CHAPTER I
INTRODUCTION

This chapter presents background of research, problem of statement, objective of research, significance of research, and the last scope of research.

A. Background of study

Literature represents life, which may actually happen in social realities. Literary works tell about human life and life itself is an inspiration for producers to produce a literary work. As Wellek and Warren state:

> "Literature represents life, and life is in large measure, a social reality even though the natural world and the inners of the subjective world of the individual have also been object of literature imitation". (Wellek and Warren: 1970: 94).

According to Kennedy (2003 : 47), literature is a kind of art that can offer plesure and illumination. It gives us the beauty, fact, even, and imagination born from the proccess of contempolation or observetion of social phenomena as living the impact of the reality and the restlessness of human being.

Literature is an important subject to study because it reproduces or recreates life through words, it takes human experience as its material. Studying it can help us to understand life, environment, culture and values better. As landy state :

> "literature includes the whole aspects of human activities, expressing any feeling, emotion, though and ideas studying it can help us to understand life and our environment" (Landy, 2002 : 2).

UNIVERSITAS ISLAM NEGERI
ALAUDDIN
MAKASSAR

In short, the researcher concludes that literature is a kind of art which represents life where the producer can result literary work because of getting inspiration from the life. That is why from literature, researcher can learn about life and environment.

There are some genres of literature. According to Bakhtin (2003 : 3), the most genres in literature are (in chronological order) they are epic, tragedi, comedy, novel, short story, movie and creative nonfiction

Most of literary works serve social facts, movie for instance. Bring variety of phenomenon though words, such as politics, economics, culture and social. The movie is a literary work that is very supportive in literature itself, it is very nice studied by contains of many aspects, it is mentioned that likes of intercultural communication and components of culture.

Novinger (2001: 9) states that intercultural are used indicating one or several differences between communicators relating to language, national origin, race or ethnicity. Novinger adds, we can understand intercultural communication as cultural variances in perception of social objects and events. The differences commonly defined as cultural include language, nationality, ethnicity, values and customs (2001: 13).

One of the movies which determined to reserach culture of “PK” movie. It is an Indian producer Rajkumar Hirani’s movie, this movie has emerged as the most successful Indian movies all the time, by rated 66 highest sold movie of 2014 worldwide.

UNIVERSITAS ISLAM NEGERI

MAKASSAR

This movie was adapted by the producer who had a doubt about the Indian cultural conflict. Actually, there are so many conflicts told of the story, as such as, it was through by the under privilege.

The researcher choosed this movie because it reflects the social condition and the culture of society. By watching this movie, the viewer can learn cultural conflicts and components of culture reveled in this movie. It will increase our cultural awareness or better understanding about it.

The researcher is interested in analyzing Cultural Conflicts in Intercultural Communication in "PK" Movie by Rajkumar Hirani (Sociologocal Approach) because of the addition value which contains in this movie such as theme, characters and settings especially the conflicts.

B. Research Question

Based on the explanation described above, it is necessary to formulate research questions as follows:

1. What components of culture that are found in the movie?
2. What cultural conflicts that exist in the movie?

C. Objectives of the Research

The purposes of this research are:

1. To reveal the components of culture that are found in the movie.
2. To express the cultural conflicts that exist in the movie

D. Significance of Research

The significances of the research give some benefits for the researcher, readers, students, society and others, to know more about the components of culture and cultural conflicts. Besides that, this research would become a reference for other students who want to study about it, so the other researcher could take this sources based on literary work.

E. Scope of the Research

REVIEW OF RELATED LITERATURE

This chapter deals with some previous findings and theoretical background, Definition of movie and the last Synopsis of movie.

A. Previous Findings

Anugrah (2000) conducted a study under the title, Cultural Conflicts in a Passage to India a Novel by Edward Morgan Forster. This research used qualitative method. This research aimed to find out the different culture between Indian and English in the novel in a passage to India and to know the men from Indian and English who can adapt with the different culture. The writer would use Uncertainty Avoidence theory by William Gudykunts. In this research the writer found the different culture between English men and Indians such as belief and worship, way of living, dress, language and climate. The conflict reflected through the characters (Indian and English people). Cultural conflicts occurs when there is a different view about cultural values.

