Santa Cecilia, like me. But when he played music, he made people fall in love with him. He starred in movies. He had the coolest guitar... He could fly! And he wrote the best songs! But my all-time favorite? It's—

(A CLIP of de la Cruz performing in a fancy nightclub)

Ernesto de la Cruz : (singing).... REMEMBER ME THOUGH I HAVE TO SAY GOODBYE. REMEMBER ME....

Miguel : *He lived the kind of life you dream about... Until 1942..
(As the audience swoons over de la Cruz, an absent-minded stagehand leans on a lever. Ropes and pulleys go flying).*

Ernesto de la Cruz : ....UNTIL YOU ARE IN MY ARMS AGAIN. REMEMBER ME.

(De la Cruz is subsequently crushed by a giant bell)
Miguel : When he was crushed by a giant bell. (0:06:02-0:06:18, P. 7-9)

The death of Ernesto de la Cruz in the land of the living makes everyone feels sorrowful. It is obviously described when he was crushed by a giant bell in his spectacular concert in 1942. At first, when he was singing, everyone in the concert was very happy. This can be seen from their wide smiling faces and sparkling eyes as if this was a sign of how amazed they were by Ernesto de la Cruz's performance. But all the smiles and sparkling eyes went out and turned into silent lips and bulging eyes because they were shocked and sad when Ernesto was accidently hit by a giant bell. Everyone sad of Ernesto death, this is because Ernesto has many talents when he was alive. He could play guitar, play in movies, wrote the best song and he could sing songs beautifully. Those things makes people fall in love with him and that is why when he was crushed by a giant bell everybody feels so painful about that.

Datum 3: Mama Coco remember her Papa

Abuelita : ...I don't want to see you end up like-- (Abuelita looks up the photo of the faceless musician)
Miguel : Like Mama Coco's papa?
Abuelita : Never mention that man! He's better of forgotten.
Miguel : But you are the one who—
Abuelita : Ta,ta,ta-tch!
Miguel : I was just—
Abuelita : Tch-tch!
Miguel : But—
Abuelita : Tch!
Miguel : I—
Abuelita : Tch-tch!
Mama Coco : Papa?
(They look to find Mama Coco agitated)
Mama Coco : Papa is home...?
Abuelita : Mama, calmese, calmese.

Mama Coco : Papa is coming home?
Abuelita : No Mama. It's okay, I am here. (0:10:30-0:10:51, P.16-17)

The left of Coco's Papa makes family member hate him because there was a child to rise when he was left, that was little Coco. However, Miguel and Coco do not same like the other family. Mama Coco herself known as a senile woman but until in her old age she still remembered her Papa. This is happened when Miguel and Abuelita had an argued and talked about Papa, at the same time Mama Coco asking for him in three times. Mama Coco asked if her Papa is already at home. Mama Coco asked about her Papa with sadness. Her hands trembled when mention her father, her voice low and as if full of hope that her father was home. Her eyes almost filled with tears, her eyebrows furrowed and there was no smile on her lips at all as if to illustrate that losing her father was something that very painful for her. She misses her Papa so much because she lost him since in her childhood. She feels so pain about it.

Datum 4: For the second time Mama Coco asks about her Papa.

Miguel : Dante! No, Dante, Stop!
(Miguel pulls the dog away from the ofrenda, but the table shakes. The frame with Mama Imelda's photo sways back and forth, then topples to the ground with a sickening crack).

Miguel : No, no, no, no, no! No...
(Miguel picks up the old photo of Mama Imelda, which unfolds to reveal another portion, hidden all these years; the man with no face is revealed to be holding a familiar skull-guitar).

Miguel : De la Cruz's guitar?

Mama Coco : Papa?

(Miguel's eyes go wide as the connection down on him. Could it possibly be true?)

Miguel : Mama Coco, is your papa...Ernesto de la Cruz?

Mama Coco : Papa! Papa! (0:16:00-0:16:42, P. 23-24)

Datum 5: Miguel losses his prized guitar

Abuelita : You want to end up like that man? Forgotten? Left of your family's ofrenda?!

Miguel : I don't care if I am on some stupid ofrenda!

(Gaps from the family. Abuelita borrows hardens. She lifts the guitar in the air).

Miguel : No!

Papa : Mama...

(Abuelia smash it to bits!)

