ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

Alhamdulillah rabbil 'alamin, the researcher would like to express her confession and gratitude to the most perfection, Allah Swt for the guidance, blessing and mercy in completing this thesis. Shalawat and salam are always delivered to the great Prophet Muhammad Saw, his family and followers till the end of the time.

The researcher realized that there were some problems faced by her in accomplishing this research. Those problems could not be solved without getting assistance, support, helps, motivations, criticisms, encouragement and guidance from many people. Therefore, the researcher would like to express his deepest gratitude to the following:

1. The researcher's beloved family Ahmad and Sitti Hasnah Hassan for all their prayers, supports and eternally affections as the biggest influence in her success and happy life and also to her beloved brother Adil Husnaeni Mubaraq for his happy and colorful life.
2. Prof. Dr. H. Musafir Pabbahari, M.Si. as the Rector of Alauddin State Islamic University of Makassar, who has given his chance to study in English and Literature Department so that he could finish his study.
3. Dr. H. Barsihannor, M. Ag as the Dean of Adab dan Humanities Faculty, H.Muhammad Nur Akbar M.Pd., M.Ed., Ph.D. as the Head of English and Literature Department and Syahrani Junaid, S.S., M.Pd. as the Secretary of

4. Dr. Hj. Nuri Emmiyati, M.Pd. as his first supervisor and Masykur Rauf, S.Hum., M.Pd. as the second supervisor who have made so much time, guided, advised, and given her corrections and suggestions during completing her thesis.
5. Dr. Abd. Muin, M.Hum. and Rabiatul Adawiyah, S.Pd., M.Hum. as her examiners for their advices, criticism and suggestion.
6. The lecturers of Adab and Humanities Faculty, for their knowledge and enlightenment, also to the staffs of Adab and Humanities Faculty for their help and administrative support.
7. Her beloved friends Nabila Fatul Jannah, Amriani, S.Km., Titi Marni, Hasniar, Hasnawati, Indira Mimosapudica, and Nikita Indrasari, who always listen to whatever she says, give a hand, advice the best deal, forbid unimportant thing and stand by her. Unforgettably her friends in English and Literature Department 2013, especially AG 3-4 whom she shares experience and knowledge during her study and writing. They make their wonderful contributions.
8. Baristas in Kopi Api Coffee Shop at Pasar Segar Makassar who helpful whatever she needs in her observation.

In the deepest heart, the researcher realizes that this thesis is imperfect and it still needs suggestions and criticisms. Despite of its imperfection, she hopes that this thesis will be useful for the students, the lecturers and the readers in general who need it. May Allah Swt always bless us in every single thing we do.

This research aimed to discuss about the form and the way of jargons used by Baristas in Kopi Api Coffee Shop Makassar in communication. This research based on two theories, Halligan's theory about the jargon form which elaborated with four forms, they were acronym, abbreviation, word and phrase and Yule's theory who talked about the particular area of work/interest. This research used descriptive qualitative method in revealing the data. The researcher used observation sheet and interview sheet as the instruments to get the valid data. The findings showed that Baristas used four forms of jargon. That four forms were one acronym, one abbreviation, nineteen words, and sixteen phrases. The finding also showed that Baristas used three sessions in working area which there were 20 data in blending session, 7 data in training session dan 10 data in serving session. Based on the result, word form was the most frequent that occurred in their communication. The blending session was the most frequent that occurred among group members. The researcher concluded that the Baristas used most jargon words in working area.

CHAPTER I

INTRODUCTION

This chapter starts with the background about Jargon Used by Baristas in Kopi Api Coffee Shop Makassar. Then it presents research questions, research objectives research significances and research scopes

A. Background

The difference often makes people split apart, actually difference is a mercy from Allah SWT. It is proved it in Surah Ar-Rum verse 22 :

وَمِنْ آيَاتِهِ خَلْقُ السَّمَاوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضِ وَاخْتِلَافُ أَلْسِنَتِكُمْ وَالْوَالِدَاتِ إِذَا رَضَىٰ بِوَجْهِكُمْ وَأَنَّ فِي ذَلِكَ لَآيَاتٍ لِّلْعَالَمِينَ

Translation:

“And among His Sign is the creation of the heavens and earth, and the variations in your languages and your colours: verily in that are Sign for those who know”. (Ar-Rum verse 22)

Based on M. Quraish Shihab (2002:190) the verse above says “And among His Sign is the creation of the heavens and earth, and the variations in your languages and your colors: verily in that are Sign for those who know”. Also your different colors, black, sawo and white. Otherwise, you are all from the same origin. In truth, those are the signs owned by religious human beings, especially their knowlegdge.

