The Title   : "The Problems Faced by the First Year Students of Madrasah Tsanawiyah DDI Kanang in Using Question Tags"

The thesis presented research about the problems faced the students of MTs DDI Kanang in using Question Tags.

There are two problems statements of this research namely (1) to what extents can the first year students of Madrasah Tsanawiyah DDI Kanang in use Question Tag? (2) What problems faced by the students Madrasah Tsanawiyah DDI Kanang in using Question Tags?

In connection with the problems mentioned the writer designs the research to find out the problems faced by the first year students of MTs DDI Kanang in using Question Tags. The problems cover the following: (1) whether the first year students of MTs DDI Kanang can use question Tags. (2) Whether there are some factors hampering the first year students of MTs DDI Kanang in using Question tags.

To answer the problems statements which are relevant to the objective of the research, the writer applied descriptive method and basic statistical percentage analysis and collected data by using two kinds of instruments, namely objective test which were tabulated and analyzed into percentage. The population of the research was the first year students of MTs DDI Kanang, and the writer used randomly sampling.

The result of this research finally showed that (1) the students' problems in using Question Tag is 3. 73 it was classified as poor (2) The problems can hamper the students in Question Tag are lack of exercises in the use Question Tag, it is caused by the low competence of the students.

CHAPTER I

INTRODUCTION

A. Background

Grammar is one of the most important aspects that we have to know in learning English although not all people who speak and write English know about English know about grammar very well. If you asked they about the rules of English grammar or even they know nothing about that. The reason is people want to use their language easily and naturally. It means that they fell comfortable with their way of talking with their accents that make other laugh because the sound of their speaking is funny. Another reason is related to the effective strategy. A leaner may be lazy to learn grammar because he/she does not have motivation in leaning it so when teacher grammar, a learner does not pay attention or plays truant of class. As the result she/he knows nothing about grammar at all.

Denies and Daniels (1991) stated that studying grammar help one to become a more effective reader, writer, and speaker. Brewton (1962) said that grammar can help the students to improve the use of formal English. If the students have better knowledge of grammar, they feel confident when speaking and writing.

Question tag is one of the elements of grammar that has been taught in high school. Based on 1994 curriculum, Question tag is taught as the part of language focus in the first year. It not can be denied that the form of Question tag is frequently used in speaking or writing English. Sometimes we use Question tag to make an agreement of confirmation to students. We also use Question tag to make sure that our friends will not break his/her promise, in other word Question tag is used to strengthen our statement. Related to this statement it is clear that Question tag plays an important role in English usage.

At present, many students still find difficulties in using Question tag as Kasmudjianto (1984) describes that the students of the third year of SMA TRI DHARMA MKGR Ujung Pandang had low ability in using "Question tags' and yes/no Question". Their mean score is only 3.47 which are classified as "very fair".

Indo Ako (1991) also presents the data analysis indicated that the average score of students' ability of the SMA V11 Ujung Pandang in using Question tags can be related with the score "s" (five). In this case the average score of their ability in using Question tags in English is below the mean score. The mean score is "6" six". It is considered that students still have low ability in using Question tags.

Students need to be aware of this, just as they need to be aware of all language possibilities. Such awareness does not mean that they have to be taught each variation and linguistic twist, however. It is just means that they have to be aware of language and how it is used. The teacher should prepare to use a variety of techniques to help the students to learn and acquire grammar (question tag) sometimes this involves teaching grammar rules, sometimes it means allowing students to discover the rules for themselves (Harmer, 1991: 23).

Considering the above statement, the researcher would like to conduct a research entitled" The problems faced by the first year students of MTs. DDI Kanang in using Question Tags.

B. Problem Statement

1. To what extent can the first year students of MTs. DDI Kanang use Question Tags?

2. What factors do the first year students of MTs. DDI Kanang face in using Question Tags?

C. The Objective of the Research

1. To find out to what the extent the first year students of MTs. DDI Kanang in using Question Tag

2. To find out factors hampering the first year students of MTs. DDI Kanang in using Question Tags

D. The Significance of the Research

The result of the research is expected to be useful information for the English teacher to find out an effective way in teaching question tags and valuable and information for people who want to make further study of the research in relation to the subject matters.

