CHAPTER I

INTRODUCTION

A. Background

A person can be said to be healthy physical and mental physique, both healthy, if only physical is healthy, but the soul is not, it cannot be called health perfectly. Soul meant here is a person's psychic mental. Because basically sick is not only on just physical function like flu, sprain, or headache. Sick can also occur in psychic function. The definition of mental equals psyche in Latin meaning psychic, soul or psychiatric. Muhibbin (2001:10) stated psychology is a science that studies the behavior of inside and outside human beings both individuals and groups, in relation to the environment. In line with Mangal (2011:2) stated psychology is a science which aims to give as better understanding and control of behavior of organism as a whole. In psychology of disease or psychological disorders, one of them is psychopath.

Nowadays, the people can see many cases about a psychopath. One of the trending topic cases about psychopath. A young man named Stuart killed her father who 63 years old, same with his mother was murder by him. He killed his father by stabbing his ribs until broke and crush. (www. Bbc.com/news/uk-northern-ireland-4190879/2017/11/04 accessed on 11th October 2017 at 11.30pm). the same year in UK a young man mutilated 250 cats and a number of foxes and rabbits had been killed in similar circumstances since October 2015 circumstances since October 2015. (www. Bbc.com/news/uk-england-beds-bucks-herts-41830150/2017/11/04 accessed on 11th October 2017 at 12pm).

There are some characteristics that are shown by a person who has psychiatric disorder. Firstly, psychopath tends to behave well and attract the attention of those around him or her by giving charming in first impression. As Hare (1993: xxi) says psychopaths are social predators who charm, manipulate and ruthlessly plow their way through life, leaving a broad trail of broken hearts and shattered expectations without the slightest sense of guilt or regret. There are many psychopaths who has good personality in front of other people, so people have no idea that she or he is a psychopath.

Secondly, psychopaths tend to be less empathy and fake normal. Therefore, they often convincingly come across as personable even charming. It is based on the statement of Pieter Hintjens (2015: 167) who explains that most psychopaths are successful and hide in general society, the number one talent of a psychopath is to look normal. Moreover Pieter in his book entitled The Psychopath Code: Cracking the Predators that Stalk Us also states that psychopath is a symptom of personality disorder that has been considered danger by society. There are many cases of psychopath in this world, some of them are cruel behavior, but some of them are well behaved like a normal people in general. So, the people are difficult to know it.

Furthermore, Islam also gives the thoughts about psychopaths. It contains in QS. Al-Munafiqun60 : 4.

وَإِذَا رَأَيْتَهُمْ تُعْجِبُكَ أَجْسَامُهُمْ وَإِنْ يَقُولُوا تَسْمَعُ لِقَوْلِهِمْ كَأَنْهُمْ خُشْبٌ مِّنْ شَجَرَةٍ مُّسْنَدَةٍ كَأَنْهُمْ

خُشْبٌ مِّنْ شَجَرَةٍ مُّسْنَدَةٍ يُحْسَبُونَ كُلَّ صَيْحَةٍ عَلَيْهِمْ هُمُ الْعَدُوُّ فَاحْذَرْهُمْ إِنَّ اللَّهَ يَكْفُلُ الْإِنْفِ

يُؤْفَكُونَ (4)

“And when you see them, their forms please you, and if they speak, you listen to their speech. (They are) as if they were pieces of wood propped up, they think that every shout is against them. They are the enemy, so beware of them. May Allah destroy them; How are they deluded? ” (Al-Munafiqun 60: 4) (The translation is taken from Sahih International Translation Surah Al-Munafiqun [60:4] – <https://quran.com/60/4>(accessed on 11th of August 2017 at 7 p.m).

The verse says “they were pieces of wood propped up” because they do not know the use and where to be paired. Like the existing blocks on the sawmill, big and sturdy but not necessary beneficial even though they are valiant, admirable, and smart when talking, but their intelligence is not used with a good things. They have bad attitude even though their bodies are good and they are good at speaking, but in fact their brains are empty and do not understand the truth. The verse tell us that we are wary of someone’s appearance who cheats in fake missions because sometimes people are articulate and ethical but lie in behavior.

There are so many experts who gave their thoughts about psychopath terms. Sigmund Freud is credited with creating psychoanalysis, which is essentially the study of a person's personality and the problems associated with the inner workings of person's mind. Freud said that a person's personality is formulated more from a person's unconscious mind than their conscious mind. He divided the mind and personality into three interacting systems, the id, super ego, and the ego.

Psychopaths are new thing; there are many psychopathic cases that occur around us. The thing about ordinary psychopaths is found only in psychology books self, but now people can read and enjoy in the literary works. The novel entitled Straw by Noorca Marendra published in 2015 is one of a literary work that tells of psychopaths who carried out the killing and cannibalism. The definition of literature according to Klarer (1999: 1) etymologically, the Latin word "literature" is derived from "littera" (letter), which is the smallest element of alphabetical writing. The word text is related to "textile" and can be translated as "fabric" just as single threads from a fabric, so words and sentences form a meaningful and coherent text. By this definition about literature, people can assume that literature is just a something written and has meaning. Actually it is just a simple meaning literature. In the era modern literature is not only limited in written literary works but also in the oral/ speaking literary works. Literary work comes from author's creativity. As Aminuddin (2002: 57) said "Karya sastra merupakan fenomena social budaya yang melibatkan kreatifitas manusia". (Literary work is social culture phenomenon that involved human's creativity).

Movie is one of the most important media in conveying information. An emerging perspective that movies portray the portrait of the society which is the movie made. Based on Irwanto said in Sobur (2013:127) Movie always records the reality that grows and develops in society, and then projected in upscreen. Other definition about movie stated by Marcel Danesi (2010: 134) Movie is a text that contains a series of photographic images that result illusion of motion and action in real life.

So, the people can know that literature and movie are interconnected. Movie a part of literature as Wellek and Warren (1956: 2) said literature has three main branches they are prose, drama and poetry. Literary work is result of human being thinking which tell about life deal with feeling, ideas and problem. In the movie the people can see creation by the authors, there are character, plot, background, script and dialogue. Moreover statement by Boggs (1978) the relation between movie and literature in the movie script. A movie script is literary an autonomous product.

