ABSTRACT

Thesis Title	:	Developing Simple Present Tense Materials Dealing with 2013 Curriculum of The Eight Grade on SMPN 2 Sungguminasa, Gowa

This research proposed to develop Simple Present Tense Materials based on 2013 curriculum of the Eighth Grade Student at SMPN 2 Sungguminasa, Gowa. According to the interview outcome on May 2016 with the English teacher at SMPN 2 Sungguminasa Gowa who revealed that there are still many obstacles faced by teachers in implementing the 2013 curriculum, both the teacher and the students said there must be an innovative research refer both students' book and teacher's based on their needs. In addition, teacher on implementing the 2013 curriculum was unprepared and the students faced difficulties in learning English since they did not have many references except the students' book that provided by the government.

The research design used in this study was research and development (R & D). The development model used was ADDIE model. It stands for analysis, design, develop, implement, and evaluate. The procedures included analysing materials needed by students, designing the blueprint, developing the materials through the syllabus of 2013 curriculum. The outcome product was tried out to the eight grade students at SMPN 2 Sungguminasa. Then, it will be evaluated by the experts. Type of data obtained in this study is qualitative. The instruments used in this study were questionnaire and rubrics for teacher, students and expert.

The result of the first research question is that to know the students' needs on learning, it needs three stuffs. They are to identify the organization materials, the content materials, and the learning materials. In the oraganization materials, all students wish for the pre study-orientations before studying. They wanted directly listen to the teacher's explanation. The students resembled if the materials were given in drawing content and prefer cartoon and real picture design models they notice in the daily life. When it comes to the content materials, it consisted of two implies, i.e., the students opted for being provided a dialog that occur in their environment or had a dialog with their folk. They would like to be afforded a cartoon and real picture in design when learning simple present tense material. Also, the students like accept the theory in learning simple present tense material and students need all of the items to make a conversation about simple present tense material.

Last, in learning material, students imply that the students prefer a learning model with discussion. They also have a preference to do the project with a group, and when they are asked to present a learning material they would like to present it with their group. However, students want the teacher to combine the teaching process with "games activity".

The result of the second research question is that creating a newly developed reference for the eight grade students on junior high school in learning English material especially in learning simple present tense. The product can be used as other references in learning English for many considerations for instance, it was developed by first identifying students' need which became the foundation on developing the product, it is very colorful who fits the students' interest to build their attention on studying it, the material was developed in simplicity. It refers to the way the materials provided for students. It is easy to be used and with clear instruction.

In this research, teacher and expert were involved in order to validate the product. There are two aspects that they validated. They are organization of the Materials and Content of English material. To sum-up, the result of this student's book analyzed by the expert was well-qualified as on reference used in teaching English material. So, the product was expected to be able to help both the teachers and students in learning and teaching English especially simple present tense materials.

CHAPTER I

INTRODUCTION

This chapter deals with background of the study, research focuses, research objectives, research significants, research scope, and operational definition of terms.

A. Background

Among various sources of education, curriculum is the most significant element which contributes to improve learners' ability and potency (Richard, 2001: XI). Accordingly, curriculum that emphasizes competency is very crucial and needed. Such curriculum should become an instrument which guides learners to become: first, qualified human beings who are able to face the challenge of time proactively; second, educated human beings who are faithful, have piety toward the Lord, and have good morals, knowledeable, creative, and self-directed; and third, democratic and responsible citizens (Kemendikbud, 2014). The implementation of competency-based curriculum is one of the strategies of national education building (Law 20 year 2003 on National Education System) (Ministry of Education and Culture, 2012: 3).

Since 1947, the Indonesian government has created and implemented no less than ten different national curricula. The latest curriculum established earlier 2013 with Indonesia's new 2013 curriculum. The improvement of 2013 curriculum according to Ministry of Education and culture is reflecting some principles. Those principles are: first, curriculum must be designed by giving opportunity to learners to improve the differences in skill and interest; second, curriculum must be centered on potency, improvement, need, and benefit of learners and his environment. curriculum must be designed based on the principle that learners is on central position and must be active while learning; third, curriculum must be perceptive to change of knowledge, culture, technology, and art; forth, curriculum must be relevant with need of life (Sino-US English Teaching, August 2015).

Those above reasons engage all of fields of subjects, including teaching and learning English.In the learning process, teachers hold a very crucial demand due to the fact that they will determine whether both learning objectives and student competency are accomplished. However, most teacher nowdays has less attention to the ability of handling the student and class circumstances. On the other hands, they do not provide meaningfull teaching, methods used is less varied. As a consequence, the students will find it difficult to has a motivation in studying.

According to the interview on May 2016 with the English teacher at SMPN 2 Sungguminasa Gowa revealed that there are still many obstacles faced by teachers in implementing the 2013 curriculum. First, the 2013 curriculum does not fit all schools for instance, uninadequate school assistance and different intakes of students such as, school in city is different from school in countryside. Second, the syllabus has a national principles so that the teacher does not have the authority to make their mark. Third, the lack of teachers' competence deals with the implementation of the 2013 curriculum. They do not have many specialized trainings dealing with it. Forth, it is related with both student's book and teacher's. The book has actually been good but based on the interview that the students need some addition activities and assignments which consist of skills in the learning materials. So, it will fully be helpful in teaching process. On the other hands, teacher needs a stuff that can literally be a proper weapon in teaching.

Also, according to previous researcher who completed a related study, motivates us to carry out the similar object. She is Nurul Suciana Adam. She is a graduate student from UIN Alauddin Makassar. She conducted a research on MTsN Balang-Balang, Gowa, 2015 and formulated a study entitled "Developing English materials dealing with 2013 Curriculum of the Seventh Grade in MTsN Balang-Balang. She found that there must be a great introduction of the new curriculum to the rest of teachers in Indonesia related with student's book. Hence, they can literally master how to implement it properly. In addition, there must be an innovative research refer both students' book and teacher's based on their needs.

Therefore, designing English teaching materials in the form of coursebook is the preeminent approach to conquer the irrelevant components on English teaching materials on the 2013 curriculum. Furthemore, the researcher developed English teaching materials according to the instructional materials and the lesson plans pass on the basic competences in the syllabus for the eight grade students of SMPN 2 Sungguminasa, Gowa.

In this case, the researcher developed the syllabus on 2013 curriculum referred the 3.7 and 4.7 basic competence. These two basic competences focus on present tense material. It states and asks some actions and events which occur routinely or something that considered as the general facts. According to our observation by interviewing the teacher and some of students related with this learning material stated that the content is less of practices and activities. Also, the way to provide the materials does not support their motivation to studying. So, it cannot systematically enrich their skills in English i.e., listening, speaking, reading, and writing. Hence, it comes up a study entitled "Material Development For Basic Competences 3.7 And 4.7 of The 2013 English Syllabus For The Eighth Grade At Junior High School 02 Sungguminasa, Gowa" for completing the teacher recent coursebook toward students' need.