Abuelita : No guitar, no music. (softening). Come you will feel better after you eat with your family

(She reaches out to comfort Miguel, but he is hurt beyond repair)

Miguel : I don't wanna be in this family

Papa : Miguel! MIGUEL! (0:17:48-0:18:20, P. 26-27)

After concluded that Ernesto de la Cruz is Mama Coco's Papa, Miguel proudly announced it to his family. He wants to be like him, be the greatest musician of the world. However, his Abuelita and his parents strongly disagree because music is forbidden in their family since Coco's father left her with her Mama for playing music in the past.

Despite the strong rejection of his family to play music, he keeps trying to play guitar in front of his family until it invites Abuelita's anger and at the end Abuelita destroys Miguel's guitar. The prized guitar that Miguel had been playing in secret all this time was smashed into pieces. Losing that guitar left Miguel devastated and very sad. As he ran away he wiped away his tears. He runs and leaves his family.

Datum 6: The loss of Miguel in the graveyard

Mama : Miguel!
(Miguel turns to see Papa and Mama still searching for him).
Miguel : Mama!
Papa : Miguel! Come home!
(He reaches for his parents, but goes straight through them).
Papa : Where are you Miguel? (0:22:18-0:22:24 P.30)

Miguel who left his family with a broken heart because his guitar was destroyed by his Abuelita, find an idea to join a singing contest in the plaza by borrow Ernesto de la Cruz guitar in museum which located in graveyard because in the plaza no one wants to borrow him a guitar.

But strangely when Miguel tried to strum Ernesto's guitar he became invisible to the people around the museum. The museum guard did not see him nor did the people around the museum, including his mother and father who are sad because they are looking for Miguel who left the house and has not return yet until night. Miguel's parents shouted his name for several times and looking from left to right or right to left with a sense of anxiety and worry which is indicated by their voice. They asked Miguel to go home but no result. They feel pain because losing Miguel.

Death and loss are joyful (In the land of the dead)

Datum 7: Miguel leaves his dead family happily

Mama Imelda : Don't make this hard, miijo. You go home my way, or no way.

Miguel : You really hate music that much?

Mama Imelda : I will not let you go down the same path he did.

Miguel : The same path he did. He's family...

Tia Victoria : Listen to your Mamá Imelda.

Tio Oscar : She's just looking out for you.

Tia Rosita : Be reasonable.

(Miguel starts back toward the door).

Miguel : Con permiso (excuse me), I... need to visit the restroom. Be right back!

(Miguel sees himself out. The family waits for a beat).

There is a moment in the land of the dead Miguel leaves his dead family with happy feeling or he loses his dead relatives but does not feel sad. After he became unseen by living people in the graveyard, he successfully entered the land of dead. In the land of dead he met with his dead relatives including Mama Imelda, Coco's mother. Mama Imelda asked Miguel to put her photo back that Miguel took from the ofrenda in the land of living with condition that Miguel is forbidden to play music again. At first Miguel accepted it with unhappy feeling then when he arrived in the land of the living he took Ernesto's guitar again and automatically it brings him to come back in the land of the dead.

Mama Imelda then angry, it is because Miguel does not want to stop to play music. She just does not want Miguel to end up like her husband, being forgotten by no one put his photo in the ofrenda because he left his family and never return back. However Miguel does not want to stop playing music, he finally leaves his dead relatives happily. He left his dead family with the excuse of looking for a bathroom, he asked permission while closing the door then ran down the stairs he ran in a hurry then hid behind the stairs occasionally seeing his family up the stairs looking for him. His eyeballs enlarged. He then covered his head with his hoodie and walked with enthusiasm because he wanted to find de la Cruz's blessing for come back to the land of the leaving and playing music again. He left his dead relatives with no sadness, he even eagerly went to look for Ernesto's blessing.

Canned loop : Welcome back to the land of the dead. Please have all offerings ready for re-entry. We hope you enjoy your holiday!
(Miguel and family get into the line for RE-ENTRY, along with other skeletons returning from the Land of the Living. Nearby, skeletons exit the Land of the Dead through a gate marked DEPARTURES. Miguel watches).

Departure agent: Next family, please!ppppp
(An ELDERLY COUPLE steps in front of a camera-mounted monitor. The monitor scans their faces and returns an image of their photos on an altar in the Land of the Living).

Elderly couple: Gracias (thankyou).