The researcher was interested in researching a thesis on personal after watching a movie entitled "Maniac". Maniac is a 2012 French-American psychological slasher film directed by Franck Khalifoun and written by Alexandre Aja. Frank Zito the main character of this movie is a mentally disturbed young man who has taken over his family's mannequin sales business after the recent death of his mother, who also moonlighted as a prostitute. Frank's childhood experiences of seeing his mother bring home clients or being taken out with her to turn tricks has left Frank unable to enter into meaningful relationships with women, and his sexual impulses tend to manifest themselves as violent urges that Frank externalizes mother's will. The relationship with his girl, but in the end it becomes a hate and he kill his girl. As the hadith of Rasulullah, he said (Ahmad Hasyiim: 1570)

بيك هونا ما, عسي ان يكون بغيضك يوما ما

وابغض بغيضك هونا ما, عسي ان يكون يوما ما

UNIVERSITAS ISLAM NEGERI ( )

“Love your beloved simply, because perhaps someday he or she will be your enemy. And hate your enemy simply, because perhaps someday he or she will be your beloved” (H.R. Tirdmidzi).

Loving excessively usually make a person feel fear of loss, more jealousy and over protective. Finally that love turned to be scary. A sense over of love can lead to possessiveness. Unconsciously, in the name of love the intention of making a happy couple just because of possessive attitude. Possessive attitudes can sometimes be interpreted as a form of attention but over possessiveness will only make life fettered, sometimes also he will often impose his will. What he or she initially calls attention, becomes over ego and possessive. The latter is possessive or psychopath. As quoted by the Dewi Lestari in the Novel Filosofi Kopi (2005: 99) said “Pegang tanganku, tapi jangan terlalu erat. Karena saya ingin seiring, bukan digiring”.

The story of this movie portrayed the main character is psychopath, but it make us think that a psychopath does not simply to be a psychopath. There are background stories, or things that make an ordinary person turn to be a psychopath. This is what makes researcher interested in researching this movie, because the main character reveals psychological conflicts that cause personality disorder. Personality disorders are experienced by the main character in this movie direct to psychopath. Researcher considers that research on psychology is considered important, because by researching it can overcome the problems related with psychic.

Therefore from the explanation above, it makes the researcher considered that it is an interested things to be analyzed'

1) Research Questions

Based on what is explained above, the researcher formulated two problems as follows:

1. How are the characteristics of Frank's psychopathic portrayed in the movie "Maniac"?
2. What are the factors that make Frank as a main character of the movie "Maniac" become a psychopath?

2) Research Objectives

Based on the research questions above, the objectives of the research were supposed to be:

1. To describe psychopath by the main character of the movie "Maniac"
2. To identify the factors which cause the main character become psychopaths.

3) Research Significance

There are two kinds of significance in this research, which are theoretical and practical.

Theoretically, this research was expected to help the reader in term of increasing their knowledge about psychopath and cause to be psychopath by the Maniac movie. The researcher may help the readers to understand well about a psychopath in their life.

Practically, the result of the research was expected to give better understanding to the readers in how the way to understand and know the psychopath's brain. It may give the understanding that a psychopath does not simply be a psychopath; there is background to form it.

4) Research Scope

In this research, the analysis be only limited on psychopathic by the main character of the movie "Maniac". The researcher analysed the characteristics of the main character to be a psychopath by using theory of Robert D. Hare. The researcher analysed the factor of the main character to be a psychopath by using theory of Sigmund Freud.

CHAPTER II

LIETRATURE REVIEW

In chapter two, the researcher presents four major sub-chapters which are relevant to the topic of this research.

A. Previous Findings

There are some findings which are related to this research, they are:

A thesis by Amalia (2011) “A Psychopath Analysis on Michaels’s Character in Halloween Film by Rob Zombie”. The writer analyses in this film how psychopath suffered by Michael who has abnormal behavior by using psychological theory, the researcher focuses more on Michael’s psychology (Michael’s character). The researcher used descriptive qualitative analysis as the method of research, which tried to explain about the character and psychopathic personality of the main character in this film. The researcher found some of Michael’s characteristic as a psychopath that showed that he had abnormal behavior there are: Antisocial, apathetic, mysterious, peculiar, cruel and criminal, poor of judgment and callous, high intelligent, manipulative and irresponsible, and thief.

Maulanie (2011) “An Analysis of Esther’s Psychopath Problem in Orphan Film Viewed from Psychoanalysis Theory by Sigmund Freud” in this research, researcher used a descriptive qualitative method, which tried to explain about the intrinsic and extrinsic element of the film; such as the dialogues and the scenes of the film, then followed by analysing them through Sigmund Freud's psychoanalysis as the extrinsic element of the film. As the result, after analysing the film the researcher got the Esther's characteristic such as immoral, inhuman, liar, lack of empathy, manipulative, aggressive, impulsive, and hard to control her and etc.

Sarah (2009) "The Psychopath Analysis of John Kramer's Characterizations On Saw Series Movie". The researcher used a qualitative descriptive method by using abnormal psychology. The researcher find psychopath's characteristic of John Kramer such as, difficulty in trusting the rest of the world, show no remorse and empathy, killing and torturing people that do not appreciate their lives, and do manipulate actions.

Doing comparison of three findings above, there are both similarities and differences with the research that the researcher will do. The similarities are: (1) the data source of all the findings also taken from film (2) The research of Siri Amalia and Nurul Hikma Maulanie are using the same theory, which is Theory of Sigmund Freud. Otherwise for the difference, it involves about the theory from Siti Sarah she used the theory about abnormal psychology.

B. Pertinent Ideas

1. Psychology

Psychology is the scientific study of mind and behavior. The word “psychology” comes from Greek words “psyche” meaning life and “logos” meaning explanation. According to Rod (2013: 6) psychology is the science of the experiences that arise from human self, such as mind and behavior. It embraces all aspects of unconscious and conscious experience as nice as thought. It is an applied science an academic discipline, which looks to understand individuals or groups by establishing general principles and researching specific cases.

Basically sick not only on just physical function like flu, sprain, or headache. Sick can also occur in psychic function. It is included in the category illness. Psychology also refers to the application of such knowledge to various spheres of human activity, including problems individual’s daily lives and the treatment of behavior. As the statement of David C. Edwards (1969) psychology is the science of behavior. The primary aim of psychology is to find the laws which relate behavior to situations, conditions, and other behaviors.

2. Trend and Theory of Psychoanalysis

The work of psychological fiction is a term used to describe a literary work that wrestles the spiritual, emotional, and immoral characters by way of more judgment of the character than the study of the plot story. There are many psychological works related to literature. According to Cuddon (1979: 540) psychological novel a vague term to describe that kind of fiction which is for the most part concerned with the spiritual, emotional and mental lives of the characters and with the analysis of character rather than with the plot and action. Many novelists during the last 200 years have written psychological novels.