ALAUDDIN
MAKASSAR

Amin (2007) conducted a study under the title, Cultural Conflicts in Intercultural Communication of Paul Haggis Film "Crash". This research the writer used the qualitative method, concentrates her researches on cultural conflicts between Indian and England in language aspects in the dialogue of the film or cultural conflicts that exist in the real life that captured in a film. In this research the writer used Speech Codes theory by Gary Philipsen, besides that, the writer used discourses analysis. She found 10 utterances of the film, which showed the cultural conflicts because of different perception in translating language based on their culture.

Palayukan (2010) conducted a study under the title, *Cultural Clash in Frances Hodgson Burnett's Novel the Secret Gard*en. This research used the qualitative method. This research aims to describe the cultural clash in Frances. The writer analyzed the cultural clash between India and England used Face Negotiation Theory by Ting-Toomey. She found six cultural differences that become the causes of cultural conflicts through the characters in the novel.

Compare these three researches, there are similarities to the title which the writer analyzed. The similarity between the previous researchers and the research done by the writer is analyzing about cultural conflicts.

In contrast to the analysis of the previous researchers, all of their researchers analyzed the conflict between Indian and England used Intercultural Communication Theory. While this research the researcher analyzed about cultural conflicts and components of culture in the movie based on sociological approach.

B. Theoretical Background

1. Sociological Concept of Literature

Sociology of literature is a branch study of literary works, which is looking at literary works as it is relation to the social reality, producer and literary creating process, and also the viewer of its work. Thus literary works is related to the historical background of certain society.

> "Sociology defines itself as a critical activity. The purpose of the sociology is to achive an understanding of social institutions which is different from the current among the people through whose conduct the institutions exist, an understanding which is not merely different but new and better. The practice of sociology is criticism. It exists to critize claim about the value of achievement and to ask assumption about the meaning of cunduct", (Burns, 2007 : 10).

Sociology, in sociology of literature (Swingedwood, 2002 : 35) is essentially scientific, objective study of man in society, the study of social and social processes, it seeks an answer the question of how society is possible, how its works, why it persist. Moreover literature is an attempt to make sense of our lives.

Literature perfoms a picture of life. Life itself is social reality. It means that, the social reality is also including the relation intersociety. Intersociety and individual, including producer, which occurs in producer's mind. Wellek and Warren (2006 : 94), explain the correlation between literature and society as follows

"Literature is a social institution, using as its medium language, a social creation. They are conventions and norm which could have arisen only in society. But futhermore, literature 'represent' life : and life is, in large measure, a social reality, even though the netural world and the inner or subjective world of the individual have also been objects of literary 'imitation'.

Sociology contains an idea which migth be used to develop certain social attitude as swingedwood states that :

"This aspects of sociology is related to the concept of social stability, of continuity within different societies, the way in which individuals come to accept the major social institutions as both necessary and right. But of course, sociology is concerned also with the processes whereby society changes, gradually, or cataclysmic as in revolution - from one type of society to another from feudalism to capitalism form example- and the affects, which these changes have on social structure", (Swingewood, 2002 : 11-12).

ALAUDDIN

Sociology is dealing with literature. It is used to study literature and social institution. The literary works derived from social phenomena, which is expressed by producer as his vision of the world and reaction of the phenomena mentioned. As like sociology, literature concerned with man's social world, as Burns says :

Sociology is truly the study of institutionalization, and not merely of institution, then some grasp of this process within literature, and perhaps in art generally. (Burns 2003 : 28).

The researcher can conclude that sociology and literature are connected each other. Literature performs a picture of life, while life itself is social reality which is icluded in sociology, because sociology is the objective of man in society.

2. Sociological Approach

Sociological approach is more concerned with individuals and their relationship with society, like cultural, economical or political aspects. As Kennedy and Gloria states:

> "Sociological approach or sociological criticism examines literature in the cultural, economical and political context in which it is written or received" (1995: 2005).

Simmel emphasizes individual analysis unit in his theory. Simmel states as quoted by Turner (2004: 75), one of the main tasks of sociology is understand the interaction between individual that can result conflict or solidarity between them. Simmel adds that conflicts are happened because of interaction between individual who has “Emotional strength” and the built solidarity one another.

He says that conflict is tendency that is impossible to be avoided in the society. Conflict is a form basic social interaction, related with cooperation attitude in the society. Conflict in sociology has assumption that society always in controversy and change condition.

