This research aimed to figure out the Symbols and Process of Mappadendang Ritual in Sidenreng Rappang Regency. The researcher based on Revsina's theory about the kinds of symbols. This research applied descriptive qualitative method in revealing the data. This researcher used observation and interview sheet as the instruments to get the valid data. This research revealed that there were six symbols of Mappadendang ritual in Sidenreng Rappang Regency. The researcher perceived that there were two symbols in object were Alu and Palungeng, the symbols in Characters were two namely Beppa Ogi and Pesse' Pelleng, the symbols in Action were two namely Gerakan Mattumbu and Gerakan Mappenca' silat. The researcher also found that the process of Mappadendang ritual conducted two days, the first activity was preparing the location that is going to use for ritual, hang mortar, slaughter animals, and make traditional cakes then the next day was preparing the meals, mabbarasanji, maccera' palungeng, tudang sipulung, and doing performance of Mappadendang ritual.

CHAPTER I

INTRODUCTION

A. Background

Indonesia is an archipelago that stretches from Sabang to Merauke. This is why Indonesia has diverse, tribes, languages and different cultures as diverse as the number of ethnic groups. The diversities of these cultures are caused by the diversity of cultural background of history.

Essentially, culture consists of traditional ideas, especially its values. While system of culture can be viewed as element to give condition for the text action (Rahim, 1992: 28-29).

The culture and human cannot be separated. A human being is supporter of culture and the culture is a result though, feeling, and activities in human life. Each ethnic in Indonesia has unique culture. Some of indigenous ethnic groups such as Dayak, Toraja, Buginese, Javanese are still practicing their ethnic rituals, customs and wearing traditional clothes.

In some communities such as Buginese in Sidrap, they have typical ritual to say thank you for god after harvest time. Mappadendang is one of the hereditary local rituals of Buginese which is going on from a long time ago. They usually do “Mappadendang” ritual to express thanks in god for what God has given to them. Based on verse of Qur'an from sura Al-Baqarah (172)

كُنْتُمْ إِنِّ ۖ وَاشْكُرُوا رَزَقَنَاكُمْ مَا طَيِّبَاتٍ مِنْ كُلِّوَا آمَنُوا الَّذِينَ أَيُّهَا يَا
تَعْبُدُونَ إِيَّاهُ

Translation of the Qur'an:

“Oh you who believe! Eat of the good things wherewith We have provided you, and render thanks to Allah if it is (indeed) He Whom you worship”.

The fomation of local wisdom is as a result of the adaptation or other forms of public relations developed with the environment. Thus, local knowledge can be used as a guide for the community and the foundation of processing and environmental management.

Ritual as a part of culture is difficult to maintain its existance because modernization and cultural assimilation. As a result, people had to pay attention to save their culture. The same as Mappadendang. Actually this ritual is not only performed by Sidrap society, but also all Buginese area in South-Sulawesi, which live on farming area who perform ritual mappadendang. Mappadendang is an original Buginese culture, which has existed since Buginese ancestral period. The researcher choose Sidenreng Rappang Regency as research setting, because in other place people do not perform mappadendang routinely every harvest. Meanwhile in most villages in Sidenreng Rappang are still doing this ritual routine every harvest.

Mappadendang has roles and function for each player. It means that, there are explanations for each component to the society that they can conceive it is culture side.

In Mappadendang, we can see and find instruments and speech that have a symbol. The symbol is including the sign. If we talk about sign, we will connect it with semiotic. Each part of instruments in mappadendang ritual can be analyzed semiotically. Semiotic comes from Greek “Semion” which means “mark” or “sign”, it involves the study of any medium or genre as semiotic “sign system” (Nugiantoro, 1995:40). So, semiotics tells you not only about the sign, but also about the system, the media, and the relationship with the represented. Semiotic also studied the creation of signs backgrounds and all interpretation.

All the explanation, the researcher’s reason for choosing the topic of the thesis “Symbols of Mappadendang Ritual in Sidenreng Rappang Regency” is to remind the society that Mappadendang not only a spectacle but as tools to bequeath the values of culture in Mappadendang, there are togetherness, intellectuals, thankfulness, morality, ethnics so it must be bequeathed continually.

B. Research questions

Based on the explanation above, the researcher identified the problem of this research such as the following:

1. What are the symbols in Mappadendang ritual?
2. How are the processes of Mappadendang ritual?

C. Objective of the research

From the previous explanation, the analysis as purpose to:

1. To describe how the processes of Mappadendang ritual are.
2. To get description what the symbols in Mappadendang ritual in Buginese are.