The literary works of novels, movies, dramas, and poems in this era are loaded with psychological elements as manifestation; the physics of the author, the fictional character in narratives and readers. Therefore, lately literature studies by the psychology approach has a attention of researchers, students, and lectures of literature but unfortunately, many researchers who study literature give impression that literary disappears drowned out by psychology. In fact, literary psychology does not mean to solve psychological problems as people think. Definitively, the purpose of literary psychology is to understand the psychological aspects are embedded in a literary work.

According to Ratna (2004: 344) the psychology approach for literature is done in two ways. First, through the understanding of psychological theories, than held an analysis of literary work. Secondly, by first determining a literary work as an object of research, then determined psychological theories that are consider relevant to perform the analysis. As an example of a second literary psychology approach, a researcher needs to master a variety of psychological concepts, especially those related to the character and psychological condition of the characters, if the object is related to the character of the actor contained in the novel, drama or movie.

According to Guerin (1979: 121) during the twentieth century, however, psychological criticism has come to be associated with a particular school of thought, the psychoanalytic theories of Sigmund Freud (1856-1939) and his followers. Thus, nowadays many people, researchers who are interested to study literature using psychological approach by psychoanalysis theory exactly. Sometimes the researcher miss when use this theory in the literature study, but actually the case important thing in understanding and reviewing literature with a psychological approach that needs to be understood is the extent which the author's psychological involvement and the author's ability to show the fictional characters involved with psychiatric problems.

According to Guerin (1979: 153-154) abuses of the approach have resulted from an excess of enthusiasm, which has been manifested in several ways. First, the practioners of the Freudian approach often put their critical these too hard, forcing literature into a Procrustean bed of psychoanalytic theory at the expense of other relevant consideration (for example, the work's total thematic and aesthetic context). Second, the literary criticism of the psychoanalytical extremists has at times degenerated into a special occultism with its own mystique and jargon exclusively for the in group. Third, many critics of the psychological school have been either literary scholar who has understood the principles of psychology imperfectly or professional psychologists who have had little feeling for literature as art: the former have abused Freudian insights through oversimplification and distortion; the latter have bruised our literary sensibilities.

According Minderop (2010: 98) the study of literary works reflecting the concepts of psychology is presented in a way, first, presented the summary of the stories of each literary works reviewed. Second, there is review of figures relevant to the purpose of his analysis. There are many popular literary works that have been studied through the psychological approaches. The works is a work of British and American authors. The works are like; Mourning Becomes Electra Karya Eugene O'Neil, The Scarlet Letter and The Minister's Black Veil Karya Nathaniel Hawthorne, Sons and Lover Karya D.H. Lawrence and Sister Carrie Karya Theodore Dreiser.

The application of psychoanalysis begun by Sigmund Freud itself can be seen from his work and some works related to art and literature.

L'interpretation des Reves (Dream Interpretation) published in 1899. This is a classic book that describes the interpretation of dreams. This book is the most fundamental theoretical foundation of the relationship between psychoanalysis and literature, translated by Brill (2015). Freud's most frequently used theoretical basis in Trois Essais sur la Theorie de la Sexualite (Three Essays about Sexualities Theory), published in 1905. Second Freud's work is Delire et Reves and the "Gradiva" of Jensen. Delir and Dream in "La Gradiva" Jensen's work, published 1906. This is the clearest work on the application of psychoanalytic theories in literary works, when Freud conducts research on the short story titled La Gradiva by Jensen and found that the personality of the characters and events in the short story is very much in keeping with his own theories about human personality.

Psychoanalysis is a branch of science developed by Sigmund Freud and his followers as a study of human psychological function and behavior. As Minderop (2013: 11) this science is a part of psychology that contributed and made to human psychology this time started 1900s by Sigmund Freud.

Psychoanalysis is a scientific discipline which was begun some sixty years ago by Sigmund Freud. What we call psychoanalytic theory, therefore, is a body of hypotheses concerning mental functioning and development in a man. It is a part of general psychology and it comprises what are by far the most important contributions that have been made to human psychology today (Banner, 1969:11).

Behavior by Sigmund Freud, is the result of conflict and reconciliation of the three personality system. Next, Freud discussing to division of human psychological in three parts: Id, ego, super-ego. Freud likens id as king or queen, ego as prime minister, and super-ego as highest clergyman. In the psychoanalysis theory he said that the life of the soul has three levels: conscious, preconscious, and unconscious.

According to Freud, id is the original element human being owns when they were born. It is in need of the elementary things, for example, food, shelter, clothes and so forth. According to Freudian model of the psyche, the Id is the set of uncoordinated instinctual trends, the super-ego plays the critical and moralizing role, and the ego is the organized, realistic part that mediates between the desires of the id and the super-ego. Id behaves like an absolute ruler, must be respected, spoiled, arbitrary, and self-absorbed, what desired of Id must be immediately fulfilled. As Koeswara (1991-32) Id is the most basic personality system in which there are innate instincts. Id is psychic energy and instinct that push human to supply the human needs such as: food, sex, drink, etc. The id has no contact with the reality, it not changed by the passage of the time or by the experience of the people. As Feist said (1988: 27) the id has no contact with the reality, yet is strives constantly to reduce tension by satisfying basic desires.

The Ego is caught between two opposing forces, and obeys the principle of reality by trying to fulfill the reality of the bounded reality. The ego According to Feist (1988: 29) when performing is cognitive and intellectual functions, the ego must take into consideration the incompatible but equally unrealistic demands of the id and the super-ego. In addition to these to tyrants, the ego must serve a third master the external world. Thus, ego constantly tries to reconcile the blind, irrational, claims of the id and the super-ego with the realistic demand of external world. Finding itself surrounded on three sides by divergent and hostile forces, the ego reacts in a predictable manner it becomes anxious. It the uses repression and t other defense mechanism to defend itself against this anxiety.

In Freudian psychology, The Super-ego or above represents the moral and idea aspects of personality and is guided by moralistic and idealistic principles as opposed to the pleasure. Super-ego as well as a conscience that recognizes good or bad value (conscience). This personality system is positioned above the ego, because it is called the super-ego. Super-ego is always critical of ego activity, not even rarely hit and attack the ego.

The simple example, when people find one hundred thousand on the streets. The people imagine with one hundred thousand they can buy good food (id), then people remember if they take money that is not theirs, they will sin (super-ego), then there is a conflict between id and super-ego. This is where the task (ego) depends on what people want to follow, because the id and super-ego have given the picture.