Besides that Simmel adds as quoted by Coser (1967: 32). If there is not conflict in the group, it means that the integration is weak in the group with society. Actually, conflict is not always giving negative effect but also conflict can give the positive effect. Conflict in positive effect can help social structure but in negative effect, conflict will make framework of society become weak.

From the explanation above, researcher can understand that sociology cannot be separated from social processes in which the people have to make the process of cultural learning to make stability of social structure and the continuity of live within different societies. In other words, sociology cannot be separated from culture.

3. Cultural Concept

Conflict between any cultures is the central discussion in this research. Since the behavior evokes cultural conflict, the question about what actually culture means to people seems urgent to be answered. What is culture itself? There are some definitions of culture, based on the points of view.

a. Kroeber and Kloeckhen, (2002: 39), divided culture into five classes, as follows: Descriptive, which is emphasized on cultural components.

1. History, emphasizes it as inheritance of society.
2. Normative, that emphasized it to the truth of as manners of life and attitudes.
3. Psychology, emphasizes the useful of culture in self adjustment and environment, solving the problem and learn to live.
4. Structural, emphasizes the disposition of culture as a system which is regulated and patterned.
5. Genetically, that emphasizes the happening of culture as a human masterpiece.

It is similar to the definition above; Novinger (2001: 14) also gives many concepts of culture, ranging from the simple to the complex.

1. Culture is just "the way we do things around here".
2. Culture is the set of norms by which things are run-or simply "are".
3. Culture is the logic by which we give order to the word.
4. Culture refers to "knowledge, experience, meanings, beliefs, values, attitudes, religion, concept of self universe, relationships, hierarchies of status, role expectations, spatial relations, and time concepts, accumulated by a large group of people over generations through individual and group effort".

ALAUDDIN
MAKASSAR

Antropologiest Hall (2009: 120), in his catalyzing work the silent language, states that culture is not one thing, but rather a complex series of interrelated activities with origin deeply buried in our past. He treats culture in its entirety as a form on communication. Culture is communication and communication is culture.

Thus, culture could be defined as shared background such as knowledge relationship, and religious, also reflecting a common language and communication style, and shared customs, beliefs, attitudes and values. Each human being has culture which is formed from creative power, taste, and wish of the owner. It is built by any element in the society play together to be a cultural system.

Talking about the relation between culture and communication, Novinger (2001: 15) adds explanation that culture gives human identity. It is the total communication framework for words, action, body language, emblems (gestures), intonation, facial expressions, for the way one handles time, space and materials. All these things and more are complete communication systems.

When people with different cultural backgrounds live with or near one another. Margerita B. Melville as quoted by Oswalt, (2006: 48) observes that there is one of three possible value attitudes, depending on the nature of the relationship.

The first is an absence of concern about ethnic identity. The second is positive value – attitudes. In this form, a subordinate group organizes effective opposition by placing a positive value on their in – group identity. The third type is value pejorative attitudes occur in confrontation ethnic as the in-group disparages out-group are notice but the group is not considered better or worse than one's own.

There are different types of cultures across the world, and each culture has its unique essence. One of influential theory in sociological approach is

b. Component of Culture Theory. For answer the first querstion, the resercher used Manohar (2011) Theory. He says there are some components of culture, they are:

1. Language: is the main key for human life on this earth. The various languages are essentially an important part of the culture. Language is culture and culture is language. Language is the primary thing we must know where ever and whenever we there.
2. Religion and beliefs: The religion and beliefs of the people in a civilization play an important role in shaping up of the culture as well, every religion also has a sacred ritual that must be performed by any people. That beliefs is legacy of a people and is still held firm and maintened its purity and religion also is an institutions that regulate the spiritual life of human.
3. Norms: every society or every civilization has a set of norms, which are an inseparable part, and an important element of the culture. This can include taboos and rituals in a culture. This norms divided into four part, these are:
   a) Social Norm, is a social pressure on members of the public to run norms.

ALAUDDIN

b) Religious norms, are norms based on the teachings of a religion or creed, this norm demands absolute obedience every adherents.

c) Law norms, are norms that are based on commands and prohibitions that govern discipline in a society with legal provions and there are law inforcement as the authorities impose sanctions.

d) Moral norms, are norms that are based on human conscience or morals. These norms are universal, that everyone around the world recognize and adhere to this norm, but forms and manifestation may be different.