D. Significant of the research

1. This study shows us one of some popular traditions of the Buginese the past until now.
2. The research can be beneficial as a good reference for those who are interested in discussing culture, it can be a first step to know and understand the analysis and reporting of culture research, and also give useful information to Buginese people who are born and living outside Buginese ethnic.

E. Scope of the problem

In this research, the researcher limited to focus on the symbols and process in Mappadendang ritual in Sidenreng Rappang.

CHAPTER II

LITERATURE REVIEW

A. Previous Study

There are some researchers that have research and almost the same as this research. Some of them are presented as follows:

Mutmainna (2013) in her thesis and titled “The power of ritual speech in Maddoja Bine Ritual in Pinrang Regency”. This study aims to analyze the meaning from the text or incantation of Maddoja Bine Ritual and the using of symbol which is in the materials or things in Maddoja Bine Rital in Pinrang Regency and the method used in this research is qualitative method. The result of the research shows that the meaning of the text or incantation of Maddoja Bine Ritual contains religious, philosophy and togetherness values. The symbols in ritual uses materials or things which have meaning it self which conventionality pursuant to understanding of custom society of Bugis to history values left by their ancestors.

Bahri (2009) with his thesis Semiotic analysis on witch (The Chronicles of Narnia by C.S Lewis). Studies about the semiotic analysis on witch in the chronicles of Narnia by C.S. Lewis. The aim of thesis is to find out the characteristic of the witch and why the characteristic did become a witch in yhe film the Lion, the Witch and Wardobe. The researcher used an intrinsic approach in analyzing this film. Based on the findings and discussion in this thesis, the researcher finds eight characteristics of the witch; woman, powerful, evil, authority, fierce, savage, cruel, and inadvertently. The researcher also concludes that there is several character of witch that still possessed human in daily life.

Based on the previous findings above, the researcher finds the differences and similarities. The differences are they have a different object to be analyzed. Where, Mutmainnah focused on analyzing the text or mantra of Maddoja Bine ritual. Bahri focuses on analyzing a movie entitled Witch (The Chronicles of Narnia by C.S Lewis) while the researcher itself focused on analyzing the Mappadendang ritual. Moreover, the location between the previous researchers and the researcher is also different. The similarities are they are same studying about the semiotics especially symbols. In addition, the previous researchers and the researcher use semiotics approach.

B. Theoretical Background

a. The description of Culture

Culture in Indonesian language is Budaya derived from Sansekerta word is Buddhayah, it is plural form of buddhi (mind) which means as matters that related to human mind. In English is culture which derived from Latin word is Collere is process or carries out. Culture can be translation as kultur in Indonesian language.

Culture is a way of life of a group of people behavior, beliefs, and values. Culture is communication; communication is culture (Hafsted, 1997:

3-4). In this point, language has main position because language is a tool of communication and a part of culture while culture itself contains language used to imply the idea or message. The language is used by the owner of culture to express verbally his/her idea or message of his/her culture to among of them. This language has an important role to imply and to transfer the idea of message of culture to the owner of the culture themselves or to the next generation continually.

Culture is a fuzzy set of basic assumptions and values, orientations to life, beliefs, policies, procedures and behavioural conventions that are shared by a group of people, and that influence (but do not determine) each member's behaviour and his/her interpretations of the 'meaning' of other people's behavior (Oatey, 2012).

Culture is that complex whole which includes knowledge, belief, art, morals, law, custom, and any other capabilities and habits acquired by man as a member of society (Avruch, 1998: 6)

Culture word is a stage word which is derived from the Latin language that is "colere" means the process of cultivating doing and become all human powers and efforts or action to cultivate and change the nature (Koentjoroningrat, 1990: 181).

There are many definitions about culture itself. For example, Dawson (1980: 42) explain that the culture is the institutional complete, tradition custom truth, honesty, along the economic organization with in social legacy from a nation. Soekanto (1990: 336) says that culture is soul expression created in life and thinking way, make friend, literature art, religion, recreation, and entertainment, a photo, novel, drem, film, game, philosophy, and so on. The created culture, caused in that case directly to be able to fulfill the necessary of human being.

Referred to anthropology, culture is all of the idea system, actions, and the result of human work for society life which is considered as all human belong by barning, and while historical science, culture is all of human creations that is actually the result of their effort only, to change and to give form or a new arranging of God giving which fit with mentality and physical needs (Koentjoroningrat, 1990: 9).