B. Research Problem

Based on the background described previously, it arises problem statements as follows, "How to produce a compatible instructional material Based on 2013 curriculum at the eighth grade students on junior high school 02 Sungguminasa, Gowa?"

1. What are the students's need dealing with the existance of simple present tense materilas based on 2013 curriculum at the eighth grade students of junior high school 02 Sungguminasa, Gowa?

2. How is the development of the simple present tense materilas based on 2013 curriculum?

C. Research Objective

Based on the research problem that stated previously, the research objective as follows, "To produce a compatible instructional material based on 2013 curriculum at the eight grade of junior high school"

1. To identify the student's need dealing with the existence of instructional material based on 2013 curriculum.

2. To develop. the instructional material based on asking attention, check understanding, apprecition of work, giving and response opinion materials.

D. Research Significance

The result of this research is useful to enrich the reader and the writer's knowledge about how to design a proper instructional materials based on student's need. Furthermore, it also hopes that this research can be used as a reference for other researchers especially for under graduated students who are interested in doing further study about the related.

a. Theoretical Significance

This study is expected to develop simple present tense materials in the 3.7 and 4.7 basic competence for the eighth grade students in SMPN 2 Sungguminasa, Gowa.

b. Practical Significances

1. Significance for the Students

By this research, the students understand the materials easily and they will have a big motivation to study the simple present tense materials because it hasbeen developed interestingly.

2. Significance for the Teachers

This research literally expects for being a sample, reference or complementary source for teaching. The product of this research is also able to be used by the teacher to teach based on the students' need in teaching process based on 2013 curriculum.

3. Significance for the Researcher

By this research, it can give an unforgettable experience and also add the researcher's knowledge especially on how to design an interesting book and how to develop a material which is based in 2013 curriculum.

E. Research Scope

This research was held to find out and solve the problem of the students' lack of mastering the instructional material. This research was conducted in the level of junior high school. The research focused on the developing of English teaching materials refer to 3.6 and 4.7 basic competences in the syllabus for the eight grade students of SMPN 2 Sungguminasa, Gowa. It was concerning on stating and asking some actions and events which occur routinely or something that considered as the general facts. This learning materials dealt with some activities that guided both the students and the teachers in classroom i.e., observing, asking, collecting information, associating, and communicating.

In addition, this research applied ADDIE model as its development model. In this case, applying all the steps of ADDIE model was possible to create the instructional materials.In the evaluation phase, the formative and summative evaluation were coming in decision to be applied. However, it was conducted in simple form for some considerations i.e., time and funds.

F. Operational Definition of Terms

The title of this research is "Material Development for Basic Competences 3.7 and 4.7 of The 2013 English Syllabus For The Eighth Grade At Junior High School 02 Sungguminasa, Gowa". In providing a good understanding, it is betterprovide the definition of key terms. They are:

1. Material

The term material in language teaching refers to everything used to help teaching language learners and to facilitate teachers and learners in the language learning (Richards and Schmidt, 2002). It could be in the form of linguistic, visual, audithory, or kinesthetic. It may be presented in print, audio, or video form. In this research, the researcher develop present tense material which concern on stating and asking some actions and events which occur routinely or something that considered as the general facts dealing with 2013 curriculum for the Eight Grade students.

2. Material Development

According to Tomlinson (1998: 2), material development is everything made by people (the writers, the teachers, or the learners) to give and utilize information and provide experience of the using language, which is designed to promote language learning. So, in developing materials they need to identify, first, learners' needs and consider the objective of the learning. Then, they can develop the materials by adapting them in order to improve or to make them more suitable to learners' needs. Adaptation can be carried out by reducing, adding, omitting, modifying, and supplementing learning materials (Tomlinson, 1998). Tomlinson also sums up some basic principles of developing learning materials for language learning as follows:

1) Materials should achieve impact is achieved when students are interested, curious, and pay much attention to the material.

2) Materials should help learners to feel at ease sometimes, students feel uninterested, anxious, and bored during teaching and learning process. When students are at ease, however, they are comfortable and relaxed when producing language.

3) Materials should help learners to develop confidence when students are at ease, they can develop their confidence in producing the language during the teaching and learning process.

4) What is being taught should be perceived by learners as relevant and useful the material being taught should be related to learners' needs and learners' interests. They should be able to practice it by using their target language not only in their real-life but also in the classroom.

5) Materials should require and facilitate learner self-investment the material, even media, should allow students to carry out many activities in learner-centered classroom. The media should also facilitate students when they do the activities.

6) Learners must be ready to acquire the point being taught teacher can use the material that is familiar with sudents' life. It means that the material should be related to students' interest and students' needs.

3. Present Tense Material

Present Tense is a material based on 3.6 and 4.7 basic Competences of the eight grade syllabus of 2013 Curriculum. It is one of applied tenses that tell about something happen in the present. Simple Present tense material is about stating and asking some actions and events which occur routinely or something that considered as the general facts.The first subtopic is about routine or habitual actions or events.

4. English Subject Syllabus

It refers to the concept or planning about English as a suject consisting basic comptence, learning material, learning activities, indicator, evaluaton, time, and source or media in learning (David Nunan: 1988). In this case, the developing English material refers to simple present tense. It concern on stating and asking some actions and events which occur routinely or something that considered as the general facts dealing with 2013 curriculum for the Eight Grade students.

CHAPTER II

REVIEW OF RELATED LITERATURE

This part centers around the study of some previous research findings on the related topics to the descriptive text materials and the formulation of conceptual framework.

 A.   Literature Review

1. Some Previous Research Findings

These were some previous related rsearch findings. Some of them were stated below:

Tegeh and Kirna (2013) revealed that the purpose of the study determined into measured the development of teaching materials for educational research method by using ADDIE model and the results of trials of teaching materials of research method for educational development. The model used was the development of ADDIE Model (analyze, design, development, implementation, evaluation). In the conclusion, it was said that the trial results showed individual instructional materials were in a good qualification and the field test results indicate that well-qualified teaching materials.

Kartika et, al. (2014) indicated that the learners were low of learning capacity because lacking instructional media for increasing student's intention so that there was a research about instructional video media product in introducing the fruit and vegetable names in English Lesson. This research was about development research. After passing the production stage, the early product was produced and then validated by a subject matter content expert, subject design expert, and instructional media expert. Data collection instrument was such as evaluation sheets for expert test and students test. Next, the data analysis used the descriptive analysis of qualitative and quantitative descriptive. In summarizing this study, it concluded that this instructional video media product had a good validity level and proper to use in English lesson.

Ghozali (2011) conducted R and D to create English textbook for vocational high school. He concluded that, the newly designed textbook using R and D was signicantly effective in enhancing students' achievement in learning English. Based on the findings, he drawn conclussions about the increasing of the quality of teaching English for students could be conducted through improving the quality of the textbook.

Sukirman (2012) on his research "Developing English Morphology Course Material for undergraduate students" stated that most students were not interested and motivated to learn English Morphology as one of the most difficult courses and after identifying the problems and analyzing the factor. He designed and develop English Morphology book as perfect as possible to build up students' motivation and stimulate them to be autonomous learners.