4. Values: the social values of a particular civilization are also considered as an element of the culture. The values of a culture often refer to the things to be achieved, which are considered of great worth of value in a particular culture.
5. Social collectives: refer to the social groups, organization, communities, institutions, classes, and societies which are symbolic social constructions.
6. Statuses and role: a status or a social role is nothing but a slot or position within a group or society, which gives an overall idea of the social structure and hence is an important element of culture.
7. Cultural integrations: this includes the degree of harmony of integration within the various elements of culture. This can include elements like sub-cultures, local cultures, and the differences historical and cultural traditions.

UNIVERSITAS ISLAM NEGERI

4. Concept of Conflict

In our life, there are many problems or conflicts, which have to be faced by human. Conflict is a universal phenomenon in human life. We can say that everybody will face the conflict; nevertheless the conflict that had been experienced by mankind is different from another.

As Glorier (2003: 371), explains that conflict is an accident which has been generally happened in human life, everyone can face all kinds of conflict because of different reasons. It is similar to Glorier, Bernard, (2000: 30) state that.

> "Conflict is a normal part of human interaction. It is necessary to a certain extent. It must not always presume war. It can manifest at multiple levels, including behavioral, emotional, or perspective dimensions, in conflict"

In other side, Perrine defines conflict as:

> Conflict is perceived condition exists between the parties or more feel the discrepancy between goals and opportunities to meddle in the business achievement of the goals of others.

ALAUDDIN
MAKASSAR

For answer the second question, the researcher used Kennedy's theory (2006: 20). He also divides conflict into four kinds, are those are:

1. Interpersonal conflict: This conflict experienced by an individual with himself because of the pressure and expectations beyond the role different from the wishes or expectations.
2. Conflicts between individuals: Conflicts between individuals who are in a group or individuals in different groups. This conflict also occurs because of the difference in perception between one human and another. A civilization who not accept a change on balanced will be arise a conflict as a procces in the interaction

3. Conflicts between groups: Collective conflict between one group against another. conflict is a disagreement arises because of the displeasure, hatred and revenge of a person or group against others, In this conflict physical clash which resulted in the loss of live and property. This conflict usually occurs within a social relathionship with the environment or sorrounding groups.
4. Conflicts organization: The conflict between organizational units that are structurally and functionally. Example: the conflict between the marketing departments to the production department.

It is different from Kennedy, Jines (2008 : 30), divides conflict into two types as follows :

a. Physical conflict, usually called elemental conflict is a conflict happened of caused by the unsuitable or uncomfortable situation between character and his environment. For example a conflict which arises because of a volcano.
b. Social conflict, a conflict because of human interaction. This conflict usually occurs from war, cruelty, robbery, colonization, and so on. The conflict may also involve in mankind decisions that affect other people, and also may be emotional.

Based on the definition above, researcher can conclude that conflict is clash of action or ideas which has been generally happened in human life because of different cause. And in general, it covers four types, they are conflict intra-individual, conflict between two or more characters (individuals), conflict between groups, and the last is society (organization).

ALAUDDIN
MAKASSAR

5. Cultural Conflict

Talking about cultural conflict George Simmel as Turner quoted (2004 : 44) defines it as a conflict caused by differences in cultural values and beliefs that place people at odds with one another. On a micro level, Simmel discusses a cultural conflict between guests of different culture and nationality as seen in a British 1870 sitcom, Fawlty Towers. He defines this conflict as one that occurs when people's expectations of a certain behavior coming from their cultural backgrounds are not met, as others have different cultural backgrounds and different expectations.

A more narrow definition of a cultural conflict also dates to Simmel as quoted by Turner (2004 : 79), Crime as an American Way of Life, and focuses on criminal-enabling consequences of a clash in cultural values. He adds it as a conflict that occurs when conflicting norms create opportunities for deviance and criminal gain in deviant sub cultures. Simmel notes that whenever laws impose cultural values on a group that does not share those views (often, this is the case of the majority imposing their laws on a minority).

George Simmel also classifies the cultural conflict as one of the major types of conflict theory. In The Clash of Civilizations Samuel P. Huntington (2009 : 66) proposes that people's cultural and religious identities will be the primary source of conflict.