Canned loop : ...and remember to return before sunrise. Enjoy your visit!

***

Miguel : Huh?

Frida : He does a couple of songs, the sun rises, everyone cheers—

Miguel : Excuse me, where’s the real de la Cruz?

Frida : Ernesto doesn’t do rehearsals. He’s too busy hosting that fancy party at the top of his tower. (0:39:57-0:40:08, P. 54-59)

On way for looking Ernesto de la Cruz, Miguel meets Hector. Hector is a skeleton who cannot enjoy Dia de Muertos day because no one put his photo on the ofrenda so that he cannot visit his living family in the land of the living.

Still in the rehearsal building, Hector meets Gustavo and other musician. Hector asks Gustavo about Ernesto's concert. Gustavo answer is if they want to see Ernesto de la Cruz, they have to join music competition to get a hot ticket. The one who win will get that ticket and get chance to meet Ernesto directly. Gustavo explains it to Miguel and Hector but at the end of his words he mocks Hector as Chorizo. He said that Hector death was caused by Chorizo's coke. Hector denied it and it invites the other musician to laugh. He tries to explain that he did not coke but got food poisoning which is a big different, but the more he explained the more people laughed.

Old Tias : Muchas gracias!(thank you)
Hector : Hey, hey! Save some for me! Is Chicharron around?
Tia Chelo : In the bungalow. I don't know if he's in the mood for visitors...
Hector : Who doesn't like a visit from cousin Hector? (0:42:52-0:43:07 P. 63-64)

After heard from Gustavo that there will be music competition to get hot ticket and meet Ernesto, Miguel and Hector headed to Chiccaron's place (Hector's friend) to get a guitar. That place looks so shabby because the spirit who live there are the spirits who do not have photo on the ofrenda in the land of living and they almost forgotten, they almost face the final dead. But even so, those spirits look still enjoying their live. When Hector comes, Tia Chelo enthusiastically called Hector's name in a high excited voice and so does the other old ladies. Hector did the same way. He was jumping up and down, taking off his hat and calling Tia Chelo excitedly. The three old ladies are so happy when Hector came. They play card and Hector poured drink into their glasses while saying “hey hey save some for me” and it invites their laugh.

De la Cruz : It has been an honor. I am sorry to see you go, Miguel. I hope you die very soon. You know what I mean. (1:03:39-1:04:13, P. 89-90)

Miguel had performance, suddenly his family come and looking for him.

He runs away and separate from Hector and his family because he does not want blessing from Mama Imelda. He then tries to look for Ernesto without Hector's help. He meets with the winner of the concert competition, with the hot ticket he ask for help to take him to the Ernesto fancy building and finally he meets with Ernesto de la Cruz.

There are many fun things Miguel did with Ernesto in the land of the dead. They sing together, act like Ernesto's movie in life, share laugh, explain all of stuff that Ernesto has from his fans in the land of living and Ernesto even asks Miguel to come to his "Sunrise Spectacular" show and Miguel will be Ernesto's guest of honor. However, Miguel cannot do that because he has to come back to the land of the living before sunrise because if not he will be skeleton. So Ernesto give blessing to Miguel and say "I am sorry to see you go Miguel, I hope die vary soon". Ernesto hope that Miguel will die very soon, it is because being in the land of the dead is a fun one.

When Ernesto gave that blessing, suddenly Hector came and begging to Miguel for brings his photo on the land of living. Miguel accepted that but Ernesto did not. Ernesto takes the photo, hector then angry. They renew about their partnership in life. Miguel then knows that Ernesto steal Hector's song that made him famous and he murdered Hector. In order to protect his popularity, Ernesto throws Miguel with Hector in to a cave pit. Fortunately, Mama Imelda and her spirit guide found them. They finally come to Ernesto's Sunrise Spectacular to take Hector's photo. In the concert Ernesto for the second time throws Miguel out of the tall building, the audience saw Ernesto's crime on the stage. Fortunately, Pevita catches Miguel and then she attacks Ernesto. Pevita throws Ernesto in to a giant bell. He then faces the second die and it makes all the audiences cheered and clapped they are all happy on Ernesto death.

B. Discussion

In this section the researcher discussed about the binary opposition that is showed in finding section in other word the researcher decided which one of that binary opposition is privilege.