E. Scope of the Research

      Question tags can not be separated from the use of the tense. Therefore, the scope of this research is limited only to the use of question tags in simple present tense, simple past tense, present perfect, future tense, and modal auxiliaries that stated in the curriculum and some factors because the students have problems.

CHAPTER II

REVIEW OF RELATED LITERATURE

This chapter deals with the previous related findings, definition of Question tags, form of question tag, the use of question tag, and intonation question tag.

A. Previous Related Research findings

The researches have reported to expose the identification of the students in using Question Tag, and ability to use Question Tags, the researches are cited briefly below:

1. Syarifah saleh (1999) says that problems faced by the students of SMP LPP YBW- UMI Ujung Pandang are "almost moderate".
   It is evident of the mean score of male students is 4. 6 but female is 5.1

2. Rosmaniar (1998) says that the students to use Question tag of the third grade students of SLTP 2 kajang is low, the student's mean score is 4.75

3. Yanti B (2008) says that the students' ability to use question tag of SMK Muhammadiyah 1 Bontoala Makassar is fairly good. It is analyzed by the mean score 6.80. The fairly good score was achieved by the students because their lack understanding and have low mastery on Question tags.

B. Definition of Question Tags

A question tag is another type of yes/no question which conveys positive or negative orientation and is appended to a statement. As it is stated by Wardiman that a question tag is a rather like a replay question it is made auxiliary verb + personal, pronoun. It is used at the end of a sentence, to ask for confirmation of something, we are not sure about, or to ask agreement. (Wardiman, 1984: 1984: 31)

Question tag is expression like isn't it? Or don't you? (Consisting of auxiliary verb + pronoun subject) put on to the end of a sentence. (Swan, 1980)

Tags are short addition to sentence, asking for agreement or confirmation (Thompson and Martinet: 1979)

Kon (1997:193) State that Question tags are words added to a statement to confirm the statement or to attract people attention to the statement. Though Question tags require the hearer's opinion, the speaker actually assumes that his hearer will agree about what he is talking. Question tags are used in a confirmation with friends or in correspondence with friends.

Azar (1981) state that a tag question added at the of a sentence. The speaker uses tag question tags chiefly to make sure their information is correct to seek agreement.

When we make a statement and ending with Question Tags in order that the Listener is gives us his emphasis is call1ed tag Question. (Suryadi, 1996: 343).

All the definition above, tell use the question tag is used at the end of the Statement to indicate that the speaker is confident that the listener will agree with Her statement. The polarity of the tag is usually reverse of that found in main clause takes a positive tag.

Example:

1. She is buying a pen, isn't she?

2. She is not buying a pen, is he?

C. Form of Question tags

In general, there are several forms of question tags:

a. If the statement part of the question is positive, the question part is negative. (Frank, 1972).

Example:

1. He is very clever, isn't he?

2. You are a teacher, aren't you?

3. You know the bad news, don't you?

4. You will stay to test, won't you?

5. They have gone, haven't they?

6. She is beautiful, isn't she?

b. If the statement part is negative, the question part is positive (Frank, 1972).

Example:

1. He isn't at home, is he?

2. You aren't angry with me, are you?

3. You don't know the bad news, do you?

c. If the main clause has an auxiliary verb, the question tag has the same auxiliary. (Swan, 1980).

Example:

1. He can swim, can't he?

2. You can sing well, can't you?

3. They will come later, won't they?

4. She could drive the car, couldn't she?

5. She should finish our homework, should we?

d. Used to have question tag with "did". (Allen 1974)

Example:

1. He used to live here, didn't he?

2. They used go to bantimurung, didn't they?

3. You used to get up late, didn't you?

4. She used to watch football at karebosi , didn't she?

e. People very often ask for help or information by making a negative sentence at the beginning, for example: you couldn't'......or you haven't.....or don't know.....with a question tag at the end. (Swan, 1980).