I think cultural conflicts are difficult to resolve as parties to the conflict have different beliefs. Cultural conflicts intensify when those differences become reflected in politics, particularly on a macro level.

In other side Levine at al. (2002: 182), state that:

> "Cultural conflicts occur as a result of misinterpretations, ethnocentrism, stereotypes, and prejudice, preventing these conflicts is possible with increased awareness of our attitudes as well as sensitivity to cross cultural differences".

A political scientist Samuel P. Huntington in his article, "Foreign Affairs Article" (2003: 22) says that:

> "The fundamental source of conflict in this new world will not be ordinarily ideological or primarily economic. The divisions among humankind and the dominating source of conflict will be cultural".

Huntington adds in his book "The clash of civilization and remaking of world order" (2002: 206) that > "While the age of ideology that ended, the world had only reverted to a normal state of affairs characterized by cultural conflict. The primary axis of conflict in the future will be along cultural and religious lines".

Lebaron and Bruce Grundison (2003: 18) say that cultures are embedded in every conflict because conflict arises in human relationship. Cultures affect the ways we name, frame, blame, and attempt to tame conflicts. Whether a conflict exists at all is a cultural question.

Lebaron adds in Bridging Cultural Conflicts (2003 : 127) that, when problem surface between or within culture, it is often a response to difficulties in dealing with differences. Whether this pertains to racial, religious, political, social, or economic matters difference is often a source of fear and misunderstanding.

Communication or interaction in cross culture will not free from the problem. According to Stewart, (2002 : 7), cross cultural occurs in there are differences between pattern of thinking, assumptions and values in different cultures. The problem often result in misunderstanding and lead to ineffectual activity in face to face communication.

In summary, researcher can say that culture is essential part in conflict. And of course cultural understanding is necessary in order to understand other culture and to reduce cross-cultural problems that may occur. By understanding another culture well, people can respect other cultures.

6. Social Interaction

Social interaction can be defined as social relations dynamic, social relations in question could be a relationship between individuals the one with the other individuals, between groups with other groups, as well as between groups of individuals. In the interaction also contained symbols, where the symbol is defined as something that is value or meaning given to him by those who used it social interaction processes.

Hodges (2001 : 34), when people acting against something on the basis of the significance possessed something for human. Then the meaning possessed something that comes from the interaction between someone with a neighbor. And last is the meaning is not fixed but can be changed, the change of the meaning can occur through the process interpretation that people make when spotted anything. the process also called the interpretative process Social interaction can occur when between two individuals or groups There are social contact and communication.

Social contact is the first stage of the social relations communication is the delivery of a information and provision of interpretation and reaction to information be delivered. Karp and Yoels (2009 : 34), show somethings that can be resources for the commencement of communication or social interaction. Source such information can be divided into two: Physical Characteristics and Appearance.

a. Physical characteristics, is anything owned by an individual from birth covering gender, age, and race.
b. The appearance here may include physical attractiveness, shape, the appearance of dress and discourse.

A social interactions would not be possible if it does not satisfy two conditions Sukanto (2007 : 78), namely: their social contacts, and their communication.

1. Social Contacts

Social contacts comes from the Latin con or cum meaning together and tango which means touch. So literally contact is jointly touching. Physically, new contacts occur when there carnal relations. As a social phenomenon that does not necessarily mean a relationship.

Bodily, because people can make contact without having to touch it, such as by talking with the person concerned, with the development of technology today, people can relate to each another by telephone, telegraph, radio, and others who do not need require bodily touch.

ALAUDDIN
MAKASSAR

2. Communication

Communication is that someone who is given the interpretation to others (tangible talks, bodily motions or attitudes), feelings of what is to be conveyed by the person. People who concerned then react to the feeling you want be delivered, with the communication attitudes and feelings can group another group known by others.

Then it is material to determine what the reaction was going to do. In the communication possibilities to occur assorted the interpretation of the behavior of others. A smile for example, can interpreted as hospitality, friendly attitude, or even as an attitude cynical and attitude of wanting to show victory.

Thus communication enable cooperation between individuals or between groups. But in addition it also could generate contention which happen communication for misunderstand each of which will not budge.

As social creature, we have to interact with the other people. It cannot be denied that, all societies in the world have rules of the way in which is used in social interaction. It is interesting to observe that, these rules may vary widely between one society and another. The different type of the culture in social interaction can often lead in cross-cultural communication.