Based on the verse above, language difference is one of signs of language differenciation. It is a sign of Allah authorization. It is same with this research which discussed about jargon. jargon is a language which is only used and understood by the certain group. It is included in language variation.

People as social creatures need language to interact. Language is used to communicate each other. In this case it can be said simply the language and environment are related. Language and society are the subject of sociolinguistics. Yule (2005:239) states that Sociolinguistics deals with the inter-relationship between language and society. Trask (1999:282) defines that Sociolinguistics as a branch of linguistics which studies the relationship between language and society. The verse above also has meaning, different language is used by the people in communication. In addition, Chaer and Agustina (2004:3) Sociolinguistics is the study of the characteristics of language varieties, the characteristics of their functions, and the characteristics of the speaker as these three constantly interact, change and change one another within a speech community.

In the modern era, diversity of people and background of human as individual inflict language variation that is used in social interaction. Language variation is a part of Sociolinguistics. Language variation is the variety of languages that the people use to communicate each other everyday. Hudson (1996:24) defines “ a variety is a set of linguistic items with the sense of mutual intelligible, which means that among people who are in communication which one another they will understand each other. It can be seen from the way they pronounce the words, how they construct phrases and the grammatical features”.

Talking about language variation, it is known the concept of jargon. Yule (2006: 211) says that jargon is a special technical vocabulary associated with a particular area of work or interest. In social terms, jargon helps to create and maintain connection among those who see themselves as 'insiders' in some ways and to exclude 'outsiders'. Teenager is interested in jargon, because jargon is one of phenomenon in the world. Jargon can be found in some places, such as in the Kopi Api Coffee Shop. Baristas in Kopi Api Coffee Shop has their Jargon, they use it to communicate in working area. But, the problem of using Jargon is the language does not have structure. Ardani (2016 : 13) says Barista is someone who blends and serves coffee for the customer.

The basic concept that should be comprehended is how jargon happened in Coffee Shop. Baristas use jargon to create their own identity of their group. They use the same language and the same vocabularies in the same area or might be in the same profession in working area. The Baristas used jargon when they do secret conversation. It means that jargon aims to show about the groups of society. Whether the group of working area such as politicians, entertainers, nurse, or it can be the group in the classroom. It is supported by Brown and Attardo's theory (2000:118-119) They state that jargon has two main functions as follows: 1) Jargon provides speakers of specialized domains with clear, unambiguous terms to refer to their activities. 2) Jargon provides speakers of a sub-group with a means of marking ingroup membership and excluding outsiders. The researcher conducted this research, because when the researcher did pre-observation in The Kopi Api Coffee Shop, she found the Baristas used jargon in their interaction of working area, mainly when they were blending a coffee and serving customers. Therefore, it was expected that the researcher got more data and, Thus the researcher could provide a through explanation regarding the problems of the study that was being investigate.

B. Research Questions

In this research, the researcher analyzed jargon used by Baristas in Kopi Api Coffee Shop Makassar. The research questions were formulated as follows:

- a. What are the forms of jargon used by Baristas in Kopi Api Coffee Shop Makassar?
- b. How are the jargons used by Baristas in Kopi Api Coffee Shop Makassar in communication?

C. Research Objectives

Based on the research questions above, objective of this research were:

- a. To find out what are the forms of jargon that used by Baristas in Kopi Api Coffee Shop Makassar.
- b. To find out how jargons are used by Baristas in Kopi Api Coffee Shop Makassar in communication.

D. Research Significances

The researcher expected that the investigating the jargon used by Baristas in Kopi Api Coffee Shop Makassar, gives result of the study becoming valuable contribution. First, to the researcher, this research is expected to increase the researcher's knowledge in sociolinguistics especially in part of jargon. Second, to the readers, the final findings can increase the reader's knowledge and give more information about jargon. The last, to the future researchers, this research is expected to be useful to give references to the future researcher in conducting a similar research about jargon.