Example:

1. You couldn't lend a pound, could you?

2. You don't know of any flat for rent, do you?

3. You haven't seen my watch around, have you?

f. If the main clause does not have an auxiliary verb (or be), does/do or did is used in question tag.

Example:

1. He walks school, doesn't he?

2. They knew you before, didn't they?

3. My father like apple, doesn't he?

4. We study English every Sunday, don't we?

g. Allen (1974) says that "A form of tag is frequently heard in English when one person wishes to pass a truculent, sarcastic, or incredulous comment another person's remark. This is done by repeating the remark and adding a tag, both being positive or negative.

Example:

1. I won't eat it!

   Oh you won't, wont you?

2. I hate you?

   You do, do you?

3. I want to give me some more money.

   Oh you do, do you?

4. He had a better collection of stamp than yours.

   Oh he did, did he?

h. In spoken English, the Question tag of I am, in the sentence I am student, is aren't I? (Am I not? Is unusual is speech).

Example:

1. I'm stupid, aren't I?

2. I'm late, aren't I?

3. I'm older than you, aren't I?

D. The use of Question Tags

Question tag is used at the end of a sentence, to ask for confirmation of something, where are not sure about, or to ask for agreement. For clearly the writer would like to show the uses of Question tag in English.

a. Question- tag is used to ask for confirmation (swan,1980)

Example:

1. He is here, isn't he?

2. She isn't here, is he?

3. You will come, won't you?

4. You won't come, will you?

5. He comes yesterday, didn't he?

6. He has finished, hasn't he?

7. They always work hard, don't they?

8. You can help him, can't you?

b. Question –tag is used to ask for agreement

Example:

1. You agree, don't you?

2. We go to school together, don't we?

3. We work our homework together, don't we?

4. We go to school together, don't we?

c. Imperative are made into more polite question by adding a positive future- tag (Allen,1955)

Example:

1. Stop the noise, will you?

2. Let's go for a walk, shall you?

3. Come in see me tomorrow, will you?

4. Let's read aloud, shall we?

5. Come and see me tomorrow, will you?

d. Statement containing word such us none, nobody, nothing, scarcely, barely, hardly, and seldom are treated as negative statements and followed by and orderly interrogative. (Thomson and Martinet, 1979).

Example:

1. None of your friends like the film, did they?

2. Nothing was said, was it?

3. You seldom go to mallino,do you ?

4. Nobody can speak English here, can't they?

5. No one will follow him will they?

6. She hardly passed the examination, does she?

e. When the subject of the sentence is no one, no body, anyone, anybody, none neither we use the pronoun they as subject of the tag.

Example:

1. I don't suppose anyone will be a volunteer, will they?

2. None the bottles are broken, are they?

3. Neither of them complained, did they?

f. The question tag of pronoun they is also used for the statements which the subject are such as everybody, someone.

Example:

1. Everyone want you, didn't you?

2. Someone had recognized him, hadn't they?

3. Somebody can join him, can't they?

4. Everybody will be tested, won't they?

5. Question tag is also used in English sentence that is the sentence with it's pronoun subject left out (swan,1980)

g. Question tag is also used in English sentence that is is the sentence what is pronoun subject left out. (Swan, 1980).

Example:

1. Talking to my husband, will you?

2. Nice day, isn't it?

3. Lost weight, haven't you?

4. Your mother is at home, isn't she?

5. Have a good time, didn't you?

Ona low writers the question Tag is used:

a. Seeking confirmation of what is being said, no question mark, and a falling intonation at the end. The answeris expected to agree with suggestion in the statement.

Example:

1. You were dismissed from that job, weren't you?

2. He wouldn't give a definite answer, would be?

b. As a surprise question. A question mark and a rising intonation at the end.

Example:

    1. The school children aren't going on strike, are they?

    2. You won't give up your job, will you?

c.   As special request.