7. Intercultural Communication

a. Definition of Intercultural Communication basically the culture embraced by a community group that is very unique. as auch as language, how to eat, dress, politeness, moral standards differ from one community to the moral standards of other communities. The difference it did seem a contradiction, but the reality of history shows the sharing of culture to mutually accept and understand that difference (Purwasito, 2003: 224)

Definition of intercultural communication According to the Experts Talks on intercultural communication not circumvented from culture definition. Communication and culture are not just two words but the two concepts are inseparable. Intercultural communication can be interpreted by some of the statements as follows.

The first definition mentioned in the book "Intercultural Communication: A Reader" where it is stated that intercultural communication occurs when a message to be understood produced by members of a specific culture for the consumption of members of other cultures. Samovar & Porter, (2004 : 19).

Other definitions given by Liliweri that the process of intercultural communication is an interpersonal interactions and interpersonal communication is done by some people who have different cultural backgrounds (2003 : 13).

Novinger (2001: 9) states that intercultural are used indicating one or several differences between communicators relating to language, national origin, race or ethnicity. Novinger adds, we can understand intercultural communication as cultural variances in perception of social objects and events. The differences commonly defined as cultural include language, nationality, ethnicity, values and customs (2001: 13).

ALAUDDIN

Unlike Novinger, Levine at al. (2002 :177), give other definition about intercultural communication as follows :

> "Intercultural communication is communication between members of different cultures. The definition is simple, but the process is complex, it involves different perceptions, attitudes and interpretation. Even two people from the same culture can have communication problems. People can hurt each other by something they say or do".

b. Types of Intercultural Communication Barriers

Communication barriers in intercultural communication have a shape like an iceberg that sank in the water. Where the communication barriers that exist divided into the above water and under water. Factors intercultural communication barriers that are under water are the factors that shape a person's behavior or attitude, such constraints is quite difficult to be seen or noticed. The types of such constraints are perceptions, norms, stereotypes, the business philosophy, rules, network, values, and the group branch.

ALAUDDIN
MAKASSAR

While there are 9 types of communication barriers between cultures that is above water. This kind of communication barriers are easier to see because of these barriers many physical objects. These constraints are (Chaney & Martin, 2004 : 11-12):

1. Physical

   Barriers such communications originate from the constraints of time, environment, personal needs, as well as physical media.

2. Cultural

   These barriers come from different ethnic, religious, and social differences that exist between one culture to another.

3. Perception

   These types of barriers arise because each person has a different perception about something. So as to mean something every culture will have different ideas.

4. Motivation

   Such barriers associated with the level of motivation of the audience, the point is whether the listener the receiver wants to receive the message or whether the listener is being lazy and unmotivated it can be a communication barrier.

5. Experience

   Experiental is kind of a drag that occurs because the individual does not have the same life experiences that each individual has a perception and concepts are also different in seeing something.

6. Emotional

   This has to do with emotions or personal feelings of the listener. If the listener emotions were worse then the barriers of communication that occurs will be increasingly large and difficult to pass.

7. Language

UNIVERSITAS ISLAM NEGERI
ALAUDDIN
MAKASSAR

The following communication barrier occurs when the sender of the message (sender) and the recipient (receiver) using a different language or use words that are not understood by the recipient of the message.

8. Nonverbal

   Nonverbal communication barriers are barriers that do not form words but can be a communication barrier. An example is the angry face made by the recipient of the message when the sender of the message communication. Angry face that made it can be a barrier to communication because maybe the message sender will feel no maximum or afraid to send a message to the message recipient.

9. Competition

   Such barriers appear when the message recipient is doing other activities while listening. Examples are receiving cellular phone while driving, as do the two (2) activity and the recipient of the message will not listen to the message delivered via cell phone to the fullest.

In summary, intercultural communication is communication between two persons or groups not sharing similar cultural pattern, or the process whereby one's culture affects interaction with person from another culture.

So, what we do to make our communication effective when we in intercultural communication? There is way to communicate effectively across culture. Novinger states, "to communicate effectively across culture, we need to increase our understanding of our own unconscious culture" (Novinger, 2001 : 17)

B. Discussion

1. Components of culture

Those are some components of culture. These are language, norms, value, beliefs and religion, social collectives, statues and roles and cultural integration. That components of culture which found in “PK” movie are language, beliefs and religion and norms.