E. Research Scopes

The scope of this research focused on analysing the jargon used by Baristas based on two theories, The first is Halligan (2004) elaborates four forms of jargon. They consist of acronym, abbreviation, word, and phrase. The second is Yule (2006: 211) says that jargon is a special technical vocabulary associated with a particular area of work or interest.

CHAPTER II

LITERATURE REVIEW

This chapter explained about the review of related which consisted with some previous study and some conceptual framework.

A. Previous Studies

There are two previous studies reviewed by the researcher related to the jargon. First, Aditya Eko Sigit Wicaksono (2010) in his thesis “An Analysis of Military Jargon in a Video Game: Call of Duty 4 Modern Warfare”. This study analyzed the form, function, and meaning of jargon. There are 107 jargons found in this study. The result of form classifications shows that 55 jargons belong to word, 25 phrases, 21 abbreviations, and 6 acronyms. The similarity of this study with Wicaksono(2010) study is Wicaksono(2010) and the researcher investigated and analyzed the jargon used by community, However there is a difference between Wicaksono’s study and the researcher’s study, the difference is about subject of the study. Wicaksono’s study tried to observe jargon used by Military Jargon in a Video Game: Call of Duty 4 Modern Warfare, however the researcher’s study tried to observe the jargon used by barista in kopi api coffee shop which is located in Jalan Komplek Ruko Pasar Segar RA3, Panakkukang, Makassar.

Another similar study has been conducted by Ardiyanto (2014) had conducted the study about “Jargon used by Stylist in Rabel Beauty Salon Galunggung Malang”. She used descriptive qualitative study as the research design. 4 stylist who work at Salon became the informants at her study. She chose them because those 4 stylists are the senior in rabel beauty salon. In this study, Ardiyanto (2014) found 19 (nineteen) jargons used by Stylist In Rabel Beauty Salon Galunggung Malang based on the theory proposed by Yule (1996).

Based on the previous research above, the researcher found out similarities and differences with those two studies. The similarity of this study with Ardiyanto's study is Ardiyanto and the researcher investigate and analyze the jargon used by community. However there is a difference between Ardiyanto's study and the reseracher's study, the difference is about subject of the study. Ardiyanto's study tried to observe jargon used by Stylist in Rable Beauty Salon Galunggung Malang, however the researcher's study tries to observe the jargon used by Baristas in Kopi Api Coffee Shop Makassar which is located in Kompleks Ruko Pasar Segar RA3, Panakkukang ,Makassar. Furthermore, the similarity of this study with Ardiyanto's study and the researcher investigate is analyze the study focuses on the used of jargon as communication. However there is a difference between Ardiyanto's and the researcher's in terms of setting. The previous study try to observe the used of jargon use by PC World Magazine, however the researcher tries to observe the Jargon Used by Baristas in Kopi Api Coffee Shop Makassar which is located in Jalan Komplek Ruko Pasar Segar RA3, Panakkukang ,Makassar.

Those two previous studies give additional knowledge to the researcher, since the researcher also conducts a study of jargon in a community. From the previous studies, she learns the ways how to analyze the jargon occur in certain community such as IT community and stylist community. Those two studies that have been review make the researcher curious and try to find out and analyze the jargon used in Kopi Api Coffee Shop Makassar, the meaning, the form and how to use jargon in communication.

B. Pertinent Ideas

In this chapter, the researcher presented the discussion about the theories and previous studies underlying this research. The main theory of this research is sociolinguistics which is focused on Jargon Used by Baristas in Kopi Api Coffee Shop Makassar.

1. Sociolinguistics

Yule (2005:239) believes that Sociolinguistics deals with the inter-relationship between language and society. In addition, Holmes (2001:1) remarks that Sociolinguistics is concerned with the relationship between language and the context in which it is used. Examining the way people use language in different social contexts provide a wealth information about the way language works, as well as about the social relationships in a community, and the way people signal aspects of their social identity through the language. One of the goal of sociolinguistics is to understand the correlation between social factors (such as social status, age, background, and interest) and linguistics variation and ordering of linguistic constraints with respect to variability of rules. It means that people who have different background of life, different social status and different interest or job, they also have different way to speak. Different way to speak means that they have their own rules in the way they communicate among each other. It can be different language or dialect or even in accent. Then Wardhaugh (1986:2) describes that Sociolinguistics will concern with investigating the relationship between language and society with the goal of a better understanding of the structure of language and of how languages function in communication. Furthermore, language has an important role for society in the way they communicate among each other. Language is also become a tool of communication. Without language, it will be difficult to understand what the people want to share. That's why language become important thing, it is because people can not interact with each other without using language.