Pleasure and the Id: inhibition and the Ego, according to Feist (1998: 54) Neurosis is the result of a conflict between the ego and its id. Neurosis is mental disorder that occurs only on the part of the personality. The concept of “neurosis” was introduced by William Cullen in 1769 : 67 GB. Cassan to describe those affections of sense or motion not due to topical lesions of the central nervous system. Later, Sigmund Freud used the term neurosis to group a set of syndromes and provide the first valid clinical definition and comprehensive classification of the disorder. According to Maramis (1980: 257) there are six kinds of neurosis and factors make them.

a. Anxiety

Anxiety is an unpleasant inner state that people seek to avoid. Anxiety can described as feeling alarm or worry. Anxiety causes genetics and heredity, social factors, Medical conditions, chemical imbalances in the brain, and substance, personality.

b. Hysteria Neurotic

Hysteria is a neurosis that contains uncontrolled reactions as a way to defend itself from its sensitivity to emotional stimuli. Pain and body can be lost without being desired the patient. Symptoms often appear and disappear, especially if the patient presents a situation that gives rise to great emotional reaction.

c. Phobic Neurotic

Phobic neurosis is a mental entity with its main phobia, which is an irrational of object or situation. Phobias can cause feelings such as fainting, fatigue, nausea, panic, sweating.

d. Obsessive- Compulsive neurotic

The term obsessions refers to an urgent idea into the mind or control of consciousness and the term compulsions refers to impulses or impulses that cannot be withheld not to be done, even though the act is not actually necessary.

These types of neurosis due to following factors:

- 1) Conflicts between desires suppressed or transferred
- 2) Emotional mental trauma, the repression of past experiences childhood.

e. Depressive Neurotic

Depressive neurosis is a neurosis with major disruption to feelings with features: lack of enthusiasm, low self-esteem and self-blame

f. Neurasthenia

Neurasthenia is also called leprosy. The main symptoms of this disorder are not excited, tired even though only a little energy, unstable emotions, and ability to think down. In addition to the main symptoms are also there are additional symptoms namely insomnia, headache, often infestation of various diseases.

3. Psychopath

There are many definitions about psychopaths from experts, depending on how they see what the psychopaths are. According to Meloy (1988: 7), Psychopath is the abnormalities of the psychopath's brain. If the criminal commits act cruelly people will judge him as a psychopath. When in fact not all killers are psychopaths, and not all psychopaths are killers. But actually it is not always so, there are many out there a psychopaths who appear by way of manipulating. They look have good attitude and smart when they speak. Psychopath is the asocial, aggressive, highly-impulsive person, who feels little or no guilt and is unable to form lasting bonds of affection with other human beings. As Robert Hare (1934: xi) said psychopaths are social predators who charm, manipulate, and ruthlessly plow their way through life, leaving a broad trail of broken hearts, shattered expectations, and empty wallets.

According to Krebs, Gordon, Hughes (2009: 676) said psychopath is mentally ill person who behaves violently without feeling guilt. It means that psychopath is a person who has psychological brain different with a normal people. Psychopath disorder is a conditioning which people show pervasive disregard for the law and the rights of other people with psychopath disorder may tend to lie or steal and often fail to fulfill job or parenting responsibilities. The term “sociopath” and “antisocial personality disorder” are sometime used to describe a person with psychopath disorder.

Hare, in his book “Without Conscience” lists the characteristics of psychopath that he uses as part of his checklist. This Hare psychopathy checklist is a complex clinical tool used in the clinical evaluation to determine if someone is a psychopath or not. Just because somebody has someone these traits does not make them psychopath.

There are some characteristics of psychopath by Hare (1999; 34)

Emotional/Interpersonal	Social Deviance
Glib and superficial the characteristic of psychopath is someone who have interest in their physic and good talker.	Impulsive happens most in psychopath. Psychopath is not a typical to think of the pros and cons that exist in their heart and mind.

Egocentric and grandiose is an attitude where psychopath has high self confidence, high self esteem and arrogant.	Poor behavior controls controls is kind of psychopath typically have less emotional
Lack of remorse or guilt is an attitude where psychopath did not feel guilty after they kill people.	Need for excitement According to Hare psychopaths get bored easily
Lack of empathy is a lack of feelings toward people in general; cold, contemptuous, inconsiderate, and tactless.	Lack of responsibility psychopath tend to lack of responsibility and did not take the responsibilities properly.
Deceitful and manipulative lying, deceiving, and manipulating are something natural from a psychopath (Hare 46) and it becomes their natural habit.	Early behavior problems is the main problem to creating a child behavior. Environment is the first thing to learn by children, so that they will imitate what people do around them. Most of them had experienced violence or seen violent acts directly.

	Environment that is not good is the triggers to be bad attitudes that exist in these children. They feel trauma or something, so they take it out with criminal acts.
Shallow emotions is a lack of emotional and feeling when psychopath cannot explain their feeling.	Adult antisocial behavior is a good predictor of adult behavioral problems and criminality

Psychopathy Checklist is now used worldwide to help clinicians and researcher distinguish with reasonable certainty true psychopath from those who merely break the rules.

4. Factors of Psychopath

No one knows exactly causes psychopathy but it is likely a combination of genetics, environment, and interpersonal factors. Some people say psychopaths are born. Other say they are made or born with the condition. According to James D. Page and James C. Coleman there are some causes factors of psychopath. Family Disruption the psychopath is near the delinquents. Most investigators have found that delinquents, more often than non- delinquents, are reared in home broken through desertion, divorce, separation, or the death one or both parents. Economic Aspects The majority of criminals and delinquents come from poor homes and are either unemployed or engaged in unskilled and low income occupation.

Added by Dr. Robert Hare, it appears in his book entitled Without Conscience The Disturbing World of The Psychopaths Among Us (1995: 165-166) said However, several rudimentary theories about the causes of psychopath are worth considering. At one end of the spectrum are theories that view psychopath as largely the product of genetic or biological factors (nature), whereas theories at the other end of the spectrum posit that psychopath results entirely from a faulty early social environment (nurture). As with most controversies, the "truth" no doubt lies somewhere in between. That is, psychopathic attitudes and behaviors very likely are the result of a combination of biological factors and environmental forces.

5. Literature

Literature in a dictionary means that writings in which expression and form, in connection with ideas of permanent and universal interest, are characteristic or essential features, as poetry, novels, history, biography an essays. While Klarer (2004:1) stated that in most cases, literature is referred to as the entirety of written expression, with the restriction that not every written document can be categorized as literature in the more exact sense of the word.

Klarer (1999) defines literature as derivative of the Latin word “literature” is derived from “littera” (letter), which is the smallest element of alphabetical writing. The word text is related to “textile” and can be translated as “fabric” just as single threads from a fabric, so words and sentences form a meaningful and coherent text. In the book Hudson entitled An Introduction to the Study of Literature he give explanation about literature is composed of those books, and of those books only, which, in the first place, by reason of their subject-matter and their mode of treating it, are of general human interest, and in which, in the second place, the element of form and the pleasure which form gives are to be regarded as essential.