Based on the previous research above, it summarized that, indeed, developing materials were needed to help students to understand easily and as the provided sources to practice English language skill i.e., receptive and productive skills. It was also to create active learning situation around the students. In the implementation training handbook of 2013 curriculum competence was stated that lesson plan developed for the students learning principle actively through four activities. They are; 1) observing included seeing, reading, listening and heeding; 2) questioning included oral and written; 3) analyzing included connecting, determining, building the concept; and, 4) communicating included oral, written, picture, chart, table, presentation, and so on.

2. Some Pertinent Ideas

a. Concept of Materials Development

Many experts defined Materials Development. Yaumi (2012: 181) says that developing material is instruction or not only as learner but also the deliverer who stand every day in front of the class.

Furthermore, Richard (2001: 2) states language curriculum development refers to the field of applied linguistic. It describes an interrelate set of processes that focuses on designing, revising, implementing, and evaluating language. In addition, Brian (2011: 2) materials development is both a field of study and a practical undertaking. As a field it studies the principle and procedures of the design, implementation, and evaluation of language teaching materials.

According to (Nunan, 1991), material development is basically dealing with selection, adaptation, and creation of teaching materials. In practice, it focused on evaluation, adaptation of published materials and creation (development of teaching materials with the existing syllabus).

According to Tomlinson (1998: 2), material development is everything made by people (the writers, the teachers, or the learners) to give and utilize information and provide experience of the using language, which is designed to promote language learning. So, in developing materials they need to identify, first, learners' needs and consider the objective of the learning. Then, they can develop the materials by adapting them in order to improve or to make them more suitable to learners' needs. Adaptation can be carried out by reducing, adding, omitting, modifying, and supplementing learning materials.

b. Concept of Present Tense Materials

Present Tense is one of the materials in 2013 Curriculum syllabus at the first semester of seventh grade student. It concerns on stating and asking some actions and events which occur routinely or something that considered as the general facts dealing with 2013 curriculum.

The first subtopic is about routine or habitual actions or events.

-The police hold ceremony every Monday.

- They wear a good uniform.

-The usually wake up on time in early.

-I usually get up at five in the morning.

-Bambang, my lovely dog likes to sleep on sofa.

The second subtopic is about general facts/ truths. The text structure as shown below:

-The Iceberg melts....

- The sun rises from the east.

-How does salt taste?

- It tastes salty.

-The earth is round.

The sentences above are simple present tense. Also, simple present tense is used to tell about routine/ habitual actions or events.

For example:

☐   I usually make my own homework.

☐   She goes to school every day.

☐   Simple present tense is often followed by adverb of frequency for instance, usually, sometimes, always, often, rarely, seldom, never, and ever. For example: They sometimes walk to school.

☐   Simple present tense is also followed by letter "s" and "es" if the subject is the third person singular for instance, she, he, it. For example: He loves to eat gado-gado in school canteen, she watches science video.

The third person singular's rule:

In simple present tense, we normally add "S" to the end of the verb in the third person singular.

Looks	opens	sits	reads	stands
Gives	wears	plays	cooks	sings
Puts	visits	enjoys	breaks	talks

☐   She speaks three languages

☐   He plays guitar very well

☐   Arya Nayaka sings a song every morning.

The third person singular's rule:

If the verb ends in SS, X, CH, SH or the letter O, we add "ES" in the third person singular.

Kiss => kisses

Fix => fixes

Teach => teaches

Crash => crashes

Go => goes

If the verb ends in a consonant + Y, we remove the Y and + "IES" in the third person singular.

Study => studies

Hurry => hurries

Deny => denies

Carry => carries

c. Concept of syllabus

A syllabus is a statement of content which is used as the basis for planning courses of various kinds. The task of the syllabus designer is to select and grade this content, or whether they should also attempt to specify and grade learning tasks and activities. Any syllabus will express certain assumptions about language, the phychological process of learning, and the pedagogic and social processes within a classroom. (Breen: 49 in David Nunan "Syllabus design")

d. Concept of 2013 curriculum

In Modul Pelatihan Implementasi Kurikulum (2014: 4), the 2013 Curriculum is the development of curriculum with basic competence from the previous curriculum in KBK 2004 and KTSP 2006 which has attitude, knowledge, and skill. There are four competences for the 2013 Curriculum:

1) Kompetensi inti-1 (KI-1) for religious competence

2) Kompetensi inti-2 (KI-2) for social competence

3) Kompetensi inti-3 (KI-3) for cognitive competence

4) Kompetensi inti-4 (KI-4) for skill competence.

B. Theoretical Framework

ADDIE MODEL

(based on the basic competence on the syllabus in 2013 curriculum)

Analysis	Design	Development	Implementation	Evaluation

This research trys to offer a new way out by developing English materilas for the eight grade student of junior high school. The researcher used three steps in conducting this research.

First was providing questionnaires for the student and conducting an interview with the teacher about the latest students' book based on 2013 curriculum. The problem that students faced in learning present tense material that unschynchronize between the latest book and students' intake of SMP N 2 Sungguminasa, Gowa. Therefore, they think that it cannot systematically improve their skill in English. Second was devoloping Present Tense Material based on what they need. T*hird* was committing an evaluation. This research used formative evaluation to recognize that the development materilas had fitted them.

The outcome of this research is a printed materials about present tense consisting of materials and task for the eight grade of junior high school.

CHAPTER III

METHOD OF THE RESEARCH

This chapter discusses research and development method of this study. It includes research method, development model, research subject, types of data, research instrument, data collecting procedure, try-out of product, and data analyzing technique.

A. Research Method

This research used Research and Development (R&D). R&D is a name of research method consisiting the classroom problem, studying recent theories of education, product development, developing the educational products, validating the product to experts, and field testing the products (Latief, 2014: 171).

Research and Development (R&D) has various models which can be applied such as Sugiyono model, Addie model, Brog and Gall model, Dick and Carey model, Kemp model, ADDIE model and so on. Research and Development is a process used to develop and validate educational products. The steps of this process well known as the R&D cycle. First is studying research findings partinent to the product to be developed. Second is developing the product based on the finding, field testing in the setting where it will be used eventually. Third is revising it to correct the deficiencies found in the field of testing stage (Brog and Gall, 1983: 772).

B. Research and Development Model

This research applied ADDIE model. It was developed by Florida State University to explain "the processes involved in the formulation of instructional System Development (ISD) program for military inter service training that will adequately train individuals to do a particular job and which can also be applied to any inter service curriculum development activity ". The model originally contained several steps under its five original steps (Analysis, Design, Development, Implementation and Development). The idea was to complete each steps before moving to the next. Over the years, practitioners revised the steps, and eventually the model became more dynamic and interactive than the original hierarchical version. By the mid-1990s, the version familiar today appeared.

ADDIE model applied in this research because the model was very useful having stages clearly defined which made implementation of instructions effectively. It strived to save time and money by catching problems while they were still easy to fix. It also provided simple procedures to design and development materials.