2. Language variation

Language variation is an important part of sociolinguistics. Language variation is the variety of languages that we use to communicate each other in everyday life. Wardaugh (1998:) finds "In speech community, people who use language as means of communication in their community are remarkably varied. No one speaks same way all the time, and people constantly exploit the nuances of the language they speak for a wide variety purposes". The way people use language or the way they speak when they have communication is different from each other. Social class, behavior, tradition, culture is very influence the way people speak itself. So it can be assumed that the life background has an important role to determine the characteristic of every people, including the way they speak.

Hudson (1996:24) defines “ a variety is a set of linguistics items with the sense of mutual intelligible, which means that among people who are in communication which one another they will understand each other. It can be seen from the way they pronounce the words, how they construct phrases and the grammatical features”. Meanwhile, Turnip (2014:17) says “people participating in recurrent communication situations tend to develop similar vocabularies, similar feature of intonations, and characteristic bit of syntax and phonology that they use in these situations”. Jargon is part of language variation

3. Jargon

a. Definition

Everybody always hear about Jargon, specially in mass media with used strange words to utterance something. Fromkin et al (2007:470) emphasize that jargon is used by different professional and social groups in so extensive and so obscure in meaning. Jargon refers to the unique vocabulary used by particular groups of people to facilitate communication providing a means of bonding, and exclude outsiders. Therefore, jargon may be used as a barrier to keep outsiders from understanding something.

Akmajian et al, (2001:302-303) explain that Jargon as special or technical vocabulary has a relationship with standard language which provides new items to be transformed by jargon. The vocabulary items result from morpheme and transformation of lexical items borrowed from a particular language. It means that original form of the old item is hidden by the transformation. For example, the word “prep” is the abbreviation from the word “prepare”. Brown and Attardo (2000:118-119) say Jargon is some special terms that refer to the activity of occupational varieties. It is used for the purpose of not letting the meaning or other understand, to show the identity of the group that become a special characteristics of the group itself, and to establish the relationship between in-groups memberships. In conclusion, jargon is a way to express the feeling of the community and also have their own specific language. Actually, some people out of the certain group can understand what the member of group say. They also state that jargon has two main functions as follows:

1. Jargon provides speakers of specialized domains with clear, unambiguous terms to refer to their activities.
2. Jargon provides speakers of a sub-group with a means of marking ingroup membership and excluding outsiders.

It can be defined that jargon is just known by the “in-group” of a community. People in the outside cannot understand anymore about utterance or the term uttered by using jargon. Jargon can be stated as an untouchable language, whereas the meaning is not easy to be understood by all people. Jargon can leave someone’s feeling excluded from the conversation.

In additon, Ary et al (1992:62) assumes that jargon is a barrel of language that deliberately used by certain but not understood by people outside the circle.

Jargon is usually concerned with the special vocabulary used in a particular field of life. Sometimes the term jargon confuses us, because in fact the Jargon is a kind of word or sentence of speech used in groups of people in the same field, which may be unknown to others.

Yule (2006: 211) says that jargon is a special technical vocabulary associated with a particular area of work or interest. In social terms, jargon helps to create and maintain connections among those who see themselves as 'insiders' in some way and to exclude 'outsiders'. It is often taken place inside a register. Hornby (1995: 296) also states that jargon consists of technical words or expressions used by a particular profession or group of people and difficult for others to understand. The group here can be a professional or social group.

Furthermore, Spolsky (1998: 33) defines jargon as speech used by marked group of people such as a trade or occupation. A specialized bond between members of in-group and enforce boundaries outside. If the people do not understand a certain jargon, it means that they do not belong to a certain group. Jargon can be useful for conveying meaning precisely and effectively for specific communities. However, it may also exclude and/or confuse those who are not "in-group". Thus, speakers and writers need to be aware of their audiences when deciding to use jargon appropriately.