A piece of literature differs from as specialised treatise on astronomy, political economy, philosophy, or even history. Literature is a vital record what men have seen in life, what they have experienced of it, what they have thought and felt about those aspects of it which have the most immediate and enduring interest for all of us. It is thus fundamentally an expression of life through the medium of language.

Literature is an essay that tells a story by displaying situations, expression, emotions, and analysing. According to Roberts and Jacobs (2006: 20) literature is composition that tells the story, dramatizes a situation, express emotion analyses and advocates ideas. Be different Bressler that stated (1994: 7) literature as work of imaginative or creative writings. From definition that state by Bressler literature is writing expressions, but not all writing is a literature. From some definition people can conclude that literature is result of art telling the elements of story with show the expression, emotion, and language direct be related with the human life.

6. Literature and Psychology

The definition by Endraswa (2016) studying literary psychology is actually same as we study the inside of human. Because we can understand the inside in the human soul itself. Not only his own is in literature, but can also represent the soul of others. In work of Abrams (1979: 226) there is quote of sentences from J. Middleton Murry "So to know a work of literature it to know the soul of the man who created, and who created it in order that his soul should be known". It is clear that literary works especially works of William Shakespeare are reflection of human behaviour, the way where we understand the world and the personality of the author who needs to be understand. Psychology Literature is interdisciplinary between literature and psychology. According to Wellek and Warren (1949: 75) "Psychology of Literature," we many mean the psychological study of the writer, as type an as individual, or the study of the creative process, or the study of the psychological types and laws present within works of literature, or finally the effects of literature upon its readers (audience psychology).

Psychology and literature focus on human behaviour. Literature and Psychology are two different but interconnected. Literature is representation of life in the form of language while psychology is studies about human behaviour. According to Wellek and Warren (1956: 94) literature is representation of human feeling, experience, and life. Literature is the reflection of human feeling towards his life It is closely related to human experience through which we can learn the image of human beings that is expressed in the written way. It can also be defined as the work of arts which represents human life. It is clear that both can be separated of human beings. According to Atkinson, Psychology is the science that studies human's behaviour and mental process. Psychology has relation human. According Minderop (2010) the first relation is literature and psychology talk about human in individual and social aspect. The second relation is literature and psychology use the experience of human as the study in own field.

Thus between psychology and literary works possess the same functional relationship useful for the study about psychological aspects of human. The difference between psychological symptoms of literature is imagine, whereas in psychology is a real human being.

7. Character and Characterization

Character is one of the important things in literary work. Characters refer to person in work of fiction and to the characteristics of person in work of fiction. Character appears in literary work to make the work look more real. As Robert stated (1993: 20) character is the person presented in dramatics of narrative work that are interpreted by reader as being endowed with the moral and dispositional qualities that are expressed in what they say and what they do in action.

Character in literary work divided into two kind, character as main character and character who act as supporter. In literary work not only is there one character, but it needs some characters to make work more real. As Resmini (2007: 13) there are two kinds of character in the story. There are main character and minor character. Main character is a character that plays an important role of character that I often focused on and given some comments by the author. Minor character is a character that functions as a supporting character, plays additional role and give support to the main character.

Characters have an important position in a literary work. Characters describe the story, does not mean that there is enough character in literary work. The authors give conversation, name, and appearance to the characters.

According to Suhariato in his book Dasar-dasar Teori Sastra (1982: 31 ) said character is someone in literary work who short of identify, an identify which is made up by appearance, conversation, action, name, and (possible) thought's going on the head. With the same thing added to Millie and Yates (Nurgiyantoro 1998: 228) declare, there are six methods that authors use to show the characters. They are: 1) By what the person say, 2) By what someone else says, 3) By his or her action, 4) By indicating his or her thoughts, 5) By the way that other people treat him or her, 6) By the author's direct words.

Characterization is the way used to make and appear characters in literary work. The difference between character and characterization is that a character is a person, an animal, or an imaginary creature that takes part in the action of a literary work and characterization is all the techniques a writer uses to create and develop a character. As Richard Gill's Mastering English Literature (1985: 127) a character is a person in literary work. Characterization is the way in which a character is created. Therefore, it could be said that character is a product of characterization.

8. Film Maniac (2012)

Maniac is a 2012 French-American psychological slasher film directed by Franck Khalfoun and written by Alexandre Aja, Grégory Levasseur, and

C.A. Rosenberg. The film was produced by the French film companies La Petite Reine and Studio 37. It is a remake of the 1980 film of the same name and stars Elijah Wood as Frank Zito, a brutal serial killer. The film also stars Nora Arnezeder, Jan Broberg, and America Olivo.

Frank Zito (Elijah Wood)

is a mentally disturbed young man who has taken over his family's mannequin sales business after the recent death of his mother, who also moonlighted as a prostitute. Frank's childhood experiences of seeing his mother bring home clients or being taken out with her to turn tricks has left Frank unable to enter into meaningful relationships with women, and his sexual impulses tend to manifest themselves as violent urges that Frank externalizes as his mother's will.

One night Frank stalks, murders and scalps a young woman, then attaches her hair to a mannequin that he keeps in his bedroom, in reference to memories of his mother brushing her hair before going out. He then joins a dating site, where he befriends a girl named Lucie. The two meet for what turns out to be a successful date. The pair return to Lucie's apartment, where she attempts to seduce the virginal Frank, mistaking his increasing panic for nervousness. Failing to control his homicidal impulses, Frank eventually strangles Lucie, then scalps her and takes her hair back to his apartment, where he attaches it to another mannequin.

One morning, Frank awakens to find a photographer named Anna taking photos of the mannequins in his storefront. Frank invites her into his store, where she becomes taken with his work restoring antique department store mannequins. The two develop a friendship, with Frank agreeing to help Anna put together an art exhibit using his mannequins. As the two spend more time together, Frank begins to fall in love, and becomes more resolute about trying to control his urges, also resorting to pharmaceuticals. Despite his attempts, Frank claims one more victim by following a woman home from her dance studio, stabbing her to death in a parking lot and attaching her hair to another mannequin.

At the opening of the exhibit, Frank meets Anna's boyfriend Jason, whose existence he had only recently learned of, as well as art director and Anna's mentor Rita. Both mock him for his interest in mannequins, questioning his sexual orientation. Frank later follows Rita home, subdues her in the bathtub and hog-ties her on her bed. Identifying Rita with his mother, Frank voices his resentment and sense of abandonment, finally scalping Rita alive in a fit of rage.