The procedures in developing Simple Present Tense as the chosen material with ADDIE model provides five phases for instance, analyzing, designing, developing, implementing, and evaluating.

Analysing is the foundation for all other phases of instructional design. It included analysing the questionnaire and it then distributed to the students to know what their needs. Identifying the goals and objectives of the course based on the syllabus of the 2013 curriculum at the school. During this phase, there must be a defenition of problem, identify the source of the problem and determine possible solutions.

Designing is the process which involve the activities for the designing the blueprint of the English materials dealing with using outputs from the analyze phase to plan a strategy for developing the instruction. During this phase, there must be anoutline on how to reach the instructional goals determined during the analyze phase and expand the instructional foundation.

Developing is the process of authoring andproducing the materials. Also, it builds both the analysis and design phases. The purpose of this phase is to produce the lesson plans and lesson materials. During this phase, it will develop the instruction, all media that will be used in the instruction, and any supporting documentation. There are four steps that will be use in this phase. First, list the activities in the material which can assist the students to learn about it. Second, choose the best way which is appropriate with the student' needs and it may consider some scientific aproach and learnng methods in the 2013 curriculum to support learning objectives and materials.

Third, develop the previous materials o the syllaus and produce the materials on the syllabus and produces the materials innovatively about simple present tense. Fourth, validate the product to the experts to make sure whether the product is appropriate to the learners' needs as well as the goals and the objectives of the course or not. The final product is ready to be implemented in try out activity.

Implementing is the process of installing the project inthe real world context. The purpose of this phase is to see how effective and efficient the product that the writer has made. This phase must promote the student's understanding of material, support the student's mastery of objectives, and ensure the student's transfer of knowledge from the instructional setting to the job. It deals with the activity where the product is going to be implemented the the real learning and teaching situation.

This phase also aims to know whether the product has fulfilled the objectives of the course or not.

Evaluating is the process of determining the adequacy of the instruction. Evaluation should actually occur throughout the entire instructional design process. It may be formative or summative. The formative evaluation is ongoing during and between phases. The purpose of this type of evaluation is to improve the instruction before the final version is implemented. The summative evaluation usually occurs after the final version of instruction is implemented. This type of evaluation assesses the overall effectiveness of the instruction. Data from the summative evaluation is often used to make a decision about the instruction.

C. Research Subject

The subject of the research was the student of the eight grade of SMPN 2 Sungguminasa, Gowa. The subject was selected as the sample because the English teacher of the second year students in this school has been using 2013 Curriculum in teaching the materials in the class.

D. Types of Data

Type of data that was used through this research was the qualitative data. Qualitative data were gathered from the questionnaire and rubric in general. The qualitative data obtains the data by get the understanding or underlying reasons, opinions and motivations. It was also used to get more information into issues of the interest and explore nuances related to the problem.

E. Research Instrument

There were two kinds of instrument used in this research. They are questionnaire and rubric. Firstly, questionnaire that disseminated to the students was to know the need of them then composed the need analysis based on what it was got from the questionnaire. Secondly, rubric that was adapted from Ghobrani and Widyatmoko as cited in Miftahul Khair (2015) was used to evaluate or validate the product that included worksheet for expert's comment and suggestion, and worksheet for expert's revision.

F. Data Collecting Procedure

This research used qualitative data. The qualitative data was gathered from the questionnaire and rubric as written in the research instrument above. The procedure of the data collecting achieved by these ways: Firstly, made a questionnaire about students' needs then disseminated it to the students. Secondly, analyzed the result of the questionnaire that given to students. It analyzed qualitatively. Thirdly, input the validation, comments, suggestions, and revision of the experts which gathered from rubric.

G. Try Out

1. Subject

The try-out of the subject was the second grade students of junior high school 2 Sungguminasa, Gowa. It opted for a class as a sample of this research which it may be consisted of thirty students.

2. Design

The coursebook that the researcher produced was expecting to support learning process which was according to the student's need and to provide a good coursebook that was designed by giving opportunity to learners to improve the differences in skill and interest.

H. Data Analysis Technique

After gaining the data from this research, the upcoming step was to utilize a kind of technique in analyzing obtained data named qualitative. Miles and Huberman in Thomas (1994: 10) stated that qualitative data analysis consists of three concurrent flows of activity: data reduction, data display, and conclusion drawing/verification.

Data reduction phase referred to select, focus, simplify, abstract, and transform data that appeared in comments, notes, suggestions, rubrics, and questionnaires to short descriptions. Then, considered the relevant strings of the data in advance by making codes. Thomas (2006) stated that the goal of data reduction was to get the bigger picture from the data while coding helps break down the data into smaller parts, data reduction was the process of abstracting back out from the particular to the conceptual.

The second phase was data display. It was endeavoured to organize the compressed information in the previous phase and assembling it in ways that helped to draw conclusions. It could be an extended piece of text or a diagram, chart, or matrix that provides a new way of arranging and thinking about the more textually embedded data. Silverman in Thomas (2000) stated that data displays, whether in word or diagrammatic form, allowed the analyst to extrapolate from the data enough to begin to discern systematic patterns and interrelationships. At the display stage, additional, higher order categories or themes may emerge from the data that went beyond those first discovered during the initial process of data reduction.

The last phase was conclusion drawing/verification. It was attempted to describe what the writer observes in the data (meanings, observations). This measure referred back to the data displays and raw data as descriptions or causal statements were made.

CHAPTER IV

FINDINGS AND DISCUSSION

This chapter involves of two sections, i.e., findings and discussion. This section proves all the data which obtained during the research and clarify every component that was developed in this research. The problem statements of this study are also countered in this section.

A. Findings

The result of the research comes to an end by applying ADDIE model which had been done on the development phase. Furthermore, this section provides some results in the developing English materials for simple present tense materials. They consist of the result of analysis, the result of product design by utilizing the qualitative method, and the results of validation by analysing the correction and suggestion from experts.

1. The result of analyzing Phase

a. The result of content analysis of materials based on the syllabus

The result of content analysis based on the materials in the syllabus of 2013 Curriculum covering the 3.7 and 4.7 basic competencies were expected to the students to able to state and ask some actions or events which occur routinely or something considering as general facts or truth. First, the core topic have been designed into several subtopics which appropriate with 4 meeting learnings. They are routine actions or events, general facts, and habitual events. Second, every meeting has a core skill that was integrated one another in flows of skill that were arranged sistematically. In addition, learning activities deal with scientific approach consisting of observing, questioning, collecting information, associating, and communicating. Third, the developed learning instruction referring to the type of activities is consisted of individual, pair, and group activitiy, the amount of activities, and text structure. These materials were developed systematically in order to provide suitable materials for the eighth grade students of SMPN 2 Sungguminasa, Gowa.

b. The result of need analysis of developing learning materials based on the student's questioinaires

The questionaires consisted of three parts. The first is systematic organization of integrated English materials. The second is systematic English teaching which appropriate with the learning activities. The third is systematic content of English materials covered the syllabus of the 2013 curriculum. After distributing the questionaires in systematic organization of integrated English materials part, the findings were concluded in this part into a table as demonstrated below:

Table 3.1 Result of questionnaire part A

Part	Number	Question	Answer	Conclusion	Recommendation
A	1	Do you like if the teacher gives you the learning formation before the class started?	1. Yes = 194 2. No = 9	Most of the students opted for getting learning formation before the class began.	before learn there will be a learning formation.
	2	What kind of opening formation do you like most?	1. Ice Breaking =23 2. Warming Up =20 3. Pray Only = 10 4. Motivation story =59 5. Small Games =36 6. All stated above = 53	Students opted for getting motivation story in advance in starting the class	Motivation story will be one of opening learning formation before the class is started.