Moreover, Crystal (2003) defines jargon as the technical vocabulary or idiom of special activity or group. The reality is that everyone uses jargon; it is an essential part of the network or occupation and pursuits which make up a society. All jobs present an element of jargon, which workers learn as they develop their expertise. All hobbies require mastery of a jargon. All sports and games have their own jargon. Each society grouping has its jargon. The occupation of person causes his language to vary, particularly in the use he makes of technical terms. The phenomenon of using jargon therefore, turns out to be universal and valuable.

Jack and Schmidt (2002: 278) define jargon as spoken or written words and expressions used by a group of people who belong to a particular trade, profession, or any other group bound together by common attention, example; the jargon of law, medical jargon. A jargon has its own set of words and expressions, which may be incomprehensible to an outsider. The term jargon is typically not used by the group but by those unfamiliar with that particular type of language.

Jargon is sometimes compared to slang because both have the same senses as kinds of shorthand of language. However, the line of demarcation between jargon and slang is open to dispute because slang is sometimes defined in such way to overlap almost completely with the definition of jargon (Allan and Burridge, 2006: 68).

Allan (2001: 172) proposes three criteria in identifying a jargon. First, it can be identified by its lexical markers such as specialized used vocabulary, idiom, and abbreviations. Second, a jargon can be identified by its syntactical markers, imperative and passive sentences. Third, a jargon is identified by its presentational markers in terms of prosodic (voice quality, amplitude, rhythm) and format in which the context is presented.

Chaika's theory (1982:56) telling that jargon appears in two ways. Firstly, it is shaped in the form of new words. Secondly, it appears in the form of existed words as common people know. In conclusion, jargon is technical language of some fields such as a trade, profession, or similar group using unusual vocabulary, complex phrasing, and unclear meaning. It is an exclusive term in which mostly known by the insiders, users of the jargon instead of the outsiders and people who do not belong to be field.

There are some motivations of creating jargon. First, it is used to exclude the people or novices, there who do not belong to. If a person does not understand a jargon of group as it means as it mean he does not belong to that group. Jargon can give a person a sense of belonging to a specific group. Jargon is an effective signal for identification. It is effective when it is used in the group where the jargon created or occurs. Another motivation of creating jargon is communicative efficiency. If something has to be frequently mentioned, it is more economical to have a single word to refer to it than a length phrase. It knows that jargon uses items already existing in language and then extend their meaning and function. Jargon rarely uses completely new words or construction. Practically, the words are old but with new meaning and different meaning.

b. Forms of jargon

Forms of jargon is the physical appearance of a term or combined terms that results important technical meanings. Halligan (2004) elaborates four forms of jargon. They consist of acronym, abbreviation, word, and phrase.

1) Acronym

The first form of jargon is acronym. It is formed from the initial letters of a set of other word. Yule (2006: 57) believes that acronyms are formed from the initial letters of the words in name, title or phrase. It can be pronounced as a single word, for example UNICEF that stands for United Nations Children's Fund, NATO for North Atlantic Treaty Organization, NASA for National Aeronautics and Space Administration, and UNESCO for United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization. There are many acronyms that become everyday terms such as laser ('light amplification by stimulated emission of radiation') and radar ('radio detecting and ranging'). Names for organizations are often intended to have their acronym represent an appropriate term, as in 'mothers against drunk driving' (MADD) and 'women against rape' (WAR). Some new acronyms come into general use so quickly that many speakers do not think of their component of meanings. Innovation such as PIN ('personal identification number') is regularly used with one of their elements.

2) Abbreviation

Talking about abbreviation, there are two theories that can be used as the basis for explaining it. The first theory is proposed by Culpeper (2009: 109) who mentions that an abbreviation is formed by taking the initial letters which does not result in well-formed syllables. Thus, unlike an acronym, an abbreviation cannot be pronounced as if a word. The people should spell as what the initial letters are, such as USA which is pronounced /yu es ai/ instead of /yusa/. The second theory is proposed by Fromkin, et al. (2002: 84). They say that abbreviation is intended to simplify words or combined words by putting one or some syllables of the original word/ words. It can be formed by longer words or phrases such as phone for telephone, math for mathematics, board for blackboard, and fridge for refrigerator. By taking the only initial letters of each word that has already contained complete information such as BBC standing for British Broadcast Corporation, using abbreviation might increase more efficient communication, (Allan and Burridge, 2006: 89).