Those are as the components of culture, that play important in the shaping of the culture as well. Based on the datum 1,2 and 3, language, are includes that of the components of culture that were found in "PK" movie.

a. Language

1) Datum I. H.00 / M.34 / S.57.

Datum I told us, that PK explained to Jaggu that they do not have any language, spoken by their mind. In his planet, they were never confused when they told each other. PK adds, here (earth planet) one word can describes four situation. However, realizes the importance of language itself PK getting interested to learn the Bhajpuri language in order to understand them.

The datum above, illustrates how the language is an important role in a culture, it was relates with theories in stated by Manohar, he was said language is the most important part of a culture. Based on the opinion above, the researcher can be said the componentsof culture that language, it was an important component that cannot be separated from the culture itself.

Actually Jaggu does not believe with the story of PK, he told, in their world, they do not any language to communicate with others, but PK had been explained to Jaggu how the difficulties his experience, he need language if want to find his remote control. Finally Jaggu believed with him.

2) Datum II. H.02 / M.26 / S.27.

Language is the supporting things in a culture. Language is culture and culture is language, this opinion has stated by Manohar. In datum II, the reseacher can be identifiied it, PK said, in this planet was very difficult to understand of their said, if we were not be able to speak Bhajpuri language.

When one woman said “I love chicken, I love fish” it does not mean she like these animals, but it means she wants chicken or fish for lunch. Manohar said, that language had any sense, we have different perseption if we were not know the context. He adds language is a key staple for human life on this earth and language is a resource for life itself.

This situation were describes in datum II, it was explained that language is an important component to must know when we want to do an activity or research. PK had been explained to his friends when they want to do a research about human life on earth, so language is one thing they must know. PK told to his friends, when two or more peoples said one word we must know the contexs or meaning of it, because mistake meaning cause of misunderstanding.

3) Datum III H:00 / M:39 /S: 24

PK were confused, the situations were described in datum III. PK want to tell a man that his trouser was wrong, but he did not know what he was going to do, he was unbeable to speaks Bhajpuri language, he try to repaired the mens trouser. Firstly the man is not respect about that, but when PK try to inversed his trouser from the beginning, he was got a blow ftom the man.

In datum III, he was realizes, if he want to found his remote control, he must know of their said, but for do it, he must to lern Bhajpuri language. Without it he did not do something. According to Manohar, languages is an essentially important part of the culture. Based on the statement above, the researcher had know which the language were important in culture.

ALAUDDIN
MAKASSAR

Manohar adds, Language is the primary thing, we must to know where ever and when ever we there. Language can be used to understand each others, we can understand the intent and purpose, when we listened of them.

Datum III is almost the same as the I (first) and the II (second) datum, but in the III (third) datum, it described that language is the most important part of culture, in this datum PK were clearly described, he must to learn and know what is the language because he was realizes the important of language.

b. Religion and beliefs

1. Datum IV. H.01 / M.28 / S.58.

UNIVERSITAS ISLAM NEGERI
ALAUDDIN
MAKASSAR

Religion and beliefs is a most important part in a culture, in this movie the reseracher had found any religion and beliefs. As such as in datum IV until X. In the first time PK has already strated to do a ritual in every religion, like take a bath in the Ganges river and also do the funeral that people of Muslim do.

In India, Hindu believed the Ganges river is the way to ascend from earth to heaven. Why the ashes and bones of the bodies that have been cremated usually discharged into the Ganges river, in order to facilitate his soul ascends to the heaven. Indian citizens also believed, the water of the Ganges was considered to purify and eliminated the sin of human and also for pilgrimage and ritual bath.

Indian citizens pay homage to the goddess Ganges by signing into the Ganges river, then take the water with their both hands, lifted it and then dumped them back. This ritual was performed by PK when he was got tired with the diversity of cultures and beliefs had been held by the citizens Indian.

Finished to do the ritual bath in river Ganges, then he did the funeral rites performed by the Muslim in India. It was where the people of Muslim believed that humans originated from the soil, if their got dead they had been go back to the ground.

ALAUDDIN
MAKASSAR

The datum above explains, every religion and country has own beliefs. Every religion has a sacred ritual that must be performed by any people, this stated who said by Manohar. This datum was to proved one of the most important element in a culture, the diversity of religions and beliefs held by any group.