3	When the class starts, what kind of act do you like?	1. Listen to the teacher's explanation directly =102 2. Directly to practice =32 3. Reading the instruction from the book=67	They decided to listen to the teacher's explanation directly.	The students will listen the explanation from the teacher.
4	What kind of learning material that you like?	1. Text =73 2. Drawing =75 3. Dialogue =29 4. Presentation =24	They prefer if the materials served with the drawing content.	The learning material will be served with drawing content.
5	What kind of book design that you wish for?	1. Drawing = 79 2. With colors = 101 3. Black and white =21	The students prefer the colorful drawing.	The book will be designed with many colors.
6	What kind of design model that you wish for?	1. Caricature=17 2. Cartoon =83 3. Real picture = 101	There are sixteen of thirty two studentsprefer "Real	There will be

In part A, all students wish for the pre study-orientations before studying. They wanted directly listen to the teacher's explanation. The students resembled if the materials were given in drawing content and prefer cartoon and real picture design model as they notice in the daily life. Furthermore, part B came into a conclusion as shown in a table below;

Table 3.2*Result of questionnaire part B*

Part B	Number	Question	Answer	Conclusion	Recommendation
	1	In what situation in dialog do you prefer when learning simple present tense materials?	1. Dialogue in school = 50 2. Dialog in house = 70 3. Dialog in environment/ with folk = 81	Most of students prefer dialog situation in environment/ with folk.	The newly coming product should consist on dialogue in environment or conversation with their folks.
	2	In providing picture in simple	1. Cartoon = 60	The students	The course present tense materials, what do you prefer?	2. Real picture = 56 3. All stated above = 85	prefer real picture and cartoon in design when learning simple present tense material.	book should include real picture and cartoon.

	3	In learning simple present tense material, what way do you like?	1. Accept the theory = 74 2. Playing games = 48 3. Watching video = 20 All = 59	The students like accept the theory in learning simple present tense material.	The students will learn the materials by giving the theory.
	4	In make a conversation about simple present tense material, what do you need?	1. The example of conversation in the text book = 35 2. The example of conversation by your teacher = 20 3. Glossary = 65 All = 81	The students need all of the items to make a conversation about simple present tense material.	The students will be given the example of conversation from the text book about simple present tense material and glossary to make a conversation.

This part consisted of two implies, i.e., students opted for being provided a dialog that occur in their environment or had a dialog with their folk. They would like to be afforded a cartoon and real picture in design when learning simple present tense material. Also, the students like accept the theory in learning simple present tense material and students need all of the items to make a conversation about simple present tense material. Furthemore, the students will learn the materials by giving the theory. In addition, the students will be given the example of conversation from the text book about simple present tense material and glossary to make a conversation.Then, in part C was found data as shown in the table below;

Table 3.3*Result of questionnaire part C*

Part	Number	Question	Answer		Conclusion	Recommendation
C	1	What kind of learning model do you like?	4. Individual =24 5. Pair =34 6. Project group =57 7. Discussion= 86		Discussion is a learning model students prefer.	The students will be taught with many discussion
	2	If you are asked to do a project in the class, what kind of model project do you choose?	1. Individual project=8 2. Pair project =24 3. Group project =169		The student opted for the Group project.	The students will be divided in some group to do a project class
	3	If you are asked to present a related learning material, what kind of presentation model do you choose?	1. Individual presentation =29 2. Pair presentation =53 3. Group presentation =119		The students prefer present the materials in Group	The students will be asked to present the materials in group

	4	Do you like a teaching that combined with game activities?	1. Yes=189 2. No=9	The students prefer game activities combined in teaching.	The learning process will be combined with game activities
	5	What difficulties that you face in learning English (simple present tense)?	1. The students do not have many related vocabularies 2. The students are difficult to memorize the new vocabulary. 3. The students are difficult to translate the materials in source language. 4. The students are difficult to concentrate during the learning and teaching process.		The newly coming product should drill student improve their vocabulary and it should be designed interestingly.

Part C consisted of 5 questions along with students' imply that the students prefer a learning model with discussion. They also have a preference to do the project with a group, and when they are asked to present a learning material they would like to present it with their group. However, students want the teacher to combine the teaching process with "games activity". Also, it is found that some obstacles faced by students when they learn simple present tense; 1) Students do not have many related vocabularies, 2) Students are difficult to memorize a dialogue and vocabulary, 3) Students are difficult to translate the lesson into the source language, and 4) It is difficult for students to concentrate during the learning process.

c. The result of need analysis of Expert judgment suggestion

The questionnaire that used by the researcher to analyze the students' needs ware originally designed. At the first time, it was designed by deciding the components that would be put on the questionnaire. It was done with three parts. The first part consisted of six questions related to the organization of the materials, the point of the questions was to know the target of the materials systematic. Furthermore, in the second part that consisted of four questions related to the content of materials. These questions were pointed to know the learning systematic that the students' need in order to achieve the target in designing the materials that applicable for the students. Then, in the third part that consisted of five questions, the point of these questions was to know the target that wanted to achieve in systematic of learning materials.

Moreover, this questionnaire was not directly dealt out to the students. It was proposed to the expert to correct and to give suggestion according to the questionnaire made. Then, the expert was suggested to delete and change some components of the answer choice of each question and resulting the final questionnaire that distributed to the students. Therefore, the result of this questionnaire was accepted and validated by the expert since it was relevant and applicable for the students.

2. The Design of the Content Materials (Designing Phase)

A design of blue print made in this phase (see appendix 3). The blue print filled up with six components. The components were the topic of each meeting, content of materials, primary skill, flow of skills, scientific approaches that consist of five approaches (observing, questioning, collecting information, associating, and communicating). The last was learning instructions that consist of five parts (pre-study, types of activity, amount of the activity in meeting, text structure used, and the glossary).

The blueprint subsequently drawn on to develop a module covering 3.7 and 4.7 basic competencies based the syllabus of 2013 Curriculum. The module consists of one topic. It is simple present tense materials. It concerns on routine actions or events, general facts, and habitual events contents.

1) Content Materials

The topic covering 3.7 and 4.7 basic competencies based on the syllabus of 2013 Curriculum leads 4 meetings from 2 contents as stated previously. First and second meetings are to tell something that happens routinely. The third and forth meetings are to tell something that are true in general.