3) Word

Leech in Culpeper et al. (2009: 109) mention that a word is not merely defined as the smallest form that can occur by itself as an utterance as it can also be manipulated by syntax such as what occur in sentence structure of an active sentence and passive sentence. Meanwhile, Finegan (2004: 40) proposes four informations dealing with a word. First, people should be able to identify a word's sound and the sequencing. It is related with phonological information. Second, people should be able to identify a word's meaning which is related to semantic information. Third, people should be able to identify how related words such as the plural form of a noun or past tense of a verb are formed. It deals with morphological information. Fourth, people should be able to identify a word's category and how to use it in a larger composition, such as sentence.

In relation to a word's class, word is divided into content word and function word (Fromkin, et al., 2003: 64). A content word is a word which determines thing, quality, state, or action. It has meaning when it is used alone. It consists of nouns, verbs, adjectives, and adverbs. On the other hand, a function word is a word which has little meaning on its own. It is used to show grammatical relationships in and between sentences. It consists of conjunctions, prepositions, articles, and pronoun.

4) Phrase

According to Culpeper (2009: 130-135), a phrase, a group of words which form a grammatical unit, has a main word that is called a head. It is the only word that has to occur in the phrase. A phrase does not contain a finite-verb and does not have a subject-predicate structure. The modifier, putting before as well as after the head, is optional.

CHAPTER III

RESEARCH METHODOLOGY

This chapter consists of Research Method, Object of The Research, Research Instrument, Collecting Data Procedure, and Data Analysis Technique

A. Research Method

In this research, the researcher used descriptive qualitative method, because the type of that research in this study was textual analysis which intended to analyze jargon that used by Baristas in Kopi Api Coffee Shop Makassar.

Fraenkel (1993) says that qualitative research refers to research investigation of the quality of relationship, activities, situations, or material. The process of the reduction based on the appropriate data which were related to the theories used by the researcher. Moreover the data selection was based on the criteria made by presented researcher.

1. The Used of Jargon Forms by Baristas in Kopi Api Coffee Shop

Halligan's theory (2004:98) explained about forms of jargon which are four forms of jargon. They are acronym, abbreviation, word, and phrase.

The researcher found all forms of jargon based on Halligan's theory (2004:98). They were: acronym, abbreviation, word, and phrase. The findings were as follow:

a. Acronym

The first form of jargon is acronym. It is formed from the initial letters of a set of other word. Yule (2006:57) believes that acronyms are formed from the initial letter of the words in name, title or phrase. Acronyms which are pronounced as a word and containing only initial letters; e.g., NASA (National Aeronautics and Space Administration), Radar / 'rei,da:r/ Radio Detecting and Ranging), COBOL / 'keubol/ (Common Business Oriented Language), etc. The acronym find by the researcher is OZ and presented as follow:

The researcher found that Baristas in Kopi Api Coffee Shop use jargon in working area. The jargon that they use has form, Halliga (2004:98) elaborates jargon in four forms, they are acronym, abbreviation, word and phrase,

a. Acronym

Acronym is an expression or a word shortened. Those words were spoken as a shortened form of the word itself rather than the full form actual words. Generally, the acronym using stands for the initial letter of each word that is abbreviated and it's pronounced as say the word instead letter by letter. According to Yule (2006: 57) states that acronyms are formed from the initial letters of the words in the name, title or phrase.

The researcher found acronym according to Haligan's theory (2004:98), which is used by baristas, in extract 35 the researcher found 1 acronym used by baristas. In extract 35 in serving session when Mila asked to Brother Alif to make a coffee with 6 OZ. Mila said "brother, is there 6 OZOne please!" and Brother Alif said "6 OZ one, please!".

b. Abbreviation

Leech in Culpeper et al (2009: 109) says that an abbreviation is formed by taking the initial letters which does not result in well-formed syllables. Based on Halligan's theory (2004:98). The researcher found 1 abbreviation in extract 24 when the baristas did blending session. In extract 24, Brother wandi said “does no one use OCD?” from this extract Brother Giant explained that OCD (Ona Coffee Distribution) is one of the tool that used to make sure that the coffee in porta filter has been flat.