Several nights later, Frank calls Anna, who tearfully tells him of Rita's murder and of her recent breakup with Jason. Frank comes to Anna's apartment to comfort her, but in his attempts he inadvertently confesses to the murders by giving away insider knowledge of the cases of Rita and the other women. Panicking, Anna attacks Frank with a kitchen knife, but Frank manages to subdue Anna, rendering her unconscious and killing her neighbor in the process. Frank loads Anna's body into his van and drives home, but as he arrives Anna regains consciousness and stabs Frank in the stomach with a piece of rebar attached to a mannequin hand. Anna flees and is picked up by a passing motorist, who runs Frank down at Anna's urging but crashes the car, knocking out both passengers. A bloodied Frank hobbles to the mortally wounded Anna and scalps her as she dies.

Frank returns to his apartment, attaching Anna's hair to a mannequin dressed in a bridal gown. As he succumbs to his injuries, Frank suffers hallucinations of the mannequins transforming into his victims and tearing his body apart, finally ripping off his face to reveal a mannequin head. Before he dies, Frank sees Anna, clad in a wedding dress, lower her veil and turn her back on him. Later that day, a SWAT team breaks into Frank's apartment, only to find a bloodied, dead Frank in his closet.

CHAPTER III

RESEARCH METHODOLOGY

A. Research Method

The research was conducted by employing a descriptive qualitative method. Descriptive qualitative method is a method which is employed to collect and analyse data and draw conclusion of the analysed data. By using this method, the researcher was able to explain or describe the psychopathic experienced by the main character of the movie “Maniac”. Taylor and Bogdan (1949: 7) defines qualitative research refers in the broadest sense the research that produce descriptive data- people’s own writer or spoken and observable behavior. Moreover, according Corbing and Straus (2008) qualitative research are concerned with the meaning people attach to things in their lives. The center of phenomenological perspective and hence qualitative research help people to understand from their own frames or references and experiencing reality as they experience.

B. Source of Data

Adedokun (2003: 57) states that the term data refers to any fact, analyze facts relating to the subject of the study. In this study, the researcher used “Maniac- 2012” movie as the data in order to analyze the psychopathic experienced by the main character.

C. Research Instrument

In collecting data, the researcher used note taking as instrument of the research. According to Bodgan and Biklein (2003: 20) Note taking is a method in assembling data required by using not card to write down the data found from source of data. In order to find data easily, the researcher made some notes to classify the important unit or part of script that related to the problem and the objective of the research

D. Techniques of Collecting Data

In collecting data, the researcher applied several procedures as follows:

1. Watched the movie several times.
2. Identified the data which are taken by using note-taking.
3. Wrote down the data on the note cards that related of psychopath.
4. Classified and analysis the data that related the object of the research as main character to become a psychopath.
5. Noted down the psychopath description on the yellow note card, and the factor of the main character who become a psychopath on the pink note card.

E. Technique of Data Analysis

Data analysis technique used by researcher was analysis content which is descriptive qualitative. Using this technique then the purpose of this study was to describe a clear of the psychopaths that exist in the movie “Maniac”. According to Titscher (2000:55), content analysis is the longest established method of text analysis among the set of empirical methods of social investigation. Furthermore, Bryman (2004:392) states that qualitative content analysis is probably the most prevalent approach to the qualitative analysis of documents and that it comprises a searching-out of underlying themes in the materials being analysed.

CHAPTER IV

FINDING AND DISCUSSION

This chapter focused on discussion on the analysis psychopath characteristic of Frank and the factors made Frank as a psychopath. Based on the problems formulating in the previous chapter, the discussion on this chapter was made in two subchapters. The first subchapter attempts to present the description psychopath characteristic of Frank. The characteristics of psychopath portrayed Frank is supported by theory of character and characterization, and the characteristics of a psychopath. The second subchapter is the analysis on the factors that made Frank as a psychopath. The factor that makes Frank becomes psychopath is supported by theory of personality by Sigmund Freud. There are 12 characteristics of psychopath, but the researcher only got 5 five characteristics and 1 factor of Frank as main character in the Maniac movie becomes a psychopath.

A. Findings

Here are data that researcher found a psychopathic in Maniac movie.

1. Characteristics

a. Glib and Superficial

The first data (D1), when Anna asks Frank about the horror movie that they watched his response makes Anna impressed. Frank's response to the film make Anna impressed, she is see the different sides of Frank, his response made him look romantic.

Dialogue: 00:50:57 – 00: 51:20

Anna : So what'd you think? You know, Caligari is to be the first horror movie. I really thought she was gonna get killed at the end.

Frank : I'm glad that she didn't.

Anna : Yeah, but they all end up living in a mental hospital.

Frank : I know but at least it was a happy ending.

Anna : I may have just found the last romantic. (She smiled and surprised when she heard the response given by Frank very different).

b. Lack of remorse or guilt

The second data (D2), Frank kills Lucie 86 who his victim. There was no guilt that he appeared. He just acted as if nothing wrong had he done. Even after Frank kills Lucie, he cuts her head and hair, and then he brings in his room a puts it on the head of his mannequin by using a shoot clips. In the above dialogue shows that Frank does not show any guilt after killing is victim, he just talk and acts as if nothing wrong has he done.

Dialogue : 00:17:40 – 00:20:39

Frank : Look what you made me do. Look what you made me do! I hate you. I hate you. ((dia berteriak, berbicara dengan nada terposo-poso, kemudian dia mengambil cutter dan memotong rambut beserta kulit kepala redlucie. Setelah itu ia berlari ke toilet mencuci tangannya, untuk membawa kulit kepala dan rambut reduci kerumahnya.)

It's okay, it's okay, it's okay. I'll make it better. I'll make it all better now. Sorry I missed you today. I have a surprise for you. Are you asleep already? I'm sorry but I just can't wait. (He talked to the mannequins at his house, introduced that he has something new).

Alright. Take a look. I saved the best for last. Here we go. Oh, that's nice. Perfect fit, right? Okay now, this might sting a little. Okay, good. Good. Just one more. Perfect. Perfect. Meet Redlucie86. Redlucie 86, this is my girlfriend. (He put Redlucie's scalp on a mannequin statue, take up clip and he clipped it on the mannequin).

c. Impulsive

The third (D3), data is when Anna yells Martin for helping her. Martin entered was inside Anna's house to save her. And Martin keep on to yell for Anna, Frank throw a meat-cutting knife into Martin's mouth.