2) Primary Skill and the Flow of Skills

As mentioned before that there are six components in the blue print design and it has already been written the topics and the content materials for each meeting. The other components are primary skill. Primary skill is the main skill that taught in a meeting. Therefore, the flow of skills is the skill flows that appear during the learning process when the materials taught. As known, there are four skills in English. They are reading, writing, listening, and speaking.

In the first meeting, the learning process is started and finished with writing as the core skill and the middle of the process there are reading writing, and speaking skills that related with simple present tense. Differently, the core skill in the second meeting is speaking and writing skill becomes the flow skill. In the third meeting, the core skill is listening. Student will watch video related to general facts. In addition, writing and speaking skill will be the flow skill since the students are asked to present their project orally in front of the class. Then, in the fourth meeting, speaking is the core skill and writing is the flow skill.

3) Scientific Approaches

Scientific approaches consist of five elements based on 2013 Curriculum. They are observing, questioning, collecting information, associating, and communicating. These elements are convinced to make the materials systematic.

In the first meeting, students look and follow the teacher reads the text about routine activities committed by some figures and they are asked to pay attention to some examples provided. In the following activity, students are afforded some sentences related with how to construct sentences in simple present tense. In collecting information phase, students are asked to list some routine activities committed by some figures in group. In this phase, there are 2 examples that can be used by students as references before they fill the blank in the next activity. Also, each student makes their paragraph about routine activities committed by some figures. Last, students are provided some vocabularies used in each meeting.

The second meeting continues the elements in the previous meeting. It consists of associating and communicating phase. In the associating phase, students make some groups consist of five students. They are asked to make agendas about their routine actions or events in a piece of paper. Each paper consists of one agenda. Then, they present it in front of the class in the communicating phase. Next, students are asked to choose two pictures that are provided in activity 7 then explain it using simple present tense. In the following activity, students are asked to decide several situation that they have experience related with their habitual activity. Next, students do question and answer according to the provided actitviy in advance. Last, students are afforded some vocabularies used in each meeting.

In the third meeting, students watch video provided by the teacher about the water cycle. It relates with something considering as general facts. They then are asked to match picture with its name in the questioning phase. Next in the collecting information phase, in pair, students write sophisticated vocabularies uttered in the video then find out their meaning. Then, Students follow the teachers pronounce the vocabularies. The next activity is students fill the blank which is related with something called as general facts. Last, students are provided some vocabularies used in each meeting.

Continued the elements in the meeting previously, the forth meeting consisted of associating and communicating phase. In the associating phase, students are asked to read a dialogue sonsisting some general facts. Then, they write at least 10 general truths or facts they ever experienced in a big paper. Then, they present their works in front of the class. In communicating phase, sudents are ask to perform a conversation related with some general facts. 4) Learning Instruction

Learning instruction shows four parts. They are pre-study, type of activity, amount of activity, text structure, and glossary. Pre-study is something that teacher provides to students in order to make them motivated and ready for studying. Type of activity is the type of the project or assignment given. It can be self-activity, pair activity, group, etc. As stated previously, in the first meeting, the project is group work. For pair and presenting activity, they are in the second, third, and forth meeting.

Furthermore, amount activity is the total of the activity given in a meeting. The first meeting consists of 7 activities. The second meeting has2 activities because it just continues the previous meeting. The third meeting includes 5 activities and follow with the forth meeting which involves 2 activities.

Next, Text structure is the type or kind of structure that used in that material like the tenses or pronoun. As just stated previously, my developing book includes two subtopics. They are routine or habitual actions or events and general facts/ truths. The first subtopic is about routine or habitual actions or events.

- They wear a good uniform.

-The usually wake up on time in early.

- I usually get up at five in the morning.

- Bambang, my lovely dog likes to sleep on sofa.

-The Iceberg melts....

- The sun rises from the east.

-How does salt taste?

= It tastes salty.

-The earth is round.

The last learning instruction is glossary. It is mentioned in the end of each meeting.

In addition, the learning instructions stated previously are designed based on the syllabus of 2013 Curriculum especially in the text structure and activity. Thus, the students' need analysis is also been a resources in designing the product especially in type of activity and the appearance of the product.

3. The Result of the Product Design based on Module (Development Phase)

   a. The Result of Development of Rubric for Expert and Teacher

This section presented some aspects. They included the systematic organization of materials, systematic of English teaching, and systematic content of English. All of the aspects were discussed on the following.

   1) Systematic Organization of Materials

Systematic organization of materials included cover design, layout, organization of materials, and instructional objectives (see appendix 3). First, cover design indicated that the cover is attractive to the learners. Second, layout included with 1) the layout is clear for learners and 2) the layout is attractive to the learners. Third, instructional objectives covered with 1) the instructional objectives are clear, 2) the instructional objectives are understandable, 3) the instructional objectives ordered appropriately, and 4) the instructional objectives reflect to the topic.

2) Systematic of English Teaching

Systematic of English teaching covered activities that contain 3 parts, they were 1) the activities are attractive, 2) the activities are motivated learners, and 3) the activities are varied in format.

3) Systematic content of English

Systematic content of English identified 4 parts. They were example, topic/subtopic, content of the materials, and language. First examples were dealt with 1) the example were clear, 2) the example were understandable, 3) the example are too easy, 4) the example are too difficult, and 5) the example help learners to understand the material. Second, topic/subtopic divided into 1) the topics which were appropriate with the syllabus, 2) the topics were relevant with the learners' need and interest, and 3) the topics were developed attractively.

Third, content of materials measured 1) the content of the materials is clear, 2) the content of the materials is appropriate, 3) the content of the materials is understandable, 4) the content of the materials matches with the goals of the course, 5) the content of the materials matched the objectives of the course, 6) the content of the materials matches with the 2013 Curriculum, students' needs, and interest, 7) the content of the materials are well designed, and 8) the content of the materials is up-to-date. Last, language dispensed 1) the language used was appropriate with students' English proficiency, 2) the language was clear, and 3) the language was understandable

b. The Result of Development and Expert Judgment Suggestion

The expert suggest to present what the students want if most of the students choose the real picture, it means should be there real picture in the module, but it is not mean the model of design like caricature, cartoon was deleted. The expert also told to use the simple language in the content of materials. Forward, the expert said that the material should be implemented immediately.

4. The Result of Implementation (Implementing Phase)

In the implementation phase, there are several indicators that this research focus on. Itis concerned by the experts and teacher's observation during implementing the researcher's product. It is to examine if the researcher's product is suitable with the students or still need to be improved. To examine this stuff, it used rubric (see appendix 3).

In general, experts examined the design that the use of letter is appropriate, the typing is clear, the spacing is consistent, the organization of material in the form of units is appropriate, the instructional objectives are understandable, the topic are appropriate with the syllabus, the example are understandable, the exercise are varied in format, the activities are attractive, the instructions can be done by the learners, the coverage of the materials is appropriate with the curriculum, students' need, and interest, the language used is less appropriate with students' English proficiency, the glossary is well-organized. In addition, the expert said that the language used should fit their education level. It was too academic. Also, paid attention to the letter used. It should be very clear.