Besides that, abbreviation is a shortened form a word or phrase. Abbreviation is an expression that is pronounced letter by letter. There are 2 kinds of abbreviation, they are; shortening and initialism. But the researcher just found initialism jargon abbreviation that used by barista in kopi api coffee shop, that is OCD.

c. Word

Word is a unit of a language that carries meaning and consists of one or more morphemes. Generally word consists of a base word without or with multiple affixes. Culpeper (2009: 109) mentions that a word is not merely defined as the smallest form that can occur by itself as an utterance as it can also be manipulated by syntax such as what occur in sentence structure of an active sentence and passive sentence.

The researcher found 21 words that is used by barista in kopi api coffee shop when in working area, one of that is in extract 1, when the barista blending process, Brother Isra said “yes, i split it so long”. Split itself included in word group of jargon form according to Halligan’s theory (2004:98).

d. Phrase

Leech in Culpeper et al (2009: 130-135), a phrase, i.e. a group of words which form a grammatical unit, has a main word that is called a head. It is the only word that has to occur in the phrase.

In this research, the research found 14 phrases that is used by barista in kopi api coffee shop in the working area according to Halligan's theory (2004:98). One of them is in extract 3, When Brother Wandu said "This is Manual Brew" Brother wandu told the new barista that Manual Brew for blending process of make a coffee by the manual way. The context of this sentence is when the barista told the new barista.

2. How are The Jargon Used by Barista in Kopi Api Coffee Shop Makkassar in Communicate

Yule (2006:211) says that jargon is a special technical vocabulary associated with a particular area of work or interest. The researcher found that the jargon not only used by Barista in Kopi Api Coffee Shop but also another people such as customer and the trainer. The researcher divide the jargon used by Baristas in Kopi Api Coffee Shop in three session, they are blending session, training session and serving session.

a. Blending Session

Blending session is the session when Baristas are making an order for their customer. In this session, Baristas only talking with their friend. In this session, Baristas use jargon to communicate.

The researcher found 20 times in blending session that the Barista use jargon to communicate with their friends. According to Yule's theory (2006:211), which is used by baristas in extract 1. When in working area, they used jargon to communicate. Mila said "brother, 6 OZ(ounce) one please". In this condition, Baristas use jargon in working area.

b. Training Session

Training session is the session when Baristas are teaching the new barista about how to blend a coffee, use all the tools and the jargon of barista. In this session, Baristas not only talking with their friend. In this session, Baristas use jargon to communicate with the trainer.

The researcher found 7 times in training session Baristas communicate with the trainer used jargon. According Yule's theory (2006:211), which is used by baristas in extract 21. Actually Baristas not only use their jargon with their friends but also another people such as trainer. Brother Isra said "yes, it will be cupping first". In this case, barista used the jargon to talked with the trainer.

c. Serving Session

Serving session is the session when Baristas are serving the customer, what they want to drink and answer all the questions of them about the coffee. In this session, Baristas not only using jargon with their friend but also with the customer.

The researcher found 11 times in serving session Baristas communicate with the people except part of them. According Yule's theory (2006:211), which is used by Baristas in exact 28. Brother Wandu said “i will make a Tester if you want” to the customer. The baristas used jargon in working area although they are their customers.

Related to the previous study was conducted from Aditya Eko Sigit Wicaksono (2010) in his thesis “An Analysis of Military Jargon in a Video Game: Call of Duty 4 Modern Warfare”. This study analyzed the form, function, and meaning of jargon. There are 107 jargons found in this study. The result of form classifications show that 55 jargons belong to word, 25 phrases, 21 abbreviations, and 6 acronyms. The similarity of this research with Wicaksono’s research, Wicaksono and the researcher analyzed the jargon used by community and they found that the dominant form of jargon were word form. However there is a difference between Wicaksono’s research and the researcher’s research, the difference was about subject of the research and the researcher also observed about the way of using jargon by Baristas in Kopi Api Coffee Shop. But, Wicaksono’s research observed the function of jargon used by Military Jargon in a Video Game: Call of Duty 4 Modern Warfare.