Example:

    1. You will help me? Won't you (no question mark)

d. As challenge

Example:

    1. You stole that money, didn't you. (NP mark)

E. Intonation

When intonation Question tag is used the speaker doesn't normally need information but merely expect agreement. These tags therefore normally said with a falling intonation, as statements, sometime the speaker does want information. He is not quite sure that the statement is true, and wants to be reseassured.

Swan states that the meaning of Question tag changes with the intonation. If it is said with a falling intonation (with the voice getting lower in musical pith), it makes the sentence sound more like a statement, with rising intonation, the sentence is more like a real Question.

For Question tag with falling intonation are as follow:

1. The day is hot, isn't it?

2. Raining, isn't it?

3. Quite different? Isn't it?

4. A strong woman, isn't it?

5. How long journey, isn't it?

Or question tags with rising intonation are as follows:

1. You don't finish your homework, do you?

2. Your parents are still alive, aren't you?

3. You haven't seen Philip anywhere, have you?

4. The war between Iraq and America has been broken, hasn't it?

5. There is no lecture, isn't there?

The following question tags are often with the rising intonation and so they are not real question. Will you? Can't you? And could you? These question tag are used after imperative:

1. Do sit down? Won't you?

2. Open the window, would you?

3. Shut up, can you?

4. Don't forget, will you?

CHAPTER III

RESEARCH METHOD

This chapter consists of the design o understand in learning question tag was research, variable, population and sample, the instrument of research, the procedure of data collection, technique of data analysis.

A. The Design of the Research

This method used in this research is descriptive research. Best and Khan (1986: 12) state descriptive research sometimes know as non experimental or correlation research, deals with the relationships between variables, and the development of generalization principles, or theories that have universal validity it is concerned with functional relationships.

Therefore, this research aim is to give the description of the students' difficulties in learning question tag at the First Year Students of Madrasah Tsanawiyah DDI Kanang. This research is done to analyze the condition or situation in the subject of the research. So, this research only tries to test about the difficulties faced by the students in learning English especially the question tags.

This research evaluative descriptive. According to Best and Khan (1986: 13), the activity of this research is to see the fact at certain time and it uses its finding to recognize the effectiveness, the use of process, product or program studied.

B. Population and Sample

1. Population

   The population of this research is the first year's students of MTs. DDI Kanang in academic year of 2010-2011. The total populations of the research consist of 120 from five classes.

2. Sample

   The sampling technique used in this research is random sampling technique. The research randomly chose students from two classes, so that the total number of sample is 30 from two classes.

C. Variables of Research

This research used two variables, are independent variable and dependent variable, the problems faced by the students is independent variable and the students achievement in mastering Question tag is dependent variables.

D. Instruments of the Research

1. Test

   Test is intended to find out what extent could the first year students of MTs. DDI Kanang in use Question Tags.There are two form of test used in this research. The first in the form completion test which consist of 10 items. And the second is in the form of multiple-choice which consists of 10 items. Thus, it consists of 20 items.

2. Questionnaire

The Questionnaire is used to obtain data about the problems and the special factors that cause the existence of the problem of Question tag use that are faced by the first year students MTs. DDI Kanang. The questionnaire comprises 15 items.

E. Procedure of Data Collection

The procedure of collecting data was be conducted in July 2010 and attended by 30 students.

The procedures were done chorological in the following steps:

1. On 13 July 2010, the writers consulted with the headmaster of MTs DDI Kanang for get agreement of doing her research.

2. It was held On July 14 - 20 2010 the writer did research

   a. The first day, the students asked the writer for introduce herself and the writer explained about aims of the research and how to do test and then they worked out the test.

   b. The second day, the writer distributed the questionnaire, she allocated time both for test was 45 minutes and for the questionnaire was 30 minutes. Therefore the research spent the time 75 minutes for test and questionnaire.

3. The writer collected the data after the respondent being done the test and questionnaire.

4. Finally the writer got her recommendation from the headmaster MTs DDI Kanang. As guidance that the writer had finished research.