In finding the researcher has shown that the binary opposition found in Coco movie is Death and loss are painful vs Death and loss are joyful. Death and loss are painful is occupy highest position while Death and loss are joyful occupy lower position. Death and loss are painful occupy highest position because that is what people agree in society, death and loss are two things that can make people sad or sorrowful, depress, angry and many more. This is in line with Zilberfein (1999) opinion which stated that when face death or loss the people we love, different emotion come into play. Upon the occurrence of death, sadness is a common reaction. As a person tries to adjust to life without the person they care about, depression may take hold. Anger is another emotion commonly by those who are face death and loss. As one the lives with the loss, they become scared, lonely and confused (Gard, 2000). In Islam, remember death will cause worry feeling because we are heading to the land of death which is eternal and it is stated in Baihaqi hadith “often remember the breaker of all pleasure, namely death.....” (HR. Baihaqi, Ibnu Hibban and Bazzar, validated by Syeikh Al-Albani in Shahih al-Jami, hadith number 1222). In that hadith stated that death is a breaker of pleasure, it means death make people feel sad because the people who die will loss the pleasure of this world.

Feeling like sadness and anger because of death and loss of someone we love or a thing we like is also occurred in Coco movie. There are six datum in finding section that the researcher showed. The first datum until the sixth datum in finding section shows that death and loss is painful. Coco's father left her with her Mama when she was toddler because her Papa wanted to play music for the world and he never return back (D1), Ernesto de la Cruz die because was hit by a giant bell (D2), Mama Coco remembered her Papa (D3), For the second time Mama Coco ask about her Papa (D4), Miguel losses his prized guitar (D5) and the loss of Miguel in the graveyard (D6).

Those all datum shows that death and loss are something painful to experience. The left of Coco's papa makes her feels lonely until in her old age, the death of Ernesto make his fans feel sorrow, when Coco heard Miguel and Abuelita talk about her papa she felt sad and that is people common reaction when they being left of their loved ones, the loss of Miguel's guitar make him so sad and also when Miguel loss in graveyard his parents also feel sorrowful.

In the other side, death and loss are joyful things is occupy low position because in general it is impossible that those two things are pleasant things. Where ever you go in this world no one would say that death and loss are two pleasant things, because those two things are capable to make people cry, angry, lonely, sorrowful even depress. However in this research, the researcher reversed that binary opposition or overturned it by deconstruction theory as what Derrida (1981:42) explained in his book that there are two steps to go through when deconstructing text. The first is to identify the opposition, second is to decide which one is privilege then reverse or overturn it.

The first privilege of the binary opposition is death and loss are painful because it is occupy the highest position which means dominant while death and loss are joyful things is the marginal one because it is occupy the lower position. However, through deconstruction and its steps the lower position become the highest position. In other word, death and loss are joyful become the privilege one, not in lower position anymore. The proof is by the data which shows in finding section. There are eight datum in Coco movie which portrayed death and loss are joyful things. It is start from datum seven to datum fourteen. In land of the dead, Miguel leaves his dead family happily (D7), Every skeleton happy for Dia de Muertos (8) The concert of Ernesto skeleton makes everyone happy (D9), The skeleton crowd laughs because of Hector (D10). Three old ladies skeleton playing card happily in around a wooden crate (D11), the music competition in the land of dead makes everyone cheers (D12), Ernesto gives blessing to Miguel whit the end of sentence “I hope you die very soon” (D13), All audience happy when Ernesto die for the second time (D14).

Apart from datum seven to datum fourteen in Coco movie which state that death is joyful thing, there is a new study claim that people do not actually fear to death because it is actually fun. A new study at Western University Canada and the University of Liege conclude that death is generally a positive experience and feels like euphoria or happiness. The study used text mining (text mining is the process of exploring and analyzing large amount of unstructured data text assisted by software that can identify concept patterns, topic, keywords and other attributes in data) and artificial intelligence to analyze NDE (Near Death Experience) description of 158 patients, selecting keyword about the process. Positive word such as “light” (67 percent) and “good” (65 percent) appeared the most frequently compared to “fear” report by 24 percent of respondent and dead reported by 18 percent of respondent. The study found that most people who had Near Death Experience (NDEs) had pleasure feeling so strong that make them do not want to come back to life (Zuhri, 2020).