Culture is learned from relative sand other members of community as well as from various material forms such as books and television programs. People are not born with culture but with the ability to acquire it by such means as observation imitation, and trial, and error (Wendell, 1986: 25)

Culture as part of Indonesia life should be preserved and all people should respond to its form. The government in Indonesia pay attention to the culture development is by holding culture's festival every year. That is way the local cultures as the assets of national development have to be preserved as long as they are suitable with the way of life of Indonesia.

Based on explanations above, the researcher opined that culture carries many different meanings. Culture is human initiative creation. It is the characteristic of a particular group of people, defined by everything from language, religion, knowledge, law, morals, custom, social habits, arts, and economic system. Culture rules virtually every aspect of our life and it is vital because it enables its members to function with one another without the need to negotiate meaning at every moment. Then, it is learned and forgotten, so despite of its importance we are generally unconscious of its influence on the manner in which we perceive the world and interact within it.

b. The description of Ethnolinguistic

Ethnolinguistic is a field of linguistic anthropology which studies the relationship between language and culture and the way of different ethnic groups perceive the world. With cultural relationship between language and culture, the studies of ethnolinguistic become important. The function or purpose of this study is to understand the patterns and cultural values of a society with greater depth.

Ethnolinguistic study the way perception and conceptualization influence language and show how this is linked to different cultures and societies. An example is the way spatial orientation is expressed in various cultures (Jayanti : 2009).

According to Underhill (2012) Ethnolinguistics is the study of how language relates to culture and ethnicity.

Ethnolinguistic study includes a review of structure and family relationship through kinship terms, color concepts, patterns of child care, or communication of a member of the society in certain situations, such as traditional ceremonies.

Ethnolinguistic (sometimes called cultural linguistics) is a field of linguistics which studies the relationship between language and culture, and the way different ethnic groups perceive the world. It is the combination between ethnology and linguistics. The former refers to the way of life of an entire community, i.e., all the characteristics which distinguish one community from the other. Those characteristics make the cultural aspects of a community or a society.

Ethnolinguistic study the way perception and conceptualization influences language, and show how this is linked to different cultures and societies. An example is the way spatial orientation is expressed in various cultures. In many societies, words for the cardinal directions east and west are derived from terms for sunrise/sunset. The nomenclature for cardinal directions of Inuit speakers of Greenland, however, is based on geographical landmarks such as the river system and one's position on the coast. Similarly, the Yurok lack the idea of cardinal directions; they orient themselves with respect to their principal geographic feature, the Klamath River.

c. The description of Semiotic

In this thesis, the researcher will explain the symbols of sing in Mappadendang. Studying linguistic sign brings us to the semiotics field of study.

According to Pierce (1977), semiotic is the science that studies the life of signs and signifying practices within society. Expanding this notion of sign Fiske and Hartely proposed that there are two central concerns of semiotic (Kim, 1996). First, semiotics attempts to reveal the relationship between the sign and its meaning. The process of assigning meaning and deriving meaning from a sign are called signification. Second, semiotics is concerned with the way by which signs are combined by following certain rules, or codes called codification.

Barthes in Alen (2003:18) Semiotics is a crucial figure in modern literary and cultural theory. His work has been influential in a wide variety of theoretical trends and practices, including structuralism, semiology, post-structuralism, cultural studies and psychoanalytical literary criticism. Barthes is one of a handful of writers who can be said to have established the foundations for modern literary and cultural theory.

Sandera (2014) Semiotic derives from the Greek semesion, meaning sign, semainon which means signifier and semainomenon meaning signified or indication. Generally, semiotic is the study of signs or an epistemology about the existence or the actuality of sign in societal life.

Tinarbuko (2008) semiotics is derived from Greece: semion, which means sign. According to Pilliang, as quoted by Tinarbuko, exploration of semiotics as a method to study the various branches of science is possible because there is a tendency to look at a variety of social discourse as phenomenon of language. In other words, language used as the model of social discourse.

Semiotics is often confused with communication science. Although the two fields share much of the same theoretical and methodological territory, the latter focuses more on the technical study of how messages are transmitted (vocally, electronically, etc.) and on the mathematical and psychological laws governing the transmission, reception, and processing of information. Semiotics pays more attention to what messages mean, and on how they have been put together with signs (Danesi, 2004).

Semiotic is considered as the theory of the production and interpretation of meaning. Meaning is made by the deployment of acts and objects which function as “signs” in relation to other signs. In general meaning is not believed to reside within any particular object, text or process. Rather, meaning arises during the communication process itself (Chandler, 1994: 2).

Semiotic is the study of the process by which signs and symbols come to have meaning signs are seen as the basic building blocks of meaning. Semiotics is concerned with how signs are produced, maintained and charged.