The second, Ardiyanto (2014) had conducted the study about “Jargon used by Stylist in Rabel Beauty Salon Galunggung Malang”. She found 19 (nineteen) jargons used by Stylist In Rabel Beauty Salon Galunggung Malang based on the theory proposed by Yule (1996). The difference her study with this study is she observed the reason why the stylist in Rabel Beauty Salon Galunggung Malang used jargon in communicating. Actually, the theory that her research and this research used was same but in different year. However, the researcher observed the forms of jargon and the way of using jargons by Baristas in Kopi Api Coffee Shop. The similarity of this research with Ardianto's (2014) study were they observed the community as their object. This study focused on Jargon Used by Baristas in Kopi Api Coffee Shop and her study focused on Jargon used by Stylist in Rabel Beauty Salon Galunggung Malang.

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

This chapter presents the conclusion of the study and the suggestion of the researcher would like to give. This chapter is divided into two sections. They are conclusions and suggestions. The detail of each section will be presented below.

A. Conclusions

After analyzing the data, the researcher can answer two problems concerning the forms of jargon used by Baristas in Kopi Api Coffee Shop and the way of using jargon Baristas in Kopi Api Coffee Shop Makassar in communicate. Related to the forms of jargon, they are acronym, abbreviation, word, and phrase. Word places the most frequent one because some jargons are constituted from word. To make them simpler, word is used that the communication takes place more effective.

The second conclusion, the researcher divided the part of jargon used into three parts. They are blending session, training session and serving session. The Baristas used jargon for 20 times in blending session, because in blending session Baristas were talking with their friend who include in Barista community.

It can be concluded that jargon used by Baristas in Kopi Api Coffee Shop Makassar has form. Although, some forms can't be found as many as another forms. Jargon also can be used to communicate to another people even they are not Barista, provided that still in working area.

B. Suggestions

The researcher thinks that research on jargon is not too much. There are still many unfamiliar language can be researched for instance, in movie community, military academy, police academy, etc. There are still many aspects in language which have not been revealed yet, for example how jargon has influence in society. The researcher hopes that this research inspire for next researcher to be able to research more about another community.

Jargon is part of language variety. People can understand language variety not only on jargon terms, but also other term through this research. Social background is one of causes language variety. The researcher hopes this study can enrich the understanding of Barista jargon and also knowledge about the diversity oanguage in the world.

The researcher suggests that if the Baristas will upgrade their jargon, they will make acronym and abbreviation form for make all the forms equal.

- Barista : iya, sama-sama. Semoga bermanfaat untuk penelitiannya yah (yes, your welcome. I hope it can be useful for your research)

2nd Interview (14 November 2017)

- Researcher : halo kak
(hello brother)
- Barista : iye
(yes!)
- Researcher : siapa namata kak?
(what is your name brother?)
- Barista : namaku Dwi
(my name is Dwi)
- Researcher : berapa lama maki jadi Barista?
(how long have you been a Barista?)
- Barista : dua tahun lebih
(more than two years)
- Researcher : kan kemarin menelitika di sini, terus yang kudapat itu ada dua jargon yang pakai singkatan begitu kayak OZ sama OCD. Memang ituji jargon yang kita gunakan setiap hari?
(i researched here yesterday, then i got two jargons using abbreviation like OZ and OCD. Is it jargon that you use every day?)
- Barista : iya, ituji jargon yang di singkat.
(yes, just those that jargon is shorten)
- Researcher : jadi tidak ada mi yang lain?
(so, there is no the other?)
- Barista : tidak adami
(nothing)
- Researcher : hmm, itu sebenarnya jargon kita dapat dari mana? Kita bikin sendiri atau ada memang dari apakah buku (hmm, where did you get your jargon actually? You make it by yourself or you have such as a book)
- Barista : sebenarnya jargon yang kita pakai itu, berdasarkan dari persetujuan dari barista-barista yang ada di indonesia
(actually jargon used by us, based on agreement by all Baristas in Indonesia)
- Researcher : oh kayak adami komunitasnya baru bikinmi ini jargon di?
(oh, like you have a community and you make jargon. Right?)
- Barista : iya kesepakatan
(yes, agreement)
- Researcher : oh jadi ini dari kesepakatan. Terus apa lagi di? Itu ji sebenarnya mau saya tanyakan. Makasih waktunya kak (so, it based on the agreement. What else? Just it my question. Thank you so much for your time)
- Barista : iye sama-sama
(your welcome)