The teacher' observation during the implementation of the product declared that the course book taught systematically. First, the reseacher linked the previous lesson with the current lesson. Second, the researcher explained about the advantage of learning the current lesson. Third, the students were shown what achievment that they will accomplish for learning the lesson.

Also, the researcher linked the lesson with the learning instruction and its core material. She added that the setudents were given some contextual material which is good to reach the instructional material easily. Last,the students sometimes were triger to ask some questions.

SMPN 2 Sungguminasa, Gowa is placed on Sungguminasa street. This school has implemented the Indonesia's new coming curriculum which is well known as 2013 curriculum. After conducting the advance observation, then several considerations were raising up related to the on going research. Next, the researcher opted for entering grade eight of SMPN 2 Sungguminasa, Gowa as the chosen sample in this research. Taking six classes from sixteen classes of the eightht grade in this school would be possible.

On 28th February 2016, distributing questionnaire to the setudents became the next agenda to notice students' need analysis as the chosen sample. It was to identify what they need as students to enhance their performance in studying. From that questionnaire, several items were obtained as follows:

Students prefer learning formations before get in to the core lesson. In this case, students opted for having motivation story before studying. Also, listen to the teacher's explanation directly is opted by the student than practicing the lesson directly or reading the instruction from the book. Next, when asking about kinds of learnig material that student prefer, they opted for text material along with its picture. After that, students prefer real picture design to put in the coursebook than cartoon or caricature.

In learning process the interaction between teacher and students were going well. The teacher gave stimulation to them and they responded it correctly. In the beginning, the teacher asked the students about their previous lesson then linked it with the current lesson. They seemed enthusiastic in learning process. Specifically, some of the students were excited on giving some questions and had a good responds when given some feedback. In the end of this session, students were asked to give some matters about the current lesson then try to conclude it. Next, they were given some questions to notice their knowledge about their product.

The product was implemented based on the result of questionnaire that has been distributed to the students. The meeting which implemented was third meeting about simple present tense material.

Firstly, the students gave a learning formation before studied. Motivation story was the learning formation which was given to the students. Secondly, the students were listened the explanation from the teacher about the lesson materials while linked with the previous lessons.

The product was designed with many colors and drawing. The design model was used real pictures, cartoon and caricature.

In learning simple present tense materials, the students opted for various learning methodology like playing game, accept theory from the teacher, and watching videos. The students expressed simple present tense material with role play and studied it in pair. The students needed some examples of conversation, more pictures and glossary to make a dialog about simple present tense material.

Also, the students preferred to simple present tense materials through discussion, group project, and with game activities. The students found some difficulties in learning and teaching especially about simple present tense material for instance, they found it difficult in translating in English to Indonesia or Indonesian to English. They also had limit vocabularies.

4. The Result of Evaluation (Evaluating Phase)

Evaluating the questionnaire became the matters on this phase. It was obtained from expert's suggestion and command about the questionnaire that would be distributed to the students. The questionnaire consists of three parts. The first was systematic organization of integrated English materials. The second was systematic English teaching which was appropriate with the learning activities. The third was systematic content of English materials covered the syllabus of the 2013 curriculum.

The experts suggested that in constructing the questions, it was required to see deeply about what they should acquire in studying. However, in systematic organization of integrated English materials, it is allowed to follow what the students' need. It is about the organization layout of the product. In putting learning model, it has to suitable with the core materials that is taught.

Constructing the learning process and learning materials becomes the next step in this phase. There are several points to be underlined. They are the topic including basic competences, content material including sub topics, core skill as follows, listening, speaking, reading, and writing. Those skills must be clear/ brief in each meeting which is followed by the flow skills.

Next, the core of blue print that was made is the learning approach portrayed systematically with the scientific approach. They are observation, questioning, collecting information, associating, and communicating. Each of the phases was presented briefly for instance, activities and material that would be taught.

Also, in blue print is also described about learning instruction consisting type of activity portraying about learning formation, the suitability between learning formations and learning materials. The learning formations include learning in group, pair, and individual. Last, the amount of activities, text structure and glossary also discussed in blue print.

Evaluating the development phase includes the content materials that would be applied in the product. It must be related to the suitability of the contents of the book with the basic competencies. It consists of the activities along with its brief instruction, the examples, and the glossary.

Also, the result of questionnaire that was given to the students becomes the basic element to develop the layout. How to construct the layout was bargained by the students' need. As it is believed that students will be motivated if the organization of the material based on what they need. The process of the development must be suit with the time and learning methods.

B. Discussion

The curriculum can be defined as set of education instrument which is used as a guide for the teachers on what and how to teach the students. Generally, the curriculum include all subject or activities which the school has responsibility to follow it in teaching and learning process.

The government has published a student book, but it is still not enough. The students need more. According to our observation and interview with learners and teachers about the new coming curriculum, the 13 curriculum said that the book published by government still need to be improved. The book has essentially been good but the students need some additional and brief activities and assignments which consist of clear skills in the learning materials. So, it will entirely be cooperative in teaching process. On the other hands, teacher needs a stuff that can literally be a right tool in teaching.

The 2013 curriculum is a new curriculum which implemented in Indonesia. Many teachers still do not understand well about this curriculum because they do not have many specialized trainings dealing with it. As a consequence, the learning process is not running too well. Furthermore, it is needed a supporting material which can help the students to understand the lessons.

There have been many books that appropriate for the students based on their grade and suitable with the 2013 curriculum but for the book that has covered the students' needs are literally limited and the way to provide the materials does not support their motivation to study. So, it cannot systematically enrich their skills in English especially in listening, speaking, reading, and writing. Hence, that is the primary reason on conducting this research. Developing new version of students' book truly got the researcher's attention. Last, paying attention to what students' need becomes the very primary things to focus on to this research.

Firstly, the result of the first research question is that to know the students' needs on learning, it needs three stuffs. They are to identify the organization materials, the content materials, and the learning materials. In the oraganization materials, all students wish for the pre study-orientations before studying. They wanted directly listen to the teacher's explanation. The students resembled if the materials were given in drawing content and prefer cartoon and real picture design models they notice in the daily life. When it comes to the content materials, it consisted of two implies, i.e., the students opted for being provided a dialog that occur in their environment or had a dialog with their folk. They would like to be afforded a cartoon and real picture in design when learning simple present tense material. Also, the students like accept the theory in learning simple present tense material and students need all of the items to make a conversation about simple present tense material.

Last, in learning material, students imply that the students prefer a learning model with discussion. They also have a preference to do the project with a group, and when they are asked to present a learning material they would like to present it with their group. However, students want the teacher to combine the teaching process with "games activity". Also, it is found that some obstacles faced by students when they learn simple present tense; 1) Students do not have many related vocabularies, 2) Students are difficult to memorize a dialogue and vocabulary, 3) Students are difficult to translate the lesson into the source language, and 4) It is difficult for students to concentrate during the learning process.