This is why semiotics is sometimes called the study of the process of signification (Whannel, 2003:54).

Semiotics is the science of communication and sign systems, in short, of the ways people understand phenomenon organize them mentally and of the ways in which they devise means for transmitting taht understanding and for sharing it with other. Although natural and artificial language are therefore central to semiotics, its field covers all non-verbal signaling and extends to domains whose communicative dimension is perceived only unconsciously or subliminally. Knowledge, meaning intention and action are this fundamental concepts in the semiotics investigation of phenomena (Danesi, 2001:105).

Semiotics is the science of communication and sign system, in short, of the ways people understand phenomena and organise them mentally.

d. The description of Symbol

The symbolic meaning as the signs that are useful in the delivery of aims and objectivies in various fields of human life. Through the symbols contained in the Mappadendang ritual we will get better understanding about how the human relationship with his God, human and nature, and humans with each other.

Symbol is the most abused term of those under consideration here. In consequence, it has either tended to be grotesquely overburdened, or, on the contrary, reduced to more general kinds of behavioral phenomena, or even to absurd nullity. A few brief illustrative instances of both tendencies will suffice here; they are merely intended to underline the need for further conceptual clarification (Sebeok, 2001).

Symbol is not an expression of everyday language. A word such as sign occurs in many ready-made syntagms, and, when one is unable to give a univocal definition of the isolated term, one is still able to give a certain interpretation of these syntagms. It is, on the contrary, the pseudo everyday language of the press or of literary criticism that says that certain merchandises are the symbol of the productivity of a given country, that Marilyn Monroe was a sex symbol, that the terrorists attempted to assassinate the American ambassador in Rome for symbolic reasons, that a certain word, description, or episode has to be read symbolically. A common speaker would have some difficulty in explaining the 'right' sense of these and of other similar expressions (Sebeok, 1986).

The word “symbol” comes from the Greek “symbolon” which means contact, taken, insignia, and means identification. Symbol is meant as anything that communicates a fact or an idea that stand for an object. Symbol is anything that means of something else usually something abstracts such as an idea or belief, Goan (1997:20).

According to Bachry (1993:95) symbol or sign is something like, drawing, speech, emblem, etc. which explain or contain sense for instance while for holiness, and rice a symbol of wealth. Literary symbols are distinguished from arbitrary symbols, like letter of the alphabet, number and algebraic sign. Beyond symbol contain expended view therefore; if we are discussing the significance of the literary work, we talk about them as symbol.

In Santoso (2004:136) according to Pierce in Semiotic and the philosophy of language, symbol correlated to it's object by an arbitrary and conventional decision, and many symbol the Pierce sense such us flag, emblems, astrological, and chemical symbols, and also refers to the object that it denotes by virtue of a law usually an association of general ideas.

In a view of Coblay (2001:21) symbol is a sign which have relation to certain object because of agreement, example word, flag.

According to Oliver in Aziz (2004:6), he instanced badges and insignia as signs ; the wheel and the cross as symbol. That is a word or image is symbolic when it implies something more than it is obvious and immediately meaning, it was a wider 'unconscious' aspect that is never precisely defined or fully explained. All of these types are object level called second object.

Peirce says that symbol is the general name or description which signifies its object by means of an association of ideas or habitual connection between the name and the character signified (Counsell and Wolf, 2001). Whereas Ogden and Richards (1923) says that symbols are the signs that are agreed that they shall mean what they mean and there is no natural relationship between them and their meanings, between the signifier and the signified. The terms of symbol defined as “those signs which men use to communicate with one another”.

Universally, symbols stand for something other than the symbol itself by virtue of purely arbitrary and conventional agreement. Symbols come in a variety of forms, from words to circles with lines through them for Pierce, all words, sentences, books, and other conventional signs are symbol. We speak or writing or pronouncing the word ‘man’ but it is only a replica, or embodiment of the word that is pronounced or written. The word itself has no existence although it has real being, consisting in the fact that all existents will conform to it. It is a general mode of succession of three sounds or representaments of sounds, which becomes a sign only in the fact that a habit, or acquired law, will cause replicas of it to be interpreted as meaning a man or men (Counsell and Wolf, 2001). Number and alphabetical letters are also symbols.

In this thesis, the researcher will use Revsina’s theory. According to Revsina (1995:68) kinds of symbol are:

- a. Objects, usually the symbols we find in the literature are inanimate object.
Such as glass, rose, chair, and etc.