2) Datum V. H.01 / M.29 / S.56.

In English Churches or Anglican, Catholic east as Copts and churches Suryani, Roman Catholic, ancient Catholic, Orthodox oriental and several other Churches, those are believed that holy water has been purified by a priest or a bishop or a person whose capacity. It was can be used for a baptism, or commonly called a blessing.

In Hindu ritual, baptism was an very important as one of the ritual and rites of main reception, In this movie, baptism have done by PK, when he was confused after looking for his remote, but he does not found it. He was performed the baptism when he join into the Catholic Christian.

Besides Christiani, he has taken the ritual dancing with the dead, in this ritual, people who deceased exhumed from his/her grave and taken back to alive. Madagascar called this ritual as “Famadihana”.

Every seven years this ritual departed ancestors dug up from the grave and changed their clothes, after do that, the family was taken the corpse to danced with live music. The animals had sacrificed and distributed to the guest, while the elders was explained how important a figure ancestor were invited to the dance.

Beliefs was something very upheld by a religion or people, this belief has been handed down since the ancestor and now was guarded and maintened by a religion or a country.

The datum above was described how the religion and country has any beliefs and diverse of confidence. The opinion above was in accordanced with Manohar's opinion, he stated, beliefs is legacy of a people and is still held firm and maintened its purity.

3) Datum VI. H.01 / M.30 / S.33.

Bathing sculpture of Buddha with milk, has become a habit for many Budhiest in various countries n this world. This ritual usually was celebrated the birth of Prince Siddhartha, this practiced directly adopted from the Buddha's life and still maintained for today by the Budhiest all over in this world.

Indian Hindu believed, ritual provide an important message "it was easy to provide physical dirt, but it was very difficult to cleaned the inner dirt". PK performed this ritual in the middle of the Budhiest, this ritual was performed by PK because he wanted to found the remote control, and he had done the performed or ritual he had found.

Religion is a organized collection of beliefs. Culture system and human outlook that connect people with the order and others and life itself. There are many system or role in a religion, therefore to known what is the religions we need to find common points and differences. In this datum the researcher try to correlated with the statement by Manohar, he stated religion is an institutions that regulate the spiritual life of human.

4) Datum VII. H.01 / M.31 / S.03.

Manohar who said, religion and beliefs of the people in every civilization play an important role in shaping up of the culture as well. Based on the stated the researcher had found it.

Every thing done by him, always sticking with the sculpture, for example, during exercise he always carries a sculpture of Lakshmi, and when conducting business transactions he shows a sculpture of Hanuman her business smoothly and successfully.

because of interaction between people who has different methods or perception.

The cause of conflict itself is diverse, such as of something that was not in accordanced with our expectations as well as another. This is in accordanced with the opinion of Kennedy who said, interpersonal conflict is experienced by an individual with himself because of the pressure and expectations beyond and the role different from the wishes or expectations.

Conflict can be experienced by every individual, between individuals and between organizations, conflicts became commonplace difficulty that can not be avoided but can be muted.

The conflict has told in this datum, interpersonal conflict. PK felt he had been lied to by his situation, he was disappointed with the God, he was hard to believed again in the words of those around them. he want to back to his place, but he did not know how he would return, the only way he could go home is by finding the remote control. he was doing his best to be able to find the remote control, but there is no way, he had tried his best but has not produced results.

To hold someone's hand, he will know what was being experienced by the people. He began held the woman's hand. The woman were shocked and tried to release her hand, as he yelled at her. In shortly after that, came a man who nearly beat him and say "how dare you disturb the widower?, then PK ask to the man, how did you know that she was a widower?, then the man answered. Then he adds, one man who said to me, the woman who wear a white dress it meants she was a widower, then the woman said, who sorrowed will wear black dress. PK was expelled from the place and some people petled his with a bunch of flowers.

This conflict occurs because of the difference in perception between one human and another, this statement had been stated by Kennedy. Conflict is a normal part of human interaction. It is necessary to a certain extent. It must not always presume war. It can manifest at multiple levels, including behavioral, emotional, or perspective dimensions in conflict" this statement had been stated by Kennedy.

Based on datum above, a clash of ideas or action has been generally hapenned in human life because of different perception.