Secondly, the result of the second research question is that creating a newly developed reference for the eight grade students on junior high school in learning English material especially in learning simple present tense. The product can be used as other references in learning English for many considerations for instance, it was developed by first identifying students' need which became the foundation on developing the product, it is very colorful who fits the students' interest to build their attention on studying it, the material was developed in simplicity. It refers to the way the materials provided for students. It is easy to be used and with clear instruction.

The newly developed product by the researcher is well qualified and can be used as a tool for learning due to it has been revised several times and tried out to the real teaching. Also, this product has been validated by experts which is being the primary aspect for creating a product.

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSIONS AND SUGGESTIONS

This chapter deal with conclusion of this research and suggestion for some people related to this research.

A. Conclusions

Based on the findings and discussions of the research that has been accomplished and are associated with the formulation of the research focus, it can be concluded that developing learning materials should be depended on goverment's curriculum and what learners' needs. It is to accomodate a good learning process for students. Also, the systematic organization of developing simple present tense material dealing with 2013 Curriculum already checked by the expert in order to validate the whole materials in a Module and claimed that it was validated by the expert. It was developed based on the result of the analysis of the questionnaire that distributed to the students in the eighth grade students at junior high school 2 Sungguminasa, Gowa where the aim of the questionnaire was to know the students' need in learning simple present tense material and the product's outlook.

Firstly, the result of the first research question is that to know the students' need on learning, it needs three stuffs. They are to identify the organization materials, the content materials, and the learning materials. In the oraganization materials, all students wish for the pre study-orientations before studying. They wanted directly listen to the teacher's explanation. The students resembled if the materials were given in drawing content and prefer cartoon and real picture design models they notice in the daily life. When it comes to the content materials, it consisted of two implies, i.e., the students opted for being provided a dialog that occur in their environment or had a dialog with their folk. They would like to be afforded a cartoon and real picture in design when learning simple present tense material. Also, the students like accept the theory in learning simple present tense material and students need all of the items to make a conversation about simple present tense material.

Last, in learning material, students' imply that the students prefer a learning model with discussion. They also have a preference to do the project with a group, and when they are asked to present a learning material they would like to present it with their group. However, students want the teacher to combine the teaching process with "games activity". Also, it is found that some obstacles faced by students when they learn simple present tense; 1) Students do not have many related vocabularies, 2) Students are difficult to memorize a dialogue and vocabulary, 3) Students are difficult to translate the lesson into the source language, and 4) It is difficult for students to concentrate during the learning process.

Secondly, the result of the second reserch question is that creating a newly developed reference for the eight grade students on junior high school in learning English material especially in learning simple present tense. The product can be used as other reference in learning English for many considerations for instance, it was developed by first identifying students' need which became the foundation on developin tthis product, it is very colorful who fits the students' interest to build their attention on studying it, the material was developed in simplicity. It refers to the way the materials provided for students. It is easy to use and with clear instruction.

The newly developed product by the researcher is well qualified and can be used as a tool for learning due to it has been revised several times and tried out to the real teaching. Also, this product has been validated by experts which is being the primary aspect of creating a product.

B. Suggestions

This part refers to the suggestions for utilization and dissemination of the product. They were discussed on the following.

1. Utilization

This product is developed for Eight Grade students. It can be used in English Language Teaching Department. Therefore, it is strongly recommended for the teachers who teach English subject to use this product as their primary reference.

2. Dissemination

Many methods can be accomplished to disseminate this product. First, publishing for a commercial purpose can be the best way to disseminate it because the publisher will work hard to sell it as much as possible. Second, calling a seminar or workshop can also be away to disseminate it. It means that it was promoted to the public who attend to the seminar. Finally, the internet is also one of the best alternatives to disseminate it such as, twitter, facebook, e-mail, and other social media.

READING

Observing

Activity 1: Look and follow the teacher read the text below.

My name isArya Al Barak. I am a new teacher in SMPN 2 Sungguminasa, Gowa.As a teacher, I usually wake up at 05.00 am. I have a shower and have breakfast with my parents. I go to school at a half past six because my house is next to SMPN 2 Sungguminasa, Gowa. School starts at 7 am and finishes at 2 pm.

Activity 2: The following sentences are from the above text. Read it carefully.

> ➤ I usually wake up at 05.00 am.
> ➤ I havea shower
>
> ➤ I have breakfast with my parents.
>
> ➤ I go to school at a half past six.
> ➤ School starts at 7 am and finishes at 2 pm.

The above sentences are written in simple present tense. Pay attention to this explanation below.

Look at this

The bold sentences above are simple present tense. Use simple present tense to tell about routine/ habitual actions or events.

For example:

> ➤ I usually make my own homework.
> ➤ She goes to school every day.

Pay attention to the bold words above.

> ➤ Simple present tense is often followed by adverb of frequency for instance, usually, sometimes, always, often, rarely, seldom, never, and ever. For example: They sometimes walk to school.
> ➤ Simple present tense is also followed by letter s and es if the subject is the third person singular for instance, she, he, it. For example: He loves to eat gado-gado in school canteen, shewatches science video.

Here is the further explanation about it.

The third person singular's rule:
In simple present tense, we normally add "S" to the end of the verb in the third person singular.

Looks	opens	sits	reads	stands
Gives	wears	plays	cooks	sings
Puts	visits	enjoys	breaks	talks

➢ She speaks three languages
➢ He plays guitar very well
➢ AryaNayakasings a song every morning.

The third person singular's rule:
If the verb ends in SS, X, CH, SH or the letter O, we add "ES" in the third person singular.

Kiss => kisses

Fix => fixes

Teach => teaches

Crash => crashes

Go => goes

A teacher teaches students.

He kisses her parents before he goes to school.

A mechanic fixes cars.

If the verb ends in a consonant + Y, we remove the Y and + "IES" in the third person singular.

Study => studies

Hurry => hurries

Deny => denies

Carry => carries

Monica studies English every night.

The leader denies all the responsibility.

He cries all the time.

Questioning

Activity 2:Pay attention to the dialogue below.

Braga: Luna, do you want to drink a glass of tea in canteen?

Luna: Emm… No. I don't drink tea.

(Implication: she doesn't drink tea)

The above dialogueis written in negative form. Pay attention to this explanation below.

Look at this

Positive, negative, and question form of simple present tense.

Numb.	Form	Sentence
1	Positive	I study English.
2	Negative	I do not study English.
3	Question	Do I study English?

Numb.	Form	Sentence
1	Positive	She studies English.
2	Negative	She does not study English.
3	Question	Does she study English?

Other subjects that you can use:

You, we, they, he, it.

Yatha: The sun rises from the east every day. It is incredible.

Yuna: Yup. All people know that. It's a general truth.

Yatha: He he he. I know it too. Hei, do you want too see a beautiful sunset?

Yana : Of course. Where?

Yatha : In the Catharina beach. The sun sets in the west every evening and it is so beautiful.

Yana : I think I really want to go there. Chat me if you're ready.

Yatha : just wait for it.

Quotes of The Day

"No matter who you are, what you look like, or wht you share with the world, there will always be someone who does not approve. And that's okay. You are not going to like you. That's just life. It's normal, and it's nothing to beat yourself up over."