- b. Characters, symbolic characters in some fiction or plays are not well rounded and fully known, but are seen fleetingly and remain slightly mysterious.
- c. Sense, sometimes a symbol addresses a sense rather than sight.
- d. Setting, in fiction, feature of physical photograph can provide rich suggestion.
- e. Action, a symbolic act is a gesture with large significant than usual.

Based on explanations above the researcher also give definition about symbol is something used for or regarded as representing something else, material object representing something.

e. The description of Ritual

Mappadendang is a kind of ritual. Before the writer describes mappadendang ritual too far, it is better to know what ritual is.

A ritual is a set of actions, performed mainly for their symbolic value. It may be rescribed by a religion or by the traditions of a community. The term usually excludes actions which are arbitrarily chosen by the performers. A ritual may be performed on specific occasions, or at the discretion of individuals or communities. It may be performed by a single individual, by a group, or by the entire community: in arbitrary places, or in places especially reserved for it; either in public, in private, or before specific people. A ritual may be restricted to a certain subset of the community, and may enable or underscore the passage between religious or social states.

The notion of ritual first emerged as a formal term of analysis in the nineteenth century to identify what was believed to be a universal category of human experience (Bell, 1992). Many ritual theories looked to ritual in order to describe “religion”. Later, social functionalist, in contrast, explored ritual actions and values in order to analyze “society” and the nature of social phenomena. More recently symbolic anthropologist has found ritual to be fundamental to the dynamics of “culture”.

f. The Description of Mappadendang

The ritual of Mappadendang is one of the activities after harvest end. Mappadendang is typical ritual performed as symbol of people’s gratitude to God which gives harvests abundants. The word of Mappadendang has other name that is Mappadeko in Indonesian. It means a group of people make sounds by things named Alu and Lesung after harvest even when moon eclipse.

Ritual Mappadendang is usually performed by buginese people after harvest and moon eclipse, but to day Mappadendang when moon eclipse is difficult to find. So that, this research only focuses on Mappadendang after harvest. Now adays, there are not many places of buginese do this ritual anymore.

Writer thinks that people’s habit to still doing this ritual every harvest time end is very honorable act because not only they express their thanks to God event in difficult way, also they without intentionally keep buginese culture that almost loose. Because of this kind of people our next generation will know about Mappadendang. If there are no one try to find out about this ritual maybe in next five or ten years all of us will forget even will never know that this ritual ever exist. That's way does the writer really wants to discuss about Mappadendang ritual in her research.

CHAPTER III

RESEARCH METHODOLOGY

This chapter presents and discusses the research methodology which includes research method, data source, data collection procedure, and technique of data analysis.

A. Research Method

This study used a descriptive qualitative research that describes Symbols of Mappadendang ritual in Sidenreng Rappang regency, it is called descriptive because it's describes the data and uses the symbols to be analyzed.

Denzin and Lincoln (2005: 5) state that qualitative research is a situated activity that locates the observer in the world. It consists of a set of interpretive, material practices that makes the world visible. These practices turn the world into a series of representations including field notes, interviews, conversations, photographs, recording and memos to the self.

Creswell (2007): 36) says that qualitative research is descriptive when the researcher is interested in process, meaning, and understanding gained through words or pictures.

B. Data Source

The researcher got data from informant. Primary data got through interview of some informants of the village. Ambo' Hanna (60) organizer this ritual, Amma' Muna (54) is Ambo Hanna's wife, and the researcher also interviewed some people who follow this ritual.

C. Research instrument

The instruments of this research are observation and interview. Observation is the way of collecting data by observing the phenomena being researched. According to Arikunto (2006: 229), "Observation is an effective way to complete the research with observation form as an instrument. A form contains about a phenomenon will be described". According to Thill and Bovee, "An interview is any planned conversation with a specific purpose involving two or more people". To make clear this study, the researcher needs to documentation when interview and observation in the field. That's why the researcher will use camera and tape record to get the data.

D. Data Collection Procedure

The researcher collected the data by reading and analyzing from a few acknowledge sources of Data. The researcher collected data by doing the follow procedures:

1. The researcher observed the activities of the people on the events Mappadendang.
2. The researcher watched and record every step and things which are needed in this event process.
3. The researcher interviewed the ritual leader, the village chief, also people who follow this ritual.

E. Technique of Data Analysis

The symbols of Mapadendang ritual analyzed from each things and each means were determined what are the meaning include in symbols Mappadendang by Revsina's theory.

CHAPTER IV

FINDINGS AND DISCUSSION

In this part, the researcher shows the main point of this thesis, it is the findings of Symbols in Mappadendang ritual. Here, the researcher analyzed the meaning of Symbols in Mappadendang. There are six symbols in Mappadendang ritual, they are Alu (Pestle), Palungeng (Mortar), Gerakan mattumbu', Gerakan mappenca' silat, Beppa Ogi, Pesse' pelleng.