Dialogue : 01:13:51- 01:14:42

Anna : Marin! Help me! Help (Anna yell and ask for help, after she stabs Frank's palm of hand, she runs to bedroom and lock herself.)

Martin : What's the matter, Anna? (Martin kept knock on Anna's door)

Anna : Leave me alone. Go away. Please go away. (Anna yelled, drive out to Martin, because she thinks that him is Frank).

Martin : Anna, it's me Martin. Open the door. Anna what's happening in there? Is everything alright? Anna, open the door. Anna? (Martin kept knock on Anna's door).

Frank in a kitchen after treated the wound in his palm of hand. He took a meat cutter and opened the door for Martin. After Martin entered in there, Frank threw the cutter in his mouth.

Ann : Martin?
 Martin : Anna, where are you?
 Anna : In the bathroom.

d. Poor behavior control

The fourth data (D4), when the atmosphere between Frank and Anna increasingly heated up, he still tries gently to persuade her to want to hear his explanation, but Anna does not want. Frank keep on persuade Anna, but useless. Uncontrolled, Frank just throws Anna until she is fall accidently in floor.

Dialogue: 01:12:56-01:13:37

Frank : You look like a stranger. Why are you scared? Anna come, I think we need to have a little talk. (Frank touched Anna's shoulder and tried to explain what had happened was a misunderstanding).

Anna : Get off me! (Anna took a knife and lead to Frank while she is yelling and crying).

Frank : Just calm down. What are you doing? What are you doing? It seems that we need to iron a few things. You know what I mean, do not you? Come, I think we need to have a serious talk. (Frank softens his voice, try to persuade Anna. Then Anna scraped the knife to Frank's arm. Frank slaps Anna and push her on the table until it broke and Anna fell to the floor).

Anna : Get off! (Anna kept yelling and crying).

Frank : Let me explain it to you! (He pulled Anna's foot until the glasses on the floor injured her body).

e. Lack of empathy

The last data of the characteristic Frank's psychopath (D5), when Frank wants to kill Rose, he keeps chasing her, when she hides; suddenly he cut his legs until she fell. And then Frank stabs her body for several times until Rose died.

Dialogue : 00:37:44- 00:39:39

(Rose kept running from Frank. She got into the car park. She was hiding behind the car that was there)

Rose : Somebody open it. Help me. Please. (She yelled and asked for help. Rose asked for help. Frank opened a hedge of car park, he took a beater and look for Rose. And Finally Frank got rose, she cut her foot).

Rose : No! No! Please! No! Please. No! No!
(Rose fell on the asphalt her foots kept bleed. She yelled and cried. Frank just silent, he came close to Anna and stabbed her body till Rose died. Frank took her scalp).

2. The Factor that Make Frank become a Psychopath

The data about factor becomes Frank as psychopath is id's Frank. The dominant Frank's id makes the ego and superego of the Frank does not balance. In the Frank's mind as psychopath the id dominated a weak ego a feeble superego. The dominant Id in Frank it causes neurosis.

B. Discussion

In this part the researcher discussed the data analysis that had been found in Maniac movie. The researcher describes the characteristics of Frank's psychopath and the factors that cause Frank becomes a psychopath.

1. Characteristics of Frank's psychopath

a. Glib and Superficial

Based on the (D1), Frank appears his character of psychopaths is glib or superficial. Psychopaths are often voluble and verbally facile. They can be amusing and entertaining conversationalists, ready with a clever comeback, and are able to tell unlikely but convincing stories that case themselves in good light. They can be very effective in presenting themselves well and are often very likeable and charming.

The psychopath tendency is glib and superficial. Glib and superficial is the tendency to be smooth, engaging, charming, and slick. They exude an air confidence that naturally draws others to them. Frank as main character of this movie showing glib characters, charming that makes other person fascinate by his attitude. So Anna will not think that Frank a psychopath. His fascinating and fake manner makes Anna unnerved by the mask Frank used. Frank's statement do not same with his behavior and feelings.

According to Hare (1934: 1) these often charming-but always deadly-individuals have a clinical name: psychopaths. They can be very effective in presenting themselves well and are often very likable and charming. Frank is very smart showing the perfect act, he is good at playing words, so Anna easily amazed and assume that Frank is romantic man.

b. Lack of Remorse guilt

Psychopaths show a stunning lack of concern for the effects their actions have on others, no matter how devastating these might be. They have no sense of guilt, are not sorry for the ensuing pain and there is no reason to be concerned. Psychopaths are doing the wrong thing, they may admit that they did it, but they will deny that is wrong. Psychopaths will not admit that their actions are wrong. It means that they can do practically anything, and then they acts as if nothing has happened. As Hare stated (1934: 21) Psychopaths show a stunning lack of concern for the devastating effects their actions have on others. Often they are completely forthright about the matter, calmly stating that they have no sense of guilt, are not sorry for the pain and destruction they have caused, and that there is no reason for them to be concerned.

After Frank kill Lucie, who his victim. There was no guilt that he appeared. He just acted as if nothing wrong had he done. If normal people in general, when making mistakes and then endanger the others, naturally people will feel sad and sorry, but frank opposite. Even after Frank kills Lucie, he cuts her head and hair, and then he brings in his room a puts it on the head of his mannequin by using a shoot clips. In the above dialogue shows that Frank does not show any guilt after killing is victim, he just talked and acted as if nothing wrong has he done.

c. Impulsive

The behavior of impulsive psychopaths can be seen from not thinking first with their action that they do. According to Hare (1934: 28) Psychopaths are unlikely to spend much time weighing the pros and cons of a course of action or considering the possible consequences. "I did it because I felt like it," is a common response.

Frank in complicated situation, he does not even think when doing something, it's right or not. When he was pressed, because Anna had known oh his crime, Martin came to save Anna; thoughtlessly Frank killed Martin by throwing a knife into his mouth. It was done for Martin did not save Anna and he afraid when Martin knew his action and Martin would report him to the police. In order to secure Frank's position, he kills Martin. Psychopaths are unlikely to spend much time weighing the pros and cons of a course of action or considering the possible consequences of impulsive psychopaths can be seen from not thinking first with their action that they do.

In addition according to Singgih Dirgagunarsa state a psychopath is a barrier of the soul that sufferers experience difficulty in adjusting to the social norms that exist in the environment. Psychopath exhibits a large egocentric attitude. As if the of all his benchmark only for himself. As did Frank to Martin. All the actions that Frank did, it's only to save him without caring the others, right or not he keeps it up, as long as it makes his position safe.

d. Poor behavior control

Poor behavior control is kind of psychopath typically have less emotional. The personality of psychopath looks frigid because they cannot control their emotion. Psychopaths are highly reactive to perceived insult or slight. Most of the normal people have powerful inhibitory controls over their behavior.