F. Technique of Data Analysis

The data collected from the students were analyzed by using descriptive analysis. The data collected through objective test analyzed by using mean score analysis and the data collected through questionnaire were tabulated and then analyzed into percentage. In relation to this, the writers use the following formula:

a. Scoring the students' answer by using the following formula:

$$Score = \frac{Students'\ correct\ answer}{Total\ number\ of\ item} \times 10$$

(Depdikbud : 1996)

b. Finding out the mean score of the students' answer by using the following formula:

$$\bar{X} = \frac{\sum X}{N}$$

Where:

$\bar{X}$ = Mean score

$\sum X$ = Total number of score

N = Total total number of students

(Gay, 1981: 147)

c. Classifying the students' score into seven levels as follows:

a.	9.6 -10	Excellent
b.	8.6 – 9.5	Very Good
c.	7.6 – 8.5	Good
d.	6.6 – 7.5	Fairly Good
e.	5.6 – 6.5	Fair
f.	3.6 – 5.5	Poor
g.	00 – 3.5	Very Poor

(DepDikBud, 1996 : 6)

d. To analyze the questionnaire, the writer will use the percentage technique:

$$P = \frac{F}{N} \chi\ 100\%$$

Where: P: Rate percentage

F: Answer Respondent

N: Total Sample

(Sudjana: 1992)

CHAPTER IV

FINDINGS AND DICUSSIONS

This chapter consists of two sections, the findings of the research and the discussion of the research findings. The findings of this research deals with the result of the data analysis about the mastery level and problems faced by the first year students of Madrasah Tsanawiyah DDI Kanang in using Question Tags.

A. Findings

As stated in the previous chapter that the writer used two kinds of instruments in this research collecting data, namely objective test and Questionnaire. Therefore, the presentation of the data and the discussion.

Also followed the sequence presentation of the instruments.

1. The analysis of data collected through the objective test in this section, the writer described and analyzed the data collected from the result of the test given to the MTs DDI Kanang. In this case, for the purpose of classifying and tabulating the data into percentage, for the first, the writer would like present the way to give scores to the result of the objective test. The writer uses the following interval.

TABLE I

Rate Percentage of the Students' Score Using Question Tags

No	Qualification	Score	Frequency	Percentage %
1	Excellent	9.6 – 10	0	0 %
2	Very Good	8.6 – 9.6	0	0%
3	Good	7.6 – 8.5	0	0%
4	Fairly Good	6.6 - 7.6	0	0%
5	Fair	5.6 – 6,5	2	6.7%
6	Poor	3.6 – 5.5	15	50%
7	Very Poor	0.0 - 35	13	43.3 %

By looking the data percentage above, there were 13 (43. 3%) out 30 students was "very poor "classification, there were 15 (50%) of them was "poor" classification, 2 (6%) of the student were in "fair" classification, and none of them were in fairly good, good, very good and excellent classification.

It is also necessary to find out the students' average means score this mean is calculated by using the formula:

$$\bar{X} = \frac{\sum X}{N}$$

Calculation:

Where: $\bar{X} = \frac{\sum X}{N}$

$$= \frac{112}{30}$$

$$= 3.73$$

The calculation above shows that the mean score of the first year students MTs DDI Kanang. Based on the previous classification, there score above is classified as the poor. This also implies that there were some factors hamper the students in using Question tags.

2. The Analysis of the data collected through the Questionnaire

For understanding the factor that hampered the students of MTs DDI Kanang or problems Faced by the first year students MTs DDI Kanang in using Question Tag, they can be shown in the analysis Questionnaire items that consists of 15 item. From the fifteen items of the Questionnaire the writer tabulated 14 item and one item (item 15) was analysis alone.

By looking the data above, it shows that of the 30 students 33% (10 out of 30) state that they often made mistakes in using question tags 33% (10 out 30) they sometimes made mistakes. There were 26% (8out of 30) mentioned that they seldom made mistake and, no students stated never made mistakes in using question tags. If means that the students could not avoid themselves from making mistakes in using question tags because of their knowledge of question tags were not sufficient.