A. Findings

After doing this research about the Symbols of Mappadendang ritual in Sidenreng Rappang Regency, the findings of this research deals with two main findings of the observation sheet and interview sheet that the researcher used during the process of collecting data:

1. Symbols of Mappadendang ritual

The researcher showed the table about the symbols of Mappadendang ritual. There are 6 symbols of Mappadendang, the symbols are Alu, Palungeng, Gerakan Mattumbu', Mappenca' sila, Beppa Ogi (Traditional cakes), and Pesse Pelleng. The researcher analyzed 5 kinds of Symbols made by them there are: Objects, Characters, Sense, Setting, and action.

Kinds of Symbol	Symbol	Meaning
Object	Alu (D1)	The Goddess caller (Pangobbi malaika ')
	Palungeng (D2)	Can increase amount of rice and more abundant rice crops
Character	Beppa Ogi (Traditional cakes) (D3)	Meaning for their life
	Pesse' Pelleng (D4)	Brightness in our life
Sense	-	-
Setting	-	-
Action	Gerakan Mattumbu' (D5)	Expression of gratitude to God
	Gerakan Mappenca' silat (D6)	The meaning of life

2. The Process of Mappadendang ritual

In this point, the researcher showed by the table about the Process of Mappadendang ritual in Sidenreng Rappang Regency. The Process of Mappadendang ritual was conducted for two days, and Ambo Hanna’ took control all of it.

B. Discussion

In this section the researcher gets the data from findings about symbols and process of Mappadendang ritual based on Revsina's theory. There are two results of this research:

1. Symbols of Mappadendang ritual in Sidenreng Rappang Regency

In this point, the researcher analyzed 5 kinds of Symbols made by them, they are: objects, characters, sense, setting, and action. The researcher found 6 symbols in which there are 2 symbols in object, 2 symbols in character, 2 symbols in action.

a. Object

Based on data, the researcher found 2 Object. There are Alu and Palungeng. Revsina (1995:68) Object, usually the symbols we find in the literature are inanimate object. Such as Alu and Palungeng.

Based on datum D1 and D2, the researcher concludes Alu and, Palungeng as object because Alu and Palungeng are inanimate. Alu is a tool which is believed can produce rhythm and sound that can call the Dewi or Angels. While Palungeng means as a container or place to pound the rice plant, the long size and large of the Palungeng their believed can increase amount of rice and more abundant rice crops such as containers pounded when they were doing Mappadendang.

b. Characters

Based on data, the researcher found 2 Characters. There are Beppa Ogi (Traditional cakes) and Pesse Pelleng. Revsina (1995: 68) Characters, symbolic in some fiction or plays are not well rounded and fully known, but are seen fleetingly and remain slightly mysterious.

Based on datum D5 and D6, the researcher concludes that Beppa Ogi (Traditional cakes) and Pesse pelleng as Characters because Beppa Ogi and Pesse pelleng are not well rounded and fully known. And those symbols also are slightly mysterious in mappaddendang ritual.

Based on datum D5, Beppa Ogi (Traditional cakes) is made of rice. They believe that cakes have meaning for their life, and they believe also that cakes are slightly mysterious in Mappadendang ritual, people are not allowed to eat the cakes even to touch it if Sanro (Healer/Shaman) has not finished reading the prayers.

Beppa Ogi (Traditional cakes) in Mappadendang ritual:

1. Sokko patanrupa

- Black is considered as representation of human hair, hair is the symbol of longevity. So, people must always show their gratitude to God by conducting ritual and praying.
- White is our Bones. The white color in Sokko symbolizes gratitude for the God-given strength.
- Red as our blood, symbolizes the spirit of life.
- Yellow represents the sum-sum that is between the joints. It symbolizes gratitude for the God-given physical health.

2. Konde-konde is a symbol of welfare and prosperity. Also, the cooking process of Konde-konde has meaning too. Konde-konde which is still not ripe yet will stay in pane, while the ripes are float up to the water surface. It means that they hope the good things will always appear in their life.

3. Beppa Lapsi (Kue lapis) is a symbol of the subsistence that will never stop.

4. Bannang-bannang is a symbol of ruffled thread and hooked each other. The meaning is in life people have to help each other. The meaning is in life people have to help each other.