In Islam also there are many verses and hadiths which state that death is better or the land of dead is better than the land of living. One of them is Surah Gafir verse 39: يَقَوْمِ إِنَّمَا هُذِهِ الْحَيَاةُ الدُّنْيَا مَتَاعٌ وَإِنَّ الْآخِرَةَ هِيَ دَارُ الْقَرَارِ, the translation is “O my people! The life of this world is only a (temporary) pleasure and indeed the Hereafter is an eternal land”. Brief interpretation of the Ministry of Religion of Republic Indonesia: O my people! Indeed, the life of this mortal world is only a temporary pleasure that is easy to get and easy to disappear and indeed the Hereafter is a land that never and last forever. Addition, one of hadith which state that death is better because death is rest for the believers, from Abu Qatadah bin Rib'i al-Ansari, he narrated that there was a corpse that passed through Rasulullah Saw, so he said, “The one who rests, and the one who is rested from it” they (the companion) asked “O Messenger of Allah, what (means) the one who rest, and the one who is rested from it?” He replied, “A believer servant rest from the exhaustion and distraction of the world towards Allah. As for the poor (evil) servant, many people, the earth, trees and animal rest from it. [HR. Bukhari and Muslim]

In Mexico itself, death is celebrated by people who are still alive. Day of the Death or which know as Dia de Muertos take place in late October and early November Mexico, the living remember and honor those who have died but with celebration not sorrow. This celebration day takes two days in a year. According to Andres Medina, a researcher at the Anthropological Research Institute of National Autonomous University of Mexico, no one knows when the first Day of dead celebrations took place but the culture is rooted in agricultural-related beliefs from pre-Hispanic Mexico. In Dia de Muertos day, adult and children alike dressed as skull and took pictures, capturing the yearly celebration full of joy. It is believed that in the Day of Dead or Dia de Muertos they can communicate with their deceased loved ones (Edwin in Kompas.Tv, 2022). That is what depicted in Coco Movie, because actually Coco movie is the picture of Mexican culture. Darla K. Anderson as the producer of Coco movie when get called from Kumparan team stated that Coco is the result of the hard work of the entire team in it. This movie has been production since 2011 with several researches in Mexico until finally in 2017 it can release, she continued that this movie is really interesting in filmmaking because we learn a lot of culture, holiday and this film has its own way of conveying a good message (Kumparan.com).

The research which done by Felita and Elda in 2019 also found that in Coco movie the portrayed of death in a film does not always have to be related to the elements commonly associated with death such as the typical gloomy atmosphere from a spectrum of dark colors. The Coco animation film visualization made to celebrate and to respect relatives who had passed away. In Coco movie everything looks so stunning, colorful even though the story is about death and loss.

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSSION AND SUGGESTION

The conclusion made based on the formulation of research question, while the suggestion expected to provide knowledge to the next researchers who interested in farther work in this field.

A. Conclusion

After analyzing the data, the researcher concludes the result of this research that, in Coco movie death and loss are clearly portrayed both in the land of living and in the land of death. The researcher found the binary opposition in this movie that is death and loss are painful versus death and loss are joyful. Death and loss are painful at fist as the privilege or the dominant meaning while death and loss are joyful as the marginal one or occupy low position. However after the researcher deconstruct it by using the steps of deconstruction Derrida, the researcher found that death and loss are joyful which occupy low position at first successfully occupy higher position with the data that researcher found in finding section.

So from that the researcher concludes that death and loss is not always sorrow or painful because in Coco movie it is clearly portrayed that death and loss is joyful. In Coco movie death and loss in the land of dead makes people happy, no one sad about it.

B. Suggestion

Based on the conclusion above, the researcher would like to give several suggestions:

1. The researcher suggests for the next researcher who will make the similar research about deconstruction can use the other topic to be analyzed.
2. The researcher recommends that the readers can analyze other types of literary work such as poem, song, novel, folklore, folktales etc.
3. The researcher hopes that through this thesis, the reader will able to learn how to apply critical reading using deconstruction theory so that the reader will see other perspective in a literary work.
4. Finally the researcher suggests for the students of English and Literature department could analyze the other aspect of literary work by using deconstruction. So, the other are able to know other aspect of deconstruction represented in literary work.

Gustavo : (to Miguel, re: Héctor) Oh, this guy's famous! Go on, go on, ask him how he died!

Hector : I don't want to talk about it.

Gustavo : He choked on some CHORIZO! (The musicians laugh. Miguel tries to stifle a giggle).