According to Hare (1934: 59) besides being impulsive-doing things on the spur of the moment-psychopaths are highly reactive to perceived insults or slights. Most of us have powerful inhibitory controls over our behavior; even if we would like to respond aggressively we are usually able to "keep the lid on" In psychopaths, these inhibitory controls are weak, and the slightest provocation is sufficient to overcome them.

When Anna of the Frank's crime that has killed many women. Anna then stepped away from him. And chase away from her home. She was fear by Frank's existence with her. But Frank did not accept, he tried to persuade and wan to explain everything to Anna. But Anna still did not want to hear it, Frank keeps on try it but it's useless. Because his uncontrollable attitude just a few seconds, the previous Frank gently turns into be cruel. He threw Anna on the table, until she fell in the floor.

e. Lack of empathy

The characteristic of psychopath is lack of empathy. Lack of empathy is lack of feelings toward people in general. A psychopath assumes that cutting off the head of a chicken and human head is the same, no difference. There are even normal people who cut the chicken head, they cannot, but psychopaths are able to do it for humans. According to Hare (1934: 23) Many of the characteristics displayed by psychopaths—especially their egocentricity, lack of remorse, shallow emotions, and deceitfulness—are closely associated with a profound lack of empathy (an inability to construct a mental and emotional “facsimile” of another person).

Basically, the normal people in general will feel horrified and will not be able to cut one of the parts of human body, even to see the blood spilled in humans, only some normal people beings are able to see it. Frank when will kill Rose he cuts her leg first, until Rose cannot to walk and lying down in a track. He cuts the Rose’ legs, not only that. And then, he stabs back for many times and brutally he cuts and takes her head. The normal people even in the movie will not able to see it. But, Frank is able to do it.

Based on the previous findings by Siri Amalia (2011) analyzed the character Michael of movie Halloween by Rob Zombie about the characteristics of psychopath by the main character by psychological theory she found there are nine characteristics psychopath by Michael as the main character of the movie: Antisocial, apathetic, mysterious, peculiar, cruel and criminal, poor of judgment and callous, high intelligent, manipulative and irresponsible, and thief.

Siti Sarah (2009) the researcher used abnormal psychology , and she found psychopath's characteristic of John Kramer such as, difficulty in trusting the rest of the world, show no remorse and empathy, killing and torturing people that do not appreciate their lives, and do manipulate actions. The last previous findings by Nurul Hikma Maulanie (2011) used theory by Sigmund Freud she found the characteristics of the main character of Esther's movie such as: immoral, inhuman, liar, lack of empathy, manipulative, aggressive, impulsive, and hard to control her and etc.

From three previous on the characteristic that appeared in each character of the movie are different from those found by researcher in the maniac movie. It means that the same theory does not mean that characteristics of the psychopath in the character of movie will be the same. The researcher found the characteristics of psychopath in the Maniac movie by Sigmund Freud's theory are five: Glib and Superficial, lack of remorse or guilt, impulsive, poor behavior control, lack of empathy.

2. Factor Frank becomes a psychopath

Personality system in the human there are three. The systems that govern how the people act, right or not it depends on the three personality systems work. The Id is the impulsive part of psyche which respond directly and immediately to the instincts. Ego is decision-making component of personality, the ego works by reason, whereas the id is chaotic and unreasonable. Superego is to control the id's impulses, especially those which society forbids. If the three of human personality systems do not work in accordance with their rights and obligations it will cause abnormalities when the people acted.

Frank did the amoral things to serve his pleasure like the function id. The ego of Frank's mind cannot make the balance of the id's demands. The superego see the closely over the ego supervise of the ego's decision about action and intentions. The ego is connected with ego and superego because the ego must make the balance between id and superego. Ego as executor does or rejects the command of id. While Superego as upholder of norm and social value.

Ego function to consider something that is true or not. When Frank did the criminals acts and then he did not feel guilty, ego's Frank did not function in appropriate. So the superego's Frank who has no power to fight the id influences ego. Function of the ego is to consider between true or false, but Frank does not think that his acts true or false when kills his victims, he manipulate the people. When he kills his victims, he never feel guilty, even he look alright.

The factor that makes the id more dominant is because neurosis. There are sic types and factors that cause it, but only just one factor that makes Frank becomes a psychopath. Neurosis is the conflict between the id and ego in people mind. Frank dominated by the id because ego no longer can inhibit his basic drives and instincts. There one factors make Frank become a psychopath was because Frank had mental and emotional traumas with past experience or his childhood experience.

The factor of obsessive is because traumatic by the childhood experienced Frank had traumatic with his past childhood experience on his mom. Frank is a mentally disturbed, he broken with his mom who moonlighted as a prostitute. Frank has frequent childhood flashbacks of seeing his mother bring clients in his home and take out with her to turn tricks. Frank feels that his mom does not love him. Because she prefers to serve a men, than accompany him. This has left Frank unable to enter into meaningful relationship with women, and his sexual impulses tend to manifest themselves as violent urges that Frank externalizes as his mother's will. Struggling to come to grips with his mother's mistreatment and abuse of him, and spurred by memories of his mother brusher her long hair before going out at night, Frank stalks, murders, and scalps a young street walker one night, attaching he hair to a mannequin that he then keeps in his bedroom.

There are three previous findings, but only one that research the factors of main character in the movie becomes a psychopath is thesis by Siri Amalia (2011) used abnormal psychology theory she found the factor of main character of the Halloween movie is the traumatic experiences in his life since he was children that he gets his family and friends. While the researcher used the Sigmund Freud's theory that factor cause Frank becomes a psychopath of the movie mania is id dominant and it cause the traumatic childhood experience.

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

This chapter reports the conclusion related to the two researcher question of this study. In an attempt to answer the research question:

A. Conclusion

1. After analyzed the movie with characteristics and factors as a focus in this research, the researcher found five characteristics psychopath of Frank. The characteristics psychopath of Frank are Glib and superficial, lack of remorse or guilt, poor behavior, impulsive, lack of empathy.
2. Factor that causes Frank asa psychopath is due to his big id because the trauma of childhood. So that he breaks the function of superego norms and ego affects due to the magnitude of the influences of Frank's id.

B. Suggestion

Based on the conclusions above, the researcher proposed suggestions as follow:

1. The researcher suggest for the next researcher who will make the similar research about psychopathic in the literary works to use the other objects.

2. The researcher hope that through this thesis, the reader is able to know more about characteristics of psychopath of the character as shown in literary works such as prose, drama or novel.