Based on datum D5, Pesse' Pelleng symbolizes brightness in their life, they hope that there is always a way when they have difficulties in their life. it also symbolizes the life of bees which always unite and do not bother to each other. And the people also believe that this tool is slightly mysterious.

c. Action

Based on data, the researcher found 2 data of Action, they are Gerakan Mattumbu' and Gerakan Mappenca' silat. Revsina (1995: 68) Action, a symbolic act a gesture with large significant than usual.

Based on data D3 and D4, the researcher concludes Gerakan Mattumbu' and Gerakan Mappenca' silat as Action because Gerakan mattumbu' and Mappenca' silat are symbolic act gesture.

Based on datum D3, Gerakan Mattumbu' is Pounding movements are interpreted as a picture of the day farmers used to pound rice into rice. This movement is also interpreted as an expression of gratitude to God for the success of their harvest.

Based on datum D4, Gerakan Mappenca' silat teaches us how the way of life with all of humans. Besides, Gerakan Mappenca' silat also teaches us science spirituality to make ourselves and soul comfortable.

Besides, the researcher found there is no kind of symbol especially in sense and setting.

2. The Processes of Mappadendang Ritual in Sidenreng Rappang Regency

Each region has their own way in doing the ritual. According to research which was conducted by the researcher, she saw that there are two villages that have the same manner in serving the ritual of Mappadendang. Those are Palappara'e and Bola bulu. In spite of they have the same manner, but they have different version of story about the origin of rice as it has been explained previously. In this point, the researcher concerns about the ritual process of Mappadendang in Palappara'e.

The researcher found that ritual of Mappadendang is a ritual to express thanks to God for what God has given to them. Such as health and they still get good harvest. And they do this ritual every year. In Palappara'e, both cultivation and harvest are conducted twice a year. The first harvest is held on March or April and the second time is held on September or October. According to the informant, the first crops usually are not as much as the second one because people believe that season at the second harvest is a good time for rice to grow. This season is also called as Ase Bare'. Eventhough, both cultivation and harvest are conducted twice a year, the ritual of Mappadendang is only held once a year after the harvest of Ase Bare', so that people enable to share their harvest and to keep the rest to their family. Even as they get less than before, they still share what they have. It constitutes their expression of gratitude to Almighty God for his Mercy.

In Palappara'e, the ritual of Mappadendang is schedule by the elder person of the village, people call him Ambo' Hanna'. They believe that Ambo Hanna' knows the proper time to conduct a ritual, including the ritual of Mappadendang. The implementation of Mappadendang always falls on Monday or Thursday. They believe it as sacred day to hold a ritual, as good as Monday or Thursday Moslems doing fasting.

Usually they do this ritual in Ambo Hanna's house. In addition, sometimes there are some people who come to Ambo Hanna' giving some rice, chicken and even a goat. People do this way when they have much property to share with. After that, two or more young people are sent to visit each house to collect dues as they have discussed it previously.

The ritual process of Mappadendang is held for two days. During these two days, Ambo Hanna' will take control all of it. Here is the process of Mappadendang for two days consecutively:

Day 1.

In the first day they prepared the location that will be used for the ritual, hang mortar, slaughtered animals, and make traditional cakes.

Activity 1: Prepare the location that will be used for the ritual

Based on datum D7, People prepare the location that will be used for the ritual of Mappadendang. In Palappara'e village, they take Ambo Hanna's house area as the place to perform the ritual. It had been conducted for many years ago. Only men who are allowed to participate in this work, meanwhile women prepare for meals that will be eaten after they have finished their construction.

Activity 2: Hang mortar, preparing the pestle, setting poles

Based on datum D8, they hang mortar (maggattung palungeng), preparing the pestle (alu), setting poles on the four sides in the wind direction. These poles will be used to hang the food, and to set up camp later.

Activity 3: Slaughtered animal

Based on datum D9, most people on that day slaughtered animal donations which have blessed by Ambo Hanna'. Some animals should be slaughtered as sacrifices in the place where people conduct Mappadendang.

Activity 4: People begin to ring the pestle (Alu) and mortar (Palungeng)

Based on datum D10, In the afternoon until the evening, people begin to ring the pestle (Alu) and mortar (Palungeng) to inform all citizens of both the village and that is outside the village that they conduct Mappadendang. All participants enjoy the ritual by sounding the mortar using pestles. These activities are held on until eleven o'clock at night.

Activity 5: Make traditional cakes

Based on datum D11, they dance while enjoying the traditional cakes that are served in mappadendang. The cakes are made from rice. Kinds of cakes that they need to serve in Mappadendang ritual are konde-konde, beppa lapsi’, sokko, bannang-bannang, and so on.

Beppa lapsi’ means the subsistence that will never stop. Konde-konde, they hope the good things that will always appear in their life such as when people cook konde-konde. Sokko patanrupa there are four colors, black, white, red and yellow in Sokko’, Black color is our hair, long hair. They hope that God gives them longevity. White color is our Bones. Yellow color, represents spirits who always joint with us every time, and we cannot see. Red color is our blood.

Day 2.

The second day they prepared the meals, Mabbarasanji, Maccera palungeng, Tudang sipulung, and even by performance of Mappadendang ritual.

Activity 1: Gather in the place of ritual (Ambo’ Hanna’s house).

Based on datum D12, all people gather in the Ambo Hanna’s house, a place where the implementation of mappadendang ritual will be conducted.

Activity 2: Preparing the meals

Based on datum D13, all meals which have been served by the women will be brought to the site. Those are Sokko’ which consist of 4 colors (black, white, yellow, and red), the traditional cakes made by rice (onde-onde, lappa-lappa’, bannang-bannang, etc.) as well as chickens and goats that have been cooked.

Activity 3: Acara Barasanji

Based on datum D14, then all the men who present in the place do Barasanji led by Ambo Hanna’. People are not allowed to eat the food even to touch it if Ambo Hanna’ has not finished reading the prayer.

Activity 4: Maccera’ palungeng by Ambo’ Hanna

Based on datum D15, Ambo Hanna’ also butchers the animals that will be sacrificed goats and chicken on top of the mortar (palungeng), and pillars. This section referred to maccera’ palungeng. While doing maccera’ (ritual activity by slaughtering animals) Ambo Hanna’ reads the pray as follows:

“E puang Allah Ta’ala, palettukangnga akkattaku aga purae u wajjanciang mappura laloe iya kuduppa mokka’ Ase pada taung laloe, rewekka lao okkoe maccera’ nasaba madising maneng muaki iya purae makkareso”

The translation in English:

“O God, please convey my intentions which I promised in the last year, if I (representative of all farmers) get crops as much as last year, I will come back here to do Maccera’ for your blessing. Thanks to you for giving health and success for our who have worked hard”.

Activity 5: Ambo’ Hanna allow everyone to start eating

Based on datum D16, after all the ritual of maccera’ and mabbarasanji have finished. Ambo Hanna’ and his child will allow everyone to start eating. Most people are scrambling to pick up the food which is hung in the poles. They believe that besides the food contains a blessing because it has been prayed by Ambo Hanna’, also because the position is higher than another food so it is certainly having a better impact for them who can get it.

Activity 6: Togetherness-sitting (Tudang sipulung)

Based on datum D17, then the ritual is continued with togetherness-sitting (tudang sipulung) to discuss any matters related to the agriculture in the future. Here the government who is represented by the village chief, farmers and Ambo Hanna’ discuss the proper time to start down to the fields. They also discuss the kind of rice that will be planted and the fertilizer. Then how the irrigation system arranges and so forth.

Activity 7: Even by performance of Mappadendang ritual

Based on datum D18, Finally, after tudang sipulung they continue the event by showing performance to entertain people in the village. The numbers of people who perform Mappadendang consist of six to twelve people, men and women. People are starting to ring the pestle (Alu) and mortar (Palungeng) alternately.

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSIONS AND SUGGESTIONS

Based on the description that has been presented in the previous chapter about ritual Mappadendang, the researcher concludes the results of this research accompanied by suggestions that are expected to be useful the continuation of research in the future.

A. Conclusions

After researching and observing the Symbols of Mappadendang ritual, the researcher draws several conclusions as follows:

1. The symbols which contain in mappadendang ritual are Alu, palungeng, gerakan mattumbu', gerakan mappenca sila', (Beppa Ogi) traditional cakes, pesse' pelling.
2. Mappadendang is a ritual which is held every harvest end as people gratitude to Almighty God for giving them good harvest. Beside that mappadendang considered as the entertainment for rice. Mappadendang is performed by tapping the pestle (Alu) into the mortar (palungeng) in order to produce a rhythmic sound.

All of things about mappadendang ritual are controlled by Ambo Hanna'.

It is held for two days. First day is preparation the location of mappadendang ritual, and the second day is the main item that is the ritual itself and mappadendang performance.

B. Suggestion

After putting forward some conclusions of this thesis, the researcher also has made several suggestions for the readers of this thesis, they are:

1. The researcher suggests the readers of this thesis to preserve the culture tradition from Buginese.
2. The researcher suggests the readers of this thesis who will do the same research to learn more deeply about Mappadendang and make a better one.
